

LAKEVIEW

Junior Banquet

On Tuesday evening of last week, the Junior Order, of Vass and Lakeview held a very successful and delightful banquet at the New Dining room here, in honor of their own organization and its purposes.

The banquet began with a grapefruit cocktail but as the event continues I lost count, so many were the excellent foods set before us.

The dining room was tastefully decorated in the Junior colors, red, white and blue. Back of the head of the long table, hung the American Flag, under which was placed the symbol of the Junior Order.

This event was the first to be given in the new dining hall—and if all the rest of the banquets booked prove as good as this one—no one need to fear for the popularity of the New Lakeview.
