

REMEMBER THIS OLD FRANKLIN SCENE?

How good's your memory? Remember the old Junaluska Inn in Franklin? This picture by Frank Smith was on a postcard found by Joe Moses. The postmark is 1910. Streets were still dirt back in those days and the picture shows that sitting on a shady porch watching the world go by on horseback was a pleasant pastime.

Pine Grove Happenings

Mrs. Betty Suttles Phone LA 4-3356 Staff Correspondent

Mrs. Hallie D. Stiles, of Charlotte, visited her sister, Mrs. W. T. Tilson over the week end. Mrs. Stiles is building a home in our community. We are glad to have Mr. Bill DeHart home again after a stay in Angel Hospital.

Mrs. Maude L. Corbin has gone to North Wilkesboro for a short visit.

DeHart said, "It was a scary place... the last house on Tellico gap, lots of snakes and wild animals and stuff; but we had about 10 or 12 head of cattle, 60 or 70 hogs, and lots of sheep and it was good to see them coming in to the house to get salt or feed."

Recall Luck

The DeHarts related how they had their worst luck in 1957 when both of them had to have operations at the same time. Bills for these were high, and Mrs. DeHart had to stay in the hospital for 32 days.

"A nurse told me it was a miracle I recovered," Mrs. DeHart said, "but here I am." She is still troubled with diabetes and they both go for check-ups with the doctor every two months.

After their recovery, Mr. and Mrs. DeHart decided to sell their farm on Tellico Creek, pay their hospital bills, retire, and move closer to town.

"The kids wanted us to be closer so they could come out and see us more," Mrs. DeHart said. "We don't need land to farm now," her husband chimed in, "we keep a cow and a few chickens and the children come out and help with our garden."

Mr. and Mrs. DeHart are now eagerly looking forward to Sunday when all their children are coming to visit and celebrate their 52nd anniversary of their leap year wedding.

name was Isabelle Anderson when I first met her and she lived on the mouth of Tellico Creek.

"I built a house on the head of the creek and when we were married on a Friday, we moved into our own place on Monday.

"We lived there right up until last May when we moved here, and I farmed and raised stock in the mountains."

Mrs. DeHart said, "It was a scary place... the last house on Tellico gap, lots of snakes and wild animals and stuff; but we had about 10 or 12 head of cattle, 60 or 70 hogs, and lots of sheep and it was good to see them coming in to the house to get salt or feed."

Six Children

The DeHarts had six children; four girls and two boys, the last born in 1925. They are Mrs. Ervin Smith, of Iota community, Mrs. Carl McCoy, of Franklin, Mrs. Sam Crisp, of Bryson City, and Miss Nell DeHart, who lives with them, Went DeHart, of Franklin, and Verd DeHart, of Tellico.

Mr. and Mrs. DeHart are both members of the Tellico Baptist Church.

"We got along right good on our little mountain farm," Mr. DeHart

FOR LOCAL DRIVE

'Heart Sunday' Canvass Slated By Volunteers

This coming Sunday is "Heart Sunday", the day on which each resident of Macon County will have an opportunity to join the nation-wide fight against the heart and blood vessel diseases, the nation's number one health enemy.

The "Heart Sunday" collection throughout the residential areas here will be conducted by an army of volunteers. Each volunteer will visit residents in his or her immediate neighborhood, presenting individual envelopes for contributions. The envelope may be sealed before being returned to the collector and the amount of the gift need not be revealed.

The collection here will be conducted between the hours of 2 and 5 p. m. Each volunteer will carry an official identification form printed on a 1960 "Heart Sunday" kit wrapper. He or she will show the identification on presenting a contribution envelope.

SINGING SUNDAY A gospel singing will be held Sunday, February 28, at the Mt. Sinai Church of God, beginning at 1:45 p.m. All singers and the public are invited.

More than 1,500,000 volunteers in 10,000 communities throughout the nation are expected to participate in the house-to-house fund collection on "Heart Sunday", February 28.

orchestra during a single season. To accomplish this herculean feat, the symphony travels thousands of miles. The musicians generally play two concerts in a single day and then ride 75 or 100 miles to meet a similar schedule the following day. There is no comfortable home to which to return; for during the tour home is the bus, a suitcase, and a table at a restaurant. The concert hall may be a municipal auditorium, a junior high school, or a tabernacle. Actually, the North Carolina Symphony is at home throughout the state.

