BRIEFS

Good morning!

The Pilot four weeks old.

Christmas will be here in eight days.

Our stores are all dressed up for the holidays.

If you have any Christmas gifts to make don't forget the Pilot.

A year's subscription to the Pilot would be a nice Christmas gift to a friend.

The dry enforcement enthusiasts seem to have overlooked the fact that Brer Frog is full of hops.

Save fifty cents by subscribing to the Pilot before January 1st 1921. After that date it will be $2 a year.

Those who have enjoyed calling him "Professor" Wilson will doubtless persist in saying Editor Harding.

At the rate prices are dropping, it may be necessary to put up "Look out below" signs some time next year.

Every once in a while the man at the filling station puts something in the tank that smells almost like gasoline.

Those who have experience in these matters say the modern feminine complexion has the flavor of a French dessert.

If Santa Claus can't think of anything more appropriate, he might fetch along the fourth installment of the income tax payment.

There is nothing extraordinary in the announcement that Luther Burbank is creating a brand new nut. There is one born every minute.

The Carthage Realty and Insurance Company, of which Mr. B. P. Barron is the manager, will accept our thanks for several of their handsome calendars.

The teachers and scholars of White Hill school are going to give a box party on Friday evening of this week for the benefit of the school. Everybody is invited to attend.

If you should have occasion to go to Cameron to make a purchase don't fail to pay McDonald Bros. a visit. They are reliable. Read their advertisement in another part of this paper.

The Pilot man can be found in his office every day from 7:30 a. m. to 6 p. m., and 365 days in the year, with the latch string on the outside, to receive news items, job work and subscribers. Come in.

Last Monday was hog killing time in Vass. Mr. T. K. Gunter killed two that weighed dressed 726 pounds. One weighing 364 and the other 362. Mr. Angus Cameron slaughtered seven that weighed 1,887 pounds, one weighing 320. We would like to hear from the largest hogs killed.

Don't forget that while the Christmas holidays are approaching to spend your money at home. It helps to build up a place, besides when a person earns a dollar it ought to be left at home.

"A negro preacher of this town," a Southern reader reports, "said in his ordination sermon: 'I was bought at the Lamb's sale. I was predestined, forordained, prefixed, suffixed and affixed, and cannot be unfixed; and I am not hell scared.'"

A subscriber remarks that one three miles at sea may take a drink without offending Volstead, and asks if one may safely take a drink while three miles in the air. It is a delicate point, but doubtless one would be quite safe if he didn't take a drop too much.

The children of the lower grades of the Farm Life School will give a Christmas entertainment on Monday evening, Dec. 20th, at 7 o'clock. The admission will only be 25 cents. After the exercises there will be a voting contest and a pie supper. The proceeds will be used by these grades in improving the school rooms.

Messrs. James Hinshaw, W. W. Reece, James T. Hinshaw, Hooks Petrie, Robie Culler, Dr. J. T. Denbow, C. B. Huff and Clinton Denbow, have been in this neighborhood for the past week fox hunting. They managed to bag three with the assistance of eleven dogs, one was a beautiful specimen of the fox family and the skin was shipped to a taxidermist to be mounted. While in Vass the hunters made their headquarters with Mr. Henry A. Matthews. They all had an enjoyable time.

What Others Think of Us

Pushing the Pen in North Carolina

We were glad to receive last week a copy of the "Weekly Pilot" published in Vass, N. C., and to learn that our friend, Mr. George W. Brock, who for many years successfully conducted the Aberdeen Enterprise in this county, is connected with the editorial staff of this new undertaking.

The paper, while small in compass, is rich in news and good business, and we wish to congratulate Mr. Brock on the paper and his connection with the same, and his well-known ability and energy applied to its publication, we predict for it a successful future.—From the Bel Air (Md.) Times.

A TOAST.

To the Editor of the Weekly Pilot—Sir: "Here's to the Pilot, that started on a small scale—

Here's to the Pilot that never will fail If we stand behind it like a long iron rail."

Just because the Pilot is a small paper don't think it is small in number. Look here is a subscriber way down in South Carolina. I want to congratulate the editor for getting up such an interesting paper in my old home town. I look forward with great pleasure every Saturday night for the Pilot. It is like receiving a letter from home. My best wishes for the Pilot. Mabel Edwards Spurlin.

Fling away ambition; By that sin fell the angels; how can man then,

The image of his Maker, hope to win by it?
