

Brady's BLARNEY

By A Brady Called J. P.

Hail to thee, lovers of pure butter. My heartfelt thanks for the support you have given my recent column concerning the use of cheap, oily substitutes.

Some of you sided with my argument in favor of good old fashioned butter and some of you sided with my wife for using those cheap, oily substitutes. Matter of fact, Harley Lyle said it was fortunate that he wasn't married to me for he would make me eat the stuff or else. I think it's fortunate that I'm not married to him for other reasons, into which we will not delve at this time.

Anyway, the refrigerator up at "Mortgage Manor" now has several pounds of good old country butter, thanks to friends who took pity on me. My little boy and I are thoroughly enjoying it, too.

The wife? Well, she's speaking to me once again, although her stubborn streak is asserting itself. She refuses to eat any of that good old country butter, which suits us just fine!

Called home about lunch time one day last week and the wife greeted me with, "Hello, Brady Cat Ranch".

Things are becoming a little crowded up at "Mortgage Manor" these days.

"Cat ranch?" I answered, thinking maybe she'd flipped her lid.

And then she explained "there are kittens all over the yard come home and help me."

When I got home I found she hadn't exaggerated one bit. Our boy's two mama cats had their litters all over the place. I gathered up Buffy's young and put her with them in a tool shed. Sam (named in honor of Sam Gibson) at the time we figured she was a "he" had her brood in an old dog house.

A nose count of the new arrivals revealed that the cat population at our place had swelled to 13. Of course it came as no surprise to us. Buff and Sam do this at regular intervals. However, this was the first time they've arrived at motherhood at about the same time and it did confuse the issue for a while.

Believe me when I say these two mother cats are opportunists. When they're in a motherly way they get preferential treatment; that is, condensed milk, regular cat food instead of table scraps, and, if during the winter, indoor sessions for warming. So, with these added services in mind they apparently have blanket invitations out to every tom cat in East Franklin, not that tom cats need invitations.

Anyone like to have a kitten?

An Associated Press dispatch from Memphis, Tenn., explains my elation. It says:

BIRTH CONTROL FOR CATS URGED BY MEMPHIS CLUB

MEMPHIS, Tenn.—A plea for birth control in cats came today from the Memphis and Mid-South Cat Fanciers Club.

"Unwanted" tabbies, the club said, are mistreated and sometimes cruelly slaughtered. The solution: increased spaying of female and "neuterizing" of male cats so that the birth of new kittens may be controlled.

News From Nantahala

Corp. Bill Gregory has recently been discharged from the U.S. Army after serving two years. He served 18 months in Germany with the infantry. He and Mrs. Gregory, the former Miss Emma Waters, have moved to Delaware. Mr. Gregory plans to return to work with the Chrysler Corporation, where he worked six years prior to entering service.

Miss Mary Lou Allen, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Clyde G. Allen, completed a course at the Asheville Beauty Academy recently and has returned home.

Mr. and Mrs. Wayne T. Trammell and sons Roger, Douglas, and David attended a birthday party for Teresa Trammell, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Trammell, of Topton, April 2.

Mr. and Mrs. Cecil Day and children, of Michigan, are spending a few weeks with Mrs. Day's parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Owenby, and other relatives here.

Howard Rowland and Austic Jacobs left for Alabama recently. Early Davis has been in Michigan on business.

Mrs. Lola May, of Knoxville, Tenn., has returned home after spending the week with relatives here.

Whitmire Elected Shorthorn Director

E. J. Whitmire, of Franklin, has been elected a director of the North Carolina Shorthorn Association.

The association was reorganized recently at a meeting in Statesville after being inactive for about five years.

It was decided at the meeting to have a field day, probably in mid-July in the western part of the state.

of the club's Cat Welfare Committee put it this way: "Help us to answer the prayer of the unborn cat."

Hallelujah sister! Please pass the "neuterizer". Hallelujah! With reference to the above about cats.

QUOTE OF THE WEEK: A yawn is nature's provision for letting married men open their mouths.
