

LAKEVIEW

Mr. and Mrs. Earl Kelly, of near Hamlet, were the guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Smith last Sunday.

Miss Frances Blue accompanied a party from Vass to Trinity College, Durham, last Tuesday.

An excellent sermon was preached by Rev. Charles Clark at the Union church last Sunday evening. He will preach again next Sunday evening at 8:00 o'clock.

Miss Elsie Coffey left last Thursday morning for Atlantic Beach, Florida, where she will spend the most of the summer with relatives.

The new swan boat will be ready for use in a few days. Swan is the correct name for the boat, too. It is a long double boat with a platform attached that will carry fifteen people very comfortably seated in bright red benches. At the head of it is a great, big, white swan that swims along very gracefully while it is being propelled by machinery. Come and take a ride on it. It's something quite unusual for Lakeview.

The Masons of Richmond and Moore counties had a picnic here last Friday. Altho not so many were present, it is said that the table creaked and groaned under its load of good things.

It is reported that Mr. A. J. Oldham has been better for the last few days. He is not yet out of danger and it will be a long while before he will be, but we hope for him the best.

Miss Helene Dougherty entertained at her home in Inglewood in honor of Miss Elsie Coffey, last week. Those present were: Misses Grace Gardner, Elsie Coffey, Loula and Johnnie Eastwood, Messrs. Herbert McInnis, David Coffey, L. L. Woolley, Mr. and Mrs. E. M. Aiken, Mr. and Mrs. M. P. Causey, and little Miss Evelyn Gardner. Everyone enjoyed the evening very much. Refreshments were served by the hostess assisted by her aunts, Misses Honoria and Katherine Brooks.

Miss Bernice Nye, of Hamlet, is spending this week with Miss Selma Smith.

Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Cooper, of Statesville, spent Tuesday afternoon with Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Coffey.

Messrs. David Coffey and Herbert McInnis spent Sunday in Sanford, most of their time being spent with Mr. A. J. Oldham at C. C. Hospital.

Mr. Holt Gardner, of Pinehurst, Mr. and Mrs. P. L. Gardner were the dinner guests of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Holland, Sunday.

Mr. Teague, of Hamlet, the relief operator here, spent Tuesday in Raleigh.

Mrs. E. M. Aiken had as a guest this week, Miss Josephine Foy, of Wilmington.

Mr. Angus McQueen was in town Monday, the dinner guest of Mrs. J. R. McQueen.

Master Dallas Causey spent last week-end with his cousin, Master Sidney Dyer, of Marston.

Mrs. J. R. McQueen, Mrs. D. McNeill, and Miss Pearl McNeill motored to Pinehurst, Tuesday.

Mr. J. R. McQueen made a very interesting talk at the Union Sunday School Convention at Pinehurst, Sunday evening.

Mr. and Mrs. Thompson and family, of Hamlet, spent Saturday here, fishing. Mr. Thompson caught fifteen perch, or so it is reported. Who said that there wasn't any fish in our lake?

Mr. F. M. Dwight spent Tuesday afternoon in Carthage and Cameron, on business. Ahem! Big business here now.

Mrs. R. W. Woodard and sons, Edward and Marvin, spent the latter part of last week in Goldsboro.

Mr. M. F. O'Connell, Jr., left for his home in New York last Wednesday. We hate to see the long faces of the certain young ladies, but there is one consolation, "There's plenty more fish in the sea."

Traffic is getting to be something noticeable of late. Whither people are going we do not know but it seems to me it would be a very extraordinarily busy world if all the cars were bound thither on business. Last Sunday afternoon J. B. Eastwood counted 113 cars in one hour. That is, on the national highway, not mentioning other little roads. Certainly, and all this happened on SUNDAY, too, with an average of three persons to the car. Who says the world is getting poorer and walking?

Woolley-Gilmore

Quite a beautiful, yet simple wedding was solemnized at the home of Mr. and Mrs. R. A. Holland last Tuesday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock, when Mr. Lloyd Lester Woolley and Miss Katheleen Gilmore, both of Birmingham, Ala., were joined in the holy bonds of wedlock by Rev. Charles Clark, of Carthage. The ring ceremony was used, making a very impressive wedding.

Mr. Randolph Craig and Miss Grace Gardner acted as best man and bridesmaid, respectively.

The bride was dressed in a very attractive gown of black canton crepe with a touch of blue. She came up to specifications in brides' attire, as "something old, something new, something borrowed, something blue," is supposed to be good luck for brides.

The bridesmaid also wore black with a touch of orange. Both bride and bridesmaid were brunettes and the dresses worn were very becoming and charming.

The living room was decorated in pine and American beauty roses, and the bride's chamber was set off beautifully by sweet peas.

The bridegroom is a young man of sterling qualities, and since he has been here has won a high place in the opinion of the people.

The bride though not yet very well known seems to be a very attractive and clever girl.

They will remain here for some time, and surely they are welcome.

