

CAMERON

Rev. L. H. Joyner will preach the 5th Sunday night at Cameron Methodist church.

The Young Ladies' Auxiliary will give a Halloween party at the graded school building on Monday night October 31st. There will be a short program of songs and recitations; afterwards, cake, cream and sandwiches will be sold. Admittance to the program, 10c only.

John McNeill came up from Hamlet for a short visit to home folks Monday.

Mrs. J. T. Douglas on Rt. 1, was the guest, Sunday, of Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Gaddy.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. McCallum, of Eureka, were visitors, Sunday, at the home of Mr. and Mrs. G. M. McDermott.

Sunday night a week ago, eleven members were added to the Cameron Baptist church and were baptized by Rev. O. B. Mitchell.

Dr. O. Briant expects to leave next week on an extended visit to Philadelphia, and to grace a Halloween party with his presence.

Mr. Henry McDonald, traveling salesman from Andalusia, Ala., and son of the late Norman McDonald who was born and reared near Cameron, paid his first visit to relatives here and at Carthage last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Gabe Holmes, of Goldsboro, who have been visiting Mrs. Holmes' parents, Rev. and Mrs. M. D. McNeill, spent several days of last week with relatives at Raeford.

Mrs. Nannie Cole, widow of the late James Cole, familiarly called "Big Jim," passed away Sunday morning at her home on Route 2, in the eighty-eighth year. She leaves three daughters, Misses Flora Ann, Mary, and Mag, three sons, Messrs. Neill John and Robert; faithful and devoted children to their mother who had been afflicted with blindness for the past twenty years. At the Cameron Community Fair there were on exhibit a pair of socks recently knit by Mrs. Cole. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. M. D. McNeill from White Hill church, interment in White Hill cemetery.

Mrs. H. D. Tally spent Sunday in Hamlet with Mr. and Mrs. Archie McDugald, who have recently moved into their new home.

Mr. E. M. Borst, of Wilmington, spent last week with his family here.

Mr. and Mrs. H. A. Borst and H. A., Jr., of Vass, were afternoon callers, Sunday, at the home of Mr. Borst's parents, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Borst.

J. F. Saunders, of Hamlet, was an over-Sunday visitor in town.

Neill C. McFadyen is the newly appointed postmaster at Cameron.

Rev. J. W. Hartsell wishes to express his thanks to the town people and neighbors at his home farm on Route 2, for their valiant service in saving his home from burning down on Tuesday of last week.

Monday morning W. B. Munns presented the correspondent with what he said was a genuine Cameron, Moore county, North Carolina boll weevil that he found in his cotton fields. As "Jeff" would say, "a degenerate ant-eater I calls it, and a near relative to the doodle bug.

Miss Ida Ray, practical nurse of Wake Forest, is staying with Mrs. H. T. Petty who still remains a invalid.

Messrs. Paul Joyner, of Oxford, and Belton Joyner, of Bennettsville, were home for the week-end with their parents, Rev. L. H. Joyner and Mrs. Joyner.

Born, Monday, to Mr. and Mrs. Jones Bowden, on Route 2, a son, Jones, Jr.

Miss Myrtle Gaddy was a Sunday guest of the Misses Douglas on Rt. 1.

Rev. L. H. Joyner says Cameron is ahead of Vass on one development, namely, the boll weevil.

W. B. Munns who discovered it making inroads on his cotton "patch" says it is, without a doubt, the Mexican boll weevil as he has seen 'em before.

Miss Lula McPherson has returned from the Killough-Monroe wedding at Sanford.

Mrs. Lula Muse returned Saturday from Chadborn where she had been to attend the Proctor-Brown wedding.

Mr. W. G. Parker spent Monday at Garner.

Mrs. Poindexter, of Winston-Salem, is visiting her aunt, Mrs. Doss.

Mrs. M. D. McNeill spent Friday night with her sister, Mrs. C. C. Yates in Carthage.

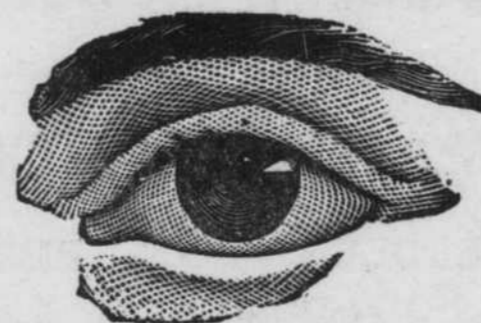

The waters of Lakeview will doubtless be purified now from the contamination of the immodest bathers of the summer season. Rev. Mr. Music, of Rural Hall, Yadkin county, of the faith of the Disciples, held a protracted meeting at Yadkin Hill last week, converting many to his faith, and baptizing six by immersion Sunday afternoon in the waters of Lakeview.

Mr. Neill A. McNeill celebrated his ninety first birthday October 19th. As has always been the custom, his favorite dish was served at dinner. A big fat hen with pastry, known in the days of the old South as chicken and dumplings.

TOURIST TRAFFIC LIGHTER

The tourist traffic on the road this fall is lighter at the present than it was a year ago at this time. Last fall a large number of people of apparently moderate means were flocking to Florida in search of something to do during the winter. Much disappointment followed, and many of them were trekking northward during the winter. But that class has not been so large this fall. Still the migration is big, indicating that the winter visitors in the South will be many. All the signs point to a big winter in the Sandhills resorts.

Well, if old Ult. Consumer gets a cut in freight rates as a result of the embroglio, he may consider that the scare he got was well worth while.

The Call to The

Hark Ye! The Call to the Summer, Queen of the reigns supreme upon her Flowers—though faint is now that Autumn draws veils her domain through veiled both with pride that has been well done through season and with longing for the Autumn, her Scarlet.

Zephyr and the Queen gather about the throne gorgeous Butterflies flutter with Summer's own Sunbees seeking their Queen in her own Kingdom.

When hark ye, yet a sound of trumpets, and bearing a supplication Master, the Scarlet Knight. This they present to they kneel before her as the trumpets—see ye, A trance!

Before him his Herald behind him, his Banner more Pages, comprising grandeur due the Scar own Court.

On bended knee he beg leave her dying King with him into his own.

He has his flowers, his Autumn Wind to dance loveliness. With pride these possessions.

Finally the Queen graciously gives him these glad tidings, Her His break into a dance then form a royal train Knight and his bride lovely new Kingdom of.

Thus Summer's But just the same in the while Summer's sunbees and Summer's attendants to their Queen and Zephyr them all; while Autumn bloom on and the least gorgeous tints.

Hark ye!—midst a Summer and her Scar happily ever after.

At the Sandhill Fair 18th, at 1:30 P. M.

HALLOWEEN

The Senior Class of the school entertained a party at the home of Thomas on Monday evening. Much fun was afforded telling contests, and

Each member of the dressed in appropriate costume and the party quite a ghostly procession visited the houses of the ring door bells and utter shrieks and moans. The goblins then returned as where refreshments and enjoyed after the making plain the fact ghosts have appetites satisfied.
