MRS. O'NEILL HAS MOST YEARS —

Mrs. Stewart Wins FHS Survey To Determine Best Teacher

In observance of "Teaching Career Month", the Future Teachers Club of Franklin High School has conducted a couple of surveys.

One was among local businessmen to find out the names of teachers who influenced them the most when they were embracing the Three R's. A second survey among F.H.S. seniors and businessmen was made to determine which teacher had the most influence on their lives and was most interested in the personal problems of students.

The winner of the second survey? Mrs. D. A. (Marie P.) Stewart, a teacher for 20 years. Born and reared in Macon County, she received her education at Woman's College, University of North Carolina. She is teaching 105 seniors this year and also holds two study halls. The first year she taught at Franklin High she had 65 seniors.

Some Comments

Here are some of the comments made by businessmen during the first survey:

H. W. Cabe: Mrs. W. B. McGuire. She taught him in grammar school. He remembers her for some of the thrashings he received.

H. L. Bryant: Miss M. E. Wells. She taught him in the eighth grade. Mr. Bryant says, "Always be faithful and keep a' diggin'".

Calvin Henson: Mrs. Stewart. She made him behave. Also Miss Viva Howard. He had a crush on her in the first grade.

Miss Shirley Cloer: Mrs. Kathryn P. Matthews, who was strict; Edwin T. Williams, who was lenient.

Newell Pendergrass: Mrs. Joyce Cagle. She was a good teacher, he says.

Jack Angel: Miss May Beryl Moody. She was an excellent teacher.

Dr. Furman Angel: Mrs. Eloise

Mrs. O'Neil

G. Potts. She had good looks, energy, and intelligence. She taught him in the tenth, eleventh, and twelfth grades.

T. W. Angel, Jr.: Mrs. Stewart. He says she was business-like and put up with no tomfoolery.

Zeb Meadows: Mrs. Stewart. She taught him the most.

Sam Gibson: Mrs. Stewart. She was interested in each individual, he recalls.

MISS JOHNSON WEDS CHARLES D. WALDROOP

Mr. and Mrs. Casey M. Johnson, of Columbia, S. C., announce the marriage of their daughter, Miss Noel Virginia Johnson, to Charles Dennis Waldroop, son of Mr. and Mrs. Wiley J. Waldroop, of Knoxville, Tenn., formerly of Franklin. He is the grandson of Mrs. Grover Lewis, of Route 1.

The wedding took place March 29 in Shandon Presbyterian Church in Columbia, with Dr. Fred V. Poag performing the double-ring ceremony in the presence of the two immediate families.

Edward Waldroop, brother of the groom, was best man.

Miss Patsy McEntire was maid of honor and only attendant to the bride.

The bride, who was given in marriage by her father, wore a gown of lace and tulle, fashioned with sweetheart neckline, long sleeves and waltz-length skirt of net over taffeta. She carried a prayer book topped with a white orchid.

Following the ceremony a reception was held for the two families at the home of the bride's parents.

After the reception the couple left for a short wedding trip, after which they will make their home to the King Court Apartments, in Columbia.

For travel the bride wore a light brown suit with brown fur collar and dark brown accessories ing years, Mrs. T. J. O'Neil leads all others in the Macon County School System with 43 years, about 20 of them in Macon County.

A graduate of Michigan State Normal College, she started teaching in 1915.

Mrs. O'Neil has a number of firsts to her credit: she started the first public nursery school in North Carolina while teaching in Winston-Salem; she organized a classroom teachers organization in the state; started a child study club in the state that is still active; and she started the home demonstration movement in both Macon and Clay counties.

Mrs. O'Neil is a native of Cambridge, Mass.

MISS WIKE MARRIES LYNDON LEE HURST

Miss Eloise Wike and Lyndon Lee Hurst were married April 6 in Walhalla, S. C.

The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Dallas Wike, of Whittier, and the bridegroom is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Iradell Hurst, of the Cowee section.

The bride's mother and her sister, Miss Evelyn Wike, attended the wedding.