"Symphony Day" is as exciting as a trip to the moon to the more than 100,000 children who annually hear free children's concerts. Instruments which many know only by photographs and music they have heard only on records are brought to life by Dr. Swalin and his musicians. To a child, a bassoon can be as exciting a discovery as an elephant. And anyone who doubts that listening to a movement from a Beethoven symphony is enjoyable need only visit his local children's concert and watch the faces and gestures of the young audience.

Great cultural organizations have in the past been the luxury of patrons in the larger cities. But thanks to Benjamin Swalin's imagination and industry, and to the enthusiastic support of the progressive people of North Carolina, the smallest community can hear its own symphony which equals any in the nation.

The Symphony satellite is launched each fall by local membership drives, which are conducted throughout the state by the North Carolina Symphony Society. By responding to the local drive, each citizen can have a part in realizing the goal of an even greater North Carolina Symphony.

Psychologist

To Speak Here

Macon County's Unit of the North Carolina Association for Retarded Children will meet on Tuesday, March 1, at 7:30 p.m. in the Franklin High School library.

Dr. Allen R. Cohen, consulting psychologist with the division of special education and director of the Educational Program for Trainable Children in North Carolina, will be the speaker at the meeting.

This is an open meeting and the public is invited to attend.

Student To Show Finland Slides

As a feature of the East Franklin P.T.A. meeting tonight (Thursday), exchange student Martti Hapapokki will show color slides of his native Finland.

The meeting is set for 7:30 in the East Franklin School Auditorium, and all parents and patrons of the school are invited to attend.

Starting SUNDAY Every place you go you'll be hearing about... 'A SUMMER PLACE'

The Political Pot

Two More Out The governor's race "probables" for the governor's and lieutenant governor's races this week. J. Melville Broughton, Jr., chairman of the State Highway Commission, and State Budget Officer D. S. Coltrane both announced they will not be candidates. Mr. Broughton had been mentioned for the top job and Mr. Coltrane for the number two spot.

Scawell Running The governor's race "turned into" a three-man contest last Thursday with the announcement of Attorney General Malcolm B. Scawell. He is resigning as attorney general to make the race.

On the Republican side of the fence, the first gubernatorial candidate got in the running with an announcement by Sanford lawyer Robert L. Gavin, a former U.S. district attorney. This is his first try for elective office. A U.N.C. graduate, father of three children, and a member of the Sanford law firm of Gavin, Jackson, and Gavin, he was appointed assistant U.S. district attorney for the Middle District, serving from 1954 until 1957.

Rollman Protests Under protest, G.O.P. Congressional candidate Heinz Rollman has paid another $225 filing fee to the elections board in Raleigh for the special primary in the Congressional District to pick the late Rep. David M. Hall's successor. He protests that the filing fee for the special and short term should not be the same as for the regular term because the man elected to the short term will only serve for a short while. The law says the filing fee is to be one per cent of the annual salary of the Congressman.

Rollman also, in a letter to the state elections board, suggests that no special ballots be printed for the special primary, but to have the names of the Congressional candidates on the regular ballot twice, designating one for the special or short term and the other for the regular term. He says this will save thousands of dollars.

The Waynesville industrialist also suggests that Gov. Hodges set the special general election the same date as the regular election November 8 as a further means of saving taxpayers' money.

Scandinavian Music To Feature Meeting Of Music Group

The February meeting of the Franklin Music Study Club will be held tomorrow (Friday) night at 8 o'clock at the First Baptist Church.

The Rev. and Mrs. Robert E. Early will present the program on Scandinavian music.

Mrs. W. L. Nohstein and Mrs. J. W. Tucker will serve as hostesses.

A NEW DRIVE-IN SLATED FOR FRANKLIN

Pictured above is Franklin's new drive-in restaurant... no, you haven't missed seeing it. This is a picture of a scale model of a new drive-in that Manson L. Stiles is building on the Franklin-Dillsboro road (US 23-441). Mr. Stiles says that the parking lot will accommodate more than 100 cars on the curb and that there will be seats for 55 persons inside. The opening is set for April 15. Virgil Meadows will manage the restaurant. (Staff Photo)
