KIWANIS CLUB TAKES CARTHAGE

Meets at the County Capital
With Many Local Guests.

One of the most significant meets of the Kiwanis Club was held Wednesday in Carthage where dinner was served by the women's organization, and a large number of local citizens were visitors at the table. U L Spence expressed his approval of the invasion of the county seat by the club, and spoke of the work that is done by this bunch of men for the common county welfare, and intimated that the impression made will stimulate a more helpful attitude on the part of Carthage which has been watching Kiwanis successes for some time.

Judge Way had with him Judge Drew of Pittsburgh, who confessed that he was impressed by what he had seen in a few days since dropping down with the Way household at Mid-Pines, and he promises to come back shortly when Pittsburgh is in condition to let the judges get away longer at a time. This climate and surroundings, and hotels, and charms of all sorts strike the Pennsylvania folks along about this time of the year, and Judge Drew wants more.

Tom Bost, of Raleigh, talked a little about the responsibility of the citizen in government affairs. He took for his text the 300,000 voters who were out to election Tuesday, instead of the 800,000 who should have been out, and deplored the indifference to their debt to good government that the average man and woman shows. He thinks the enthusiasm of women coming into politics six years ago and the lack of enthusiasm now, when we are the lowest in enthusiasm pos-

N. C. BLUE

DEATH OF NEILL CALVIN BLUE

On the afternoon of November 2nd, Neill Calvin Blue, a much loved and respected citizen of Eureka community passed to his reward. Mr. Blue's death was not unexpected, as he was in his 88th year and had been in declining health for some time.

Mr. Blue has lived in Moore County all of his life and leaves the record of a useful, energetic life, full of enthusiastic interest in his county and community. His grandfather came over from Argyleshire, Scotland, about the year 1795, and located in Moore County on the farm now owned by John and Danny Blue. His father, who was born in 1804, lived on this same farm during his entire life, and here Neill Calvin Blue was born on January 18, 1839, within two miles of the farm upon which he lived and died.

Mr. Blue was a life long Presbyterian and Democrat and his death marks the passing of one of the few remaining Confederate Veterans.

In 1862, the second year of the war between the States, Mr. Blue volunteered for service in Company D, 49th Regiment of Moore County volunteers. The regiment was commanded by "Bob" Ransom, and company D

ARMISTICE DAY AT SANFORD

Elaborate Program Prepared By
Lee Post No. 18, Who Will Entertain Legionnaires.

Sanford, Nov. 3—Big parade, football game, dance, speaking and an archery contest will be some of the main features for the Armistice Day celebration at Sanford on November 11th, sponsored by Lee Post No. 18, American Legion and ably assisted by the Lee County Chamber of Commerce, Kiwanis and Rotary Clubs and by the Legion Posts throughout Lee, Moore, and Chatham counties and a part of Harnett.

The final touches will be applied to the program on next Monday night, but the people are assured of the following tentative program: big parade with floats, decorated automobiles, two bands, veterans from all the wars that are now living, and many other features that make a good parade. A K. Miller has charge of this part of the program and he welcomes other entries.

After the parade the Raeford Anti-Aircraft company at Raeford will battle the Sanford All-Stars in a football game on the High School gridiron. Among the stars for the local team will be Al Johnston, ex-Tech star, and others from the high school team that battled Charlotte for the State honors and they assure us a real scrap.

Between the halves of the game the Archery company from Pinehurst will give an Archery demonstration featuring the lady champion of the world. This team is a new feature and is well worth seeing.

At six o'clock in the evening all ex-service men are invited to a barbecue provided by the local post.

Beginning at eight o'clock the an-

SEABOARD ERECTS TANK AT VASS

For several days a work train has been on one of our side tracks, the crews being engaged in the erection of a large water tank near the depot.

Shortage of water at other points along the line compelled this improvement. Pumping station is located at Little River and an adequate supply of water will be available at all times.

STILL THEY SELL ON WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS

This week Richardson's agency sold lot number 218 on Weymouth Heights in Southern Pines. The location is in the vicinity of the Olmstead home and is another of that group that is pushing out toward the Mudgett neighborhood. L H Cherry is the buyer. A number of new homes are in the talk stage up in that part of the town, and a substantial type of construction is considered for every one of them.

REGULAR MEETING AL. MOORE D. A. R.

