

NEEDING A civic club speaker for free? Franklin High student, Fred Bulgin, who's a member of the governor's traffic safety group, is available to address any and all comers on safety.

THAT IS Dogwood Winter that's been making you shiver and go back to coats and sweaters. Seems like there's a name for each weather situation in the mountains, doesn't it?

FRANKLIN HIGH'S seniors are marching again, which means that graduation isn't far off. As it did last year, THE PRESS will again publish an edition with pictures of all graduates in Macon County.

DON'T FORGET to register before sundown Saturday if you expect to vote in the coming election. That applies, of course, to those of you who have never registered. A new registration was not ordered this time.

TOMORROW (Friday) night, the Franklin Junior Woman's club will give the American Cancer Society campaign a boost by conducting a house-to-house canvass for contributions. Give 'em a hand, won't you, by giving generously?

THIS IS JUST a tip to the wise. Town taxes not paid by Monday (the 16th) will be advertised as delinquent next week. If you don't want to read your name in the paper, hurry down to the town office and settle up with Town Clerk Ray Swafford.

CHALK US UP with an error on last week's item about the rescue squad meeting. The squad meets every Tuesday night at the airport, not on Friday.

THE OPERATION of that safety check lane here was week reminded many of the compulsory lanes operated by the state after the war. There were fellows driving A-Model Fords who never passed the brake test with those mechanical brakes.

EVERY CITIZEN interested in the growth of Franklin should turn out for this special water meeting called for next Tuesday night by the town at East Franklin School. Regardless of the source, the town cannot grow without an ample supply of water — something it does not have now!

MISS ALICE BRADLEY graciously represented Franklin in the Dogwood Festival last week in Haywood County. She didn't win the beauty contest, but she had the time of her life.

FOLKS CAN'T alibi that the parking meters are frozen and aren't giving correct time. Shucks, maybe the heat works on the things too, because the meter man stays busy handing out tickets.

THE NEW shopping center certainly is a step-forward addition to our town. It's already got the name of "Franklin's Westgate".

CAN ANYONE really explain all this chilly weather? If it keeps up we've probably had the shortest spring and summer on record. Some cautious gardeners and flower lovers have been covering plants to protect them from possible frost.

Mail Increases At Chamber Here Over Ruby Mines

An unusually large number of mail inquiries are being received by the Franklin Chamber of Commerce and the credit for this interest goes to Cowee Valley and its ruby mines.

Commenting that mail inquiries "are well ahead for this time of year" the chamber's executive secretary, Mrs. Lasca E. Horsley, this week said most of them request additional information about the ruby mines.

She explained that the State of North Carolina is doing extensive national advertising this year and a picture of people digging for rubies in Cowee Valley appears in one of the advertisements.

"I'm sure that's the reason for this big increase in mail," Mrs. Horsley declared.

The chamber's information booth on Main Street is now open from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m.

A bake sale is scheduled in Franklin Saturday in the old Reeves Hardware building for the benefit of the Charlie Moore family, of Ellijay, which was burned out Tuesday of last week.

The early morning blaze destroyed the Moore house and most of the family's belongings. Defective wiring is believed responsible.

The Moores have four children at home: Judy, 13, Janice, 9, J. P., 22, and Donny, 17. Another son, Bobby Joe, died last year from leukemia.

Donations of household items and clothing are especially needed by the family. Arrangements for picking items up can be made by telephoning Mrs. W. W. Berry, or items may be left at the L. L. Shook fruit and vegetable stand on US 64 east (Highlands road).
