Know The Rules

Persons buying or selling farmland with an acreage allotment have full responsibility for becoming familiar with the regulations of the Secretary of Agriculture governing combinations and divisions of allotments and for advising county ASC committees of purchase or sales made, according to Miss Mildred Corbin, office manager of the local office.

County committees are not in a position to know of all land sales and purchases and, therefore, cannot change the acreage allotment for any land involved until a request for a division or a combination is filed by the interested producer.

The Department of Agriculture has issued definite regulations and instructions on how allotments may be divided or combined and county offices must follow these instructions in all cases. May farmers have had some unhappy experiences in the past because they did not determine in advance how the acreage allotments would be divided before they bought or sold land. Both the buyer and the seller have a responsibility for notifying county A.S.C. offices as soon as possible after land is bought or sold and for requesting the office to make a division of the allotment if only a part of the farm is sold. If the purchaser owns other land and wishes to combine the newly purchased land with what he already owns, he must file a request with the county committee for the combination.

Lawyers or real estate agencies who are handling the sale or purchase of farmland should become familiar with the regulations before advising their client or completing transaction.

Return Cards

Tobacco farmers are reminded that they are required by regulations to return their tobacco marketing cards to the local A.S.C. office at the end of the marketing season. Approximately one-half the cards have been returned from Macon farmers. Failure to return the marketing cards results in automatically reducing the allotment for the coming year.

Congressman Appoints New Staff Member For Office

WAYNESVILLE — Congressman David M. Hall announced yesterday the appointment of Mrs. Jean Mauney Greene of Murphy, as an additional member of his Washington staff.

Mrs. Greene has been employed in the Citizens Bank and Trust Company at Murphy, her native home. Prior to this she was employed in Washington in the office of former Congressman Monroe M. Redden (D.N.C.), and with Congressman Wilbur D. Mills (D.Ark.) who is now chairman of the Ways and Means Committee.

Mrs. Greene attended the schools in Murphy and was graduated from Western Carolina College, later completing a business course at Cecil's Business College, Asheville. She is the mother of two children and is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Walter Mauney, of Murphy. She is a member of the Murphy Business and Professional Women's Club and has been active in the Methodist Church.

Opens Office

Congressman Hall opened his office in the Old House Building in Washington, D. C., Friday, preparatory to formally beginning his duties as congressman. He took his oath of office yesterday (Wednesday).

Mr. and Mrs. Hall and three daughters have moved into their home at Arlington, Va. They were accompanied to Washington by Tommy McClure, of Sylva, who will serve as clerk-typist in Representative Hall's office, as well as being his assistant in helping him get about in the Capitol.