To Select Name For Chapter of Children of American Revolution.

The Alfred Moore Chapter, D. A. R., held its regular monthly meeting Tuesday afternoon at the home of Mrs. Edwin McKeithen, Aberdeen, with Mrs. P. P. McCain as joint hostess. The Regent, Mrs. Tyson, presided; A large attendance responded to roll call with patriotic quotations and two new members, Mrs. Lila Barnwell, Hendersonville, and Mrs. Ella Seawell of Carthage, welcomed into the chapter. The members were asked by Mrs. Everest to aid her in selecting a name for the Chapter of the Children of the American Revolution now being organized by her. A committee was appointed to consider the advisability of purchasing Colonel Austin's historic home built during the Revolution and the chapter is considering ways and means by which the home may be preserved. Mrs. McKeithen and Mrs. Campbell read interesting papers. The first entitled The Mecklenburg Declaration of Independence and the second North Carolina signers of the National Declaration of Independence. After adjournment delicious refreshments were served by the two hostesses.

Vass and Community

Mrs. D. A. Cameron

The passing of Mrs. D. A. Cameron at her home here on last Friday night came as a shock to her relatives and friends. Mrs. Cameron had not been real well for more than a year, but was able to attend to her duties, and although she felt worse than usual last week, her condition was not considered grave until Friday. The funeral service was held at the home on Saturday afternoon, and was conducted by Rev. W. V. McRae, of the Methodist Church, and Rev. Dougald Monroe, of the Presbyterian Church. Several songs were sung, among them being "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," which was sung as a duet by Mrs. W. B. Graham and Mr. Weathers. A large number were present for the funeral service and also for the burial which was in Johnson's Grove cemetery. The grave was banked with beautiful flowers.

The deceased, before marriage, was Miss Mary Ellen Garner, a native of Moore county. She was born January 16, 1868. In young womanhood she was united in marriage to D. A. Cameron, also of Moore county. Mrs. Cameron was a member of the Vass Methodist church, a good neighbor, a faithful wife and mother. She leaves as a monument to her life's work six fine Christian daughters who are living lives of usefulness.

Serviving are the husband, two brothers, G W, and J M Garner, of this community, one sister, Mrs. A L Beal, of Greenboro, and the six daughters, Misses Bertha, Agnes, Margaret, Myrtle, Mabel and Lena Cameron.

A number of very attractive spooks and witches from Cameron were in town Saturday evening.

Miss Lizzie Jones most delightfully entertained the members of her Sunday School class at a Hallowe'en party, Saturday evening.

Rev. and Mrs. D. McD. Monroe and baby, Margaret, Mrs. R. G Rosser, Mrs. N. N. McLean and James Ray McLean spent Friday afternoon in Fayetteville.

With Our Sick Folks.

We are so glad to report good news about three of our people who have been sick for a long time. Mrs. J M Tyson is improving; Mrs. John B. Cameron, although she is unable to walk, is feeling better than at any time since she got sick many months ago. Mr. J. R. Thomas is obeying orders and staying in bed, and is being

GAME LAWS ARE BEING DISCUSSED

Mecklenburg Man Would Have
State Wide Game Bill
Enforced.

The following copies of letters exchanged by a citizen of Mecklenburg County and Leonard Tufts, chairman of the Moore County Game Commission, might be of interest to our readers. At any rate, they show something of what is on both sides of the shield:

October 6, 1926.

"My dear Mr Tufts:
"I am enclosing you a few copies of decision of Supreme Court and trust you will read carefully. You will note the court holds any law unconstitutional where any county charges a non-resident of said county but a resident of the State, a higher license to hunt than a resident of said county. You will also note court holds game belongs to the state and not land owner, also court holds the state has a right to pass a law prohibiting a non-resident of North Carolina from hunting in the State. Now don't you think it about time to pass a state wide game bill with warden to protect our game? Would be glad to hear from you and since the court has declared county laws unconstitutional we should get proper laws at once for protection before it is too late"

October 7, 1926.

Dear Mr—
Your letter of the 6th received and I appreciate that our law which calls for anybody not living in Moore county to pay a non-resident hunting license is unconstitutional but from all that I can learn it doesn't affect the rest of our Moore County law at all. It simply means that a resident of Mecklenburg can shoot in Moore County for the same fee that a resident of Moore County can shoot in Moore for. The more I see of State
