BRIEFS

Good morning!

Vass is growing daily.

Pilot's clothes getting small.

Don't be a knocker, but boost.

Next holiday, Washington's birthday.

It pays to deal with your home merchants

Sign in an Arkansas movie house: "No hugging or kissing aloud."

No kid brother can understand why any fellow is monkey enough to want to kiss his sister.

When skirts were long and flared like this (), they didn't reveal any queer things like this ().

Give Volstead credit for one thing. Because of him there will be fewer New Year jokes about the water wagon.

Prime salt water oysters will be on sale at Neill's McKeithen's store Saturday of this week, and every week thereafter.

Since coal has gone so high maybe Cupid is whispering into the ears of lovers that two can keep warm as easily as one.

Science is a great thing, but it has never yet explained why the rooster does the crowing while it's the hen that lays the egg.

We've always felt that the most sensible girls in Vass are the ones who don't believe they'd become famous as movie stars.

A Chicago merchant is advertising $100 suits for men at $10. These are probably the ten-dollar suits that sold for one hundred.

Mr. Robert Thomas' bungalow is receiving a new suit of shingles which will be a noticeable improvement in that section of the town.

Dust from the slate quarries is now being converted into face powder. Probably that is what gives so many of Vass girls those stony looks.

In the matter of wages and prices we would do well to remember that we all went up together and we'll all have to tumble together.

Mr. Linsey Kepley and son, of Salisbury, were here last week, negotiating with Mr. Henry A. Matthews, real estate agent, for the purchase of a farm.

The audience will now stand and sing No. 92 in the revised edition of the Reformer's Hymnal, beginning "Every Day" "Be Sunday Bye and Bye."

There was once a woman who never spoke a cross word to her husband. She's dead. And we know a man who claims he never said an unkind word to his wife. He's a liar.

Prohibition officers to the contrary notwithstanding, we don't see how the average woman could hide a bottle of hooch in her stocking and get away with it.

One of our subscribers ask: "Why do you printers call your apprentices 'devils'?" We don't know, unless its because there's always so much hell in a printing office.

A lot of physical ailments are cured by sunshine, but every now and then we learn where some fellow has died from trying to bolster himself up with moonshine.

A lot of those chaps who used to study long and diligently to be admitted to the bar are now lying awake nights trying to figure out how they can get next to a bootlegger.

Southern man reports a hog that has two perfectly formed feet on one leg. The normal hog differs from this in that he has several perfectly developed hands on each arm.

A Washington justice has ruled that a man may spank his wife if she gets peevish. Yes, he may; but the chances are he'll think twice before doing it—then decide not to.

Mr. D. A. McLauchlin, cashier of the prosperous Vass Bank, attended the monthly meeting of the Board of County Commissioners, of which he is a member, last Monday in Carthage.

One well-known Sunday School hymn that will never attain any marked degree of popularity with a small kid is that in which the re-iterated refrain in "wash me and I shall be whiter than snow."

Holland has refused to surrender the Kaiser on the ground that the Dutch zoo has lost enough of its specimens already. Why not bring him to America and place him in the Raleigh museum and charge an admission for the relief of the suffering Armenians?

The first passenger train over the Seaboard Air Line, direct from New York to Florida, without a passenger stop in North Carolina, made its first trip through Vass Tuesday morning, composed entirely of Pullman coaches. It went through our town like a bullet from a rifle.

MICKIE SAYS:

OLE BILL SCRUGGS
COME IN PEEVED TH' OTHER DAY
AND WOLFS OUT, "WHY DONT YA
PUT MY AD WHERE EVERYBODY KIN
SEE IT?", AND TH' BOSS, HE UP
AN' HOLLERS, "IF YA WANT YOUR ADS TO BE MORE CONSPICUOUS,
WHY DONT YOU LOOSEN UP AND
BUY BIGGER ONES? YOU CANT
EXPECT A LITTLE TWO-BIT AD TO LOOM UP LIKE THE ROCK OF GIBRALTAR!"

Oysters Direct to You

Oysters direct to you from the Chesapeake Bay every week will be on sale at Neill McKeithen's store. Remember these oysters are not hauled all over the country in unsanitary cans, but strictly fresh every week and handled only once, by the buyer. Place your order early.

One thing about Christmas nowadays is the style has fixed the skirts so a fellow no longer has to guess how much it will take to fill his girl's stocking.
