Mrs. L. B. McKeithen and little daughter, Isabel are visiting Mrs. McKeithen's parents, Mr. and Mrs. Ritchie, of Clarkton.

Mr. M. D. McLean, Misses Chrissie and Vera McLean, the correspondent, Mr. and Mrs. D. W. McNeill, Miss Ada McNeill, Miss Mary McNeill, of Lee line went to Union, Sunday to hear Rev. R. A. McLeod, who preached a forceful sermon from the subject "What is it to believe?" Rev. McLeod was born and reared in the Little river section near Union. He went out from Union church as a minister of the Gospel. His parents and grandparents worshiped at Union church. At the close of his discourse, he announced that communion services would be held there the 2nd Sunday morning in November, and made an eloquent and touching appeal, that communion day at Union church might be made a home coming for all those who had gone out to other churches to Carthage, Cameron, Vass, Eureka, Lakeview and Manley. He said in part: Come back for a reunion to this old mother church where our ancestors worshipped and are buried; that it would be a moral uplift to the people and stimulate the church spiritually. And why shouldn't there be a home coming, when conveyances are quick and accessible? Oh, the sweet and sacred memories that cling around th dear old mother church! Where so many loved ones are sleeping in God's Acre.

BIG RAID

Last Wednesday officers Lineberry and Marlette captured a 100-gallon capacity still and 26 gallons of whiskey between Carthage and West End on the old Currie place.

This thing of striving after money always seems especially wicked to the fellow who can't get any.
