

Shephard Dies April 20; Was Macon Native

Angel Clinic after an illness of several days. Seventy-five, he lived on Franklin, Route 4.
Mr. Shephard's funeral services were held the following afternoon at the Watauga Baptist Church by the Rev. C. C. Welch and the Rev. Paul Heafner. Burial was in the church cemetery.

Born Oct. 2, 1883, he was the son of Henry and Mrs. Rhoda Sanders Shephard. He was married in 1910 to Miss Ollie Mason, of this county, who survives. Mr. Shephard was a member of the Cold Springs Baptist Church in Swain County.

Other survivors are a son, Wade Shephard; five daughters, Mrs. Ranson Galloway, of Waynesville, Mrs. Bertha Shephard, of Morganton, Mrs. Clyde Brown, of Canton, Mrs. J. T. Cathey, of Tuscon, Ariz., and Mrs. Douglas Goodnaugh, of Clinton, Va.; a brother, Sam Shephard, of Johnson City, Tenn.; a sister, Mrs. Logan Allen, of Franklin; and three grandchildren.

Pallbearers were Claude Morgan, James Sanders, Furman Sanders, Dale Brendle, Roy Rankin, and Parker Raby.
Arrangements were handled by Potts Funeral Home.

Elementary, Dr. Watson

A program by the Library Club highlighted the monthly meeting of the Franklin High P.T.A. The club presented two skits, "Sherlock Holmes and the Gorgon's Head," and "At Your Service." The first skit was "whodunit" style, including faked English accents. The playlet emphasized ways of finding difficult topics by using library research materials. It starred Steve Bundy, as "Ken," Tommy McCollum, as "Sherlock Holmes," and Paul Cabe, as "Dr. Watson." Others appearing in the cast were Kenneth R. Mashburn, Bill Walker, Thelma Shope, Mary Curtis, Linda Tal- lent, and Raymond Southard.

"At Your Service" was a radio play adapted for the stage. The story of two bookworms, it brought out the fact that libraries are being used more and more each day. Linda Neal and Evelyn Dills starred as the bookworms, with Doug Vinson, Nancy Jane Burch, Patsy Cunningham, June Wells, and Mary Jo Henderson also appearing in the play.

Bud Shope, representing the student body, spoke briefly on the importance of libraries in modern-day life.

Music on the program was provided by Nancy Jane Burch, pianist, Kathryn Jones, president of the club, along with Louise Pennington and Joyce Elders, served refreshments after the program.

Prior to the program, members of the P.T.A. installed new officers.

NEWS BRIEFS: The Mountaineers practically made a clean sweep of the student elections. They were headed by Bud Shope and Benny Swafford, with much assistance from Arthur Hayes, who prepared dozens of posters for the party. Credit must also be given to Linda Shope and Danny Cagle, for a fine job done as leaders of the Tar Heels. Laurels also go to student council representatives who aided in preparations for the elections. Nothing definite yet, but the rumors are that the annuals will be distributed very shortly. The warm weather sends many students out on the lawn during lunch hour to socialize and enjoy the Spring sunshine. The juniors are to be commended for the excellent way the banquet was carried out. The program was entertaining and the night will be one to remember. Seniors have received their commencement announcements and are counting