PINEHURST

The community of Pinehurst enjoyed entertaining the County Sunday School Convention very much. The convention was a great success, both in numbers and the good addresses.

Miss Flora Davis, Associate Superintendent of North Carolina Sunday School Association, gave four addresses, the subjects of which were quite varied. In her address on "The Wide-awake Sunday School" she gave five tests by which we can determine whether or not a school is awake; namely: (1) It must have a definite social program, (2) definite membership campaign, (3) good equipment, (4) efficient teachers, and (5) it must win the souls of its students to Christ.

Two other very interesting addresses were given by Mr. J. M. Broughton, Raleigh. His subjects were "Objectives for Objectors," and "The Sunday School as a Life Investment." On the latter subject he emphasized the fact that it is not so hard to get people to do work but to find work for them to do. "I have never known a man or woman," he said, "who would not work willingly if asked to do something for which they had talent. Never ask a man to lead the music when you know he can't sing a note, but make it your business, if you're an official of a Sunday School, to find something that he can do and put him at it." He said that everyone who joins any kind of an organization likes to have something to do.

Other interesting talks were given by Rev. R. G. Matheson, of Jackson Springs, on "The Young People; How to Interest and Hold Them in the Sunday School"; and by Mr. J. R. McQueen, of Lakeview, on "The Sunday School Teacher that Makes Good;" and by Rev. George W. Hanna, of Pinehurst, on "The Most Important Work of the Sunday School-Evangelism." In his talk Mr. McQueen emphasized the fact that a teacher must know his own lesson before he can teach it, must be able to hold his class as well as get it in the beginning, and must strive not only to teach his students but to lead them to Christ.

Numerous pieces were sung by voices from the Pinehurst chorus choir, consisting of a sextette, duets and solos.

The county superintendent who has been elected for the ensuing year is J. Bruce Cameron, of Pinehurst, and next year's convention will be held with the Methodists at Vass. The county greatly appreciates this invitation to Vass. Jackson Springs Presbyterian Sunday School won the pennant for the largest average attendance multiplied by the number of miles traveled to the convention. They had forty-four present and traveled eleven miles.

Hard showers Saturday night laid the dust so that the weather Sunday was fine for the convention. The showers made the crowd on the first night rather small, but a large number were in attendance all day Sunday. At noon on Sunday dinner was served on the grounds, picnic style. The twelve tables arranged to hold the good things were bountifully filled and a large crowd was well fed.

Rev. George W. Hanna, pastor of the Presbyterian church, has accepted a call to a large country congregation at Antioch, near Red Springs. He will take up his work at that place the first of June.

Miss Butler, of Hamlet, was the week-end guest of Miss Mabel Kelly.

A message announcing the death of Mrs. R. Pyron came as a great shock to her many friends in Pinehurst. Mr. and Mrs. Pyron have lived in Pinehurst for a number of years. Mrs. Pyron was making an extended visit to her home in Cartersville, Ga., and died very suddenly on Saturday, May 24th. It is probable that both the funeral and burial services will be held at her home. Sincerest sympathy is extended to the loved ones of the deceased by the people of this community.

SAVE BEST SMALL GRAIN FOR SEED NEXT FALL

The yield and quality of the oat, rye and wheat crop next winter will depend largely upon the quality of seed saved this spring. At the present time no county in North Carolina is producing sufficient good small grain seed to supply its local demands.

"This means," says Dr. R. Y. Winters, plant breeding Agronomist of the North Carolina State College of Agriculture, "that we are either planting inferior seed or purchasing seed from outside of the State. The results of several years careful study indicates that home-grown seed are best. The home-grown seed wheat has yielded nearly four bushels per acre more than the same variety brought in from further north.

"During the past season fall-sown oats were badly killed. This means that good seed oats will likely be scarce this fall. Every effort should be used to save for seed all fields that escaped the cold and are from sufficiently good stock to warrant their use for seed purposes. In some sections where oats have failed there will be considerable increase in barley because of its resistance to cold. In certain sections of the Piedmont region barley has already become popular as a grain feed for cattle. The quality of barley seed generally used in the State is poor and efforts should be made this summer and early fall to secure better strains.

"A large quantity of Abruzzi rye was brought into the State last fall. Those who secured good quality southern-grown Abruzzi are pleased with the results. A large number have been disappointed because the seed purchased was not the true. Abruzzi Those who have secured seed from reliable sources and have a good crop should make every effort to save seed at least for their own plantings."

Dr. Winters states that this is a good time to go over small grain fields that are to be harvested for seed purposes and weed out all mixtures of other grains or weeds. It is easier to take out these mixtures now, he thinks, than to wait until after the crop is threshed. If certain portions of the fields are badly mixed with other grain or weeds, just cut this portion for hay or leave it out of the lot to be saved for seed. Mixed seed are difficult to sell except for grazing purposes, and such seed bring a much smaller price than pure, well cleaned seed.
