

Happenin's About Pinegrove

Mrs. Audrey Dills

Staff Correspondent

Residents are working nights putting windows in the community building. The wiring has been finished and lights are in.

A collection coming to $10 was taken at the last community meeting for the cancer drive.

Family improvements reported for points include: Mr. and Mrs. Adrian Peck have remodeled and painted the interior of their house and have purchased a new couch; Mr. and Mrs. Rufus Holland have installed a new range and water heater and an oil heater.

A group of women from Pine-grove attended the W. M. U. meeting of the Macon Baptist Association at Ridgecrest yesterday (Wednesday).

Instead of holding a special offering, the church has voted to send a donation from the church treasury for home missionary work.

Ernest Dills, Jr., made a business trip to Asheville Wednesday of last week. He has arranged a partnership in the Macon Tractor and Equipment Company in Franklin.

These people are deciding your child's future

What happens when the school board meets in your town? Chances are that nine out of ten citizens don't know—they weren't there. Yet the school board, in a very real sense, is making decisions that affect the future of every child in your town. Make a note right now to go to the next meeting—to help these good citizens serving on the school board in making their decisions. Ask your neighbors if they'd like to go, too. Remember, Better Schools come from the personal interest of people like you! And if you'd like to learn more about how to get Better Schools, write today for free booklet and other helpful information: Better Schools, 9 East 40th Street, New York 16, N. Y.

How Are Things Around Holly Springs?

Mrs. Dorothy Seagle Telephone 225-J-4 Staff Correspondent

The Rev. Doyle Miller, pastor of the Holly Springs Baptist Church, is away this week conducting a revival at the California Creek Baptist Church near Mrs. Hill.

Members of the Holly Springs church volunteered to furnish a night's lodging for 12 of the young people attending the Training Union meeting at the First Baptist Church. The women also have decided to make 50 sandwiches for the meeting Saturday.

The 4-H club officers met Wednesday night at the home of Elizabeth Ann Ammons to practice the program they will give at the district meeting to be held in Asheville Saturday. W. G. Crawford will drive the group to Asheville.

Mr. and Mrs. Parker Gregory visited friends and relatives on Savannah in Jackson County Sunday.

Visiting relatives in the community Sunday were Mr. and Mrs. Charles Medford, of Asheville. Mrs. Medford also visited her father, W. L. Deal, who is a patient in a local hospital.

Dr. and Mrs. C. G. Walker, of Parris Island, S. C., spent the week end visiting their mothers, Mrs. Ruth Landrum and Mrs. Gladys Walker, of Franklin.

Mr. and Mrs. Walter West have moved to Marshall. Mrs. West has been with her parents, Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Franklin, for the winter, while Mr. West was away on construction work.

Mrs. Henry Corbin has moved into the Dick Sloan house on Maple Street in Franklin. Mr. and Mrs. Fred Deal have moved into her former home here.

Over The Countryside In Patton Community

Mrs. Pearl M. Stewart Telephone 274-J-1 Staff Correspondent

Sunday was a "family affair" at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Fred Hannah. Members of the family gathered for a family picnic on the lawn. Besides immediate members of the family, present were Mr. and Mrs. Stewart Miller, of Taylor, S. C., and Mrs. Ernest Wright and son, "Dinky", of Alexandria, Va.

Following up the custom of using laymen in the church for services, Porter Duncan gave the devotional at Patton Methodist Church Sunday. The beginners' class is scheduled to give it next Sunday.

Kenneth Grasty, of Brevard, visited Mr. and Mrs. Sherman

Ledford Sunday. Mr. and Mrs. Wayne Stewart and Mrs. Harley Stewart went to Wiley, Ga., last Thursday to attend graveside services for Mrs. Gordon Taylor. Mrs. Wayne Stewart's aunt.

State College Answers Timely Farm Questions

Q. How do you apply seed treatment to the seed?

A. When treating beans, peas and other large package seed, place the seed in a jar (never fill the jar more than half full), spread the required amount of material on them and shake or rotate the jar until seed are thinly coated. To treat small packets of seed, tear one corner of the packet and place a pinch of material (about twice as much as can be picked up on the first half inch of a flattened end of a toothpick) in the packet with the seed. Shake until seed are thinly coated.

Q. What can be used in place of grass on steep banks or in extremely shady places?

A. Grass substitutes that are low growing and often used on such places are: English Ivy, an evergreen vine that will grow throughout the state in dense shade; Common Periwinkle, a trailing vine with small evergreen leaves and blue flowers; Pony-foot, a short native creeping vine found along banks and roadsides; and Lilyturf or Mondo grass, grows in a bunch from 4 to 12 inches high with leaves like grass and purple to white flowers.

Q. What type of soil is best suited for the production of alfalfa?

A. Alfalfa grows best on well-drained clay soils. However, it will grow satisfactorily on light sandy soils, especially if the sandy soil has a clay subsoil. Alfalfa is extremely sensitive to poor drainage and will not live long if planted on a soil that has a high water table or poor drainage. It cannot stand "wet feet."

Q. Are there any new hybrid corn varieties available to North Carolina farmers this year?

A. Farmers of the Piedmont and Coastal Plain have a new hybrid available for the first time. It's N. C. 288, a new yellow hybrid. N. C. 288 is a full season corn, quite similar to Dixie 82. However, it has slightly larger ears and
