9 At Meeting

Nine members were present at the meeting of the Ridgecrest Home Demonstration Club held Tuesday, April 21, at the home of Mrs. Jeter Higdon, as home garden leader, gave a report. A point she stressed was to plant one tenth of an acre per member of your family. She also reported on the music school she attended.

Plans for the dress review were made and Mrs. John Smith was appointed to serve as narrator for the club's entries.

Two members gave book reports. Mrs. Florence S. Sherrill read a report about the war orphan the club has adopted and showed the members a picture of the boy.

The devotional was given by Mrs. Frank Sellers. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Molton Buchanan.

Music Study Club Thrills To Recital By Mrs. Harris

By MRS. MARGARET COOPER

An entranced audience listened Friday night to a recital given by Irene Leftwich Harris, pianist, of Decatur, Ga., for members of the Franklin Music Study Club and their guests.

Mrs. Harris played with a sparkling technique and amazing strength and richness of tone.

The program opened with the well-known theme from Gluck's Orpheus Ballet music, arranged by Hodgson. The Mozart Sonata K. 457, which followed, was played with a sureness that marked Mrs. Harris as a true artist.

Her second group of compositions by Chopin was the high spot of the recital. Included were Etude Op. 25 No. 1, Nocturne Op. 48 No. 1, Waltz Op. 42, and Ballade Op. 23. All the poetic beauty of Chopin's music was brought out by Mrs. Harris.

The last group was made up of modern and familiar numbers: Garden Music by Neumann, The Sunken Cathedral by Debussy, Prelude in C Sharp Minor by Rachmaninoff, and four of Brahms waltzes. The much-loved waltz in A flat made a fitting close to the program.

Mrs. Harris' charming personality and informal comments about the numbers added to the pleasure of the listeners.

The recital was given at the
