STOP, LOOK AND

All people who are in the future of the growing in the counties of Harnett Lee come to Lillington on day of January, 1922, and discussion on the subject protection, etc. We are at the apex of a national forest forest liability; which step of this paper intend to take step you take a picture and one is that of nature beauty of evergreen in full uniform is that of the broken members of young forest might have been giants. of the trees in No-Mans- be a comparison of the would meet your view. compiled by the United States Service and other sources that with the beginning upward trend of the large population human souls in this country beginning point of the trend of the national timber or the growth of young is estimated in DOLLARS 1,000,000 worth of timber smoke in the United States. When one stops to reason it seems unbelievable, but true of the state of the forest. In plain United States land are trifling with our industrial pinning. Without timber products, in time of war we are at the mercy of an enemy. war or peace we would be at the mercy of climatic conditions.

Since everybody needs a product we need to organize to protect what we have, and plans to grow it on our individual is a problem not easily solved what we need to help solve operation by our government Nation, State, County and then last, but not least, the who live in this country of chain is stronger than the link, so without co-operation we cannot stop forest fires neighbor does not co-operate we cannot succeed in this our neighboring counties operate we cannot succeed county lines.

Without co-operation we as well throw our energy and money to the waves of to try this. If one would to think how fast the timber vanishing we would be able things to light so that we a broader view of the must begin right now to protect timber supply we have, or will have the supply by with a down-hill pull. This is to stop forest fires, protect already have, and the protection foresting will take care of

It is estimated that the timber enough for manufacturing time, together with what growth for the next few last the nation's needs for With some protection, beginning now, it will last forty years longer, and with the attention given to reforestation nite period will be the answer

Let's not forget the day county and country-wide on the second day of January ton. Come one and all. Speaking speakers on the subject be heard, among them Mr. kus of Asheville, national spector; Mr. W. D. Clark, s
