No More Hot Attics

Keep heat out this way
at little cost—

YOU know how hot an attic can get toward the end of a sweltering summer day. It seems to absorb heat like a sponge.

No wonder upstairs rooms are so hot and stuffy . . . hard to sleep in . . . on summer nights.

But you need not put up with that discomfort this summer. There is an easy way to keep heat out.

Simply line your attic with Celotex Insulating Lumber. Celotex does what no ordinary wood, roofing materials, etc. can possibly do. It practically stops heat.

Celotex is manufactured from tough cane fibre. It is 4' wide; 8' to 12' long; 7-16" thick; weighs about 60 lbs. per 100 sq. ft.

It will keep your house refreshingly cool through even the hottest weather. And in winter, it will keep your furnace heat in . . . adding comfort . . . saving fuel.

The extra livable room that a Celotex lining will make of your old attic is alone worth the small cost.

We will be glad to show you how little it would cost to secure this comfort for your home.
