

LEONARD TUFTS CALLS MEETING

Moore County Game Commission to Convene at Carthage December 21.

The Pilot,
Vass,
N. C.

I shall appreciate your giving space to a notice in this week's issue of The Pilot as follows:

"The Moore County Game Commission has been functioning now for about two years and during that time they have devoted their energies to the protection of the game and the enforcement of the game laws. A public meeting will be held in Carthage at the Court House on Tuesday, the 21st of December, at 11:30 a. m. The purpose of this meeting is to receive suggestions for any changes in the operation of the commission that may seem advisable or any changes in the law that it seems we should ask our representative to present to the next Legislature."

Very truly yours,
LEONARD TUFTS.

Chairman Moore County Game Commission.

PINEHURST KIWANIS CLUB

Arrange for Christmas Baskets—Confer With State Chairman in Making Double Road So. Pines-Pinehurst

The Kiwanis club met at the Manor as Pinehurst Wednesday. The chief event of the occasion seemed to be the remarkable reception Rev. Murdoch McLeod had received at the meeting of the state moving picture men at Charlotte the first of the week, where he had given an address that so impressed his hearers that he was asked for copies that it might be reproduced in the papers of the state and elsewhere. Charlie Picquet, who was re-elected president of the association was emphatic in his praise of Mr. McLeod's talk.

The club arranged for Christmas baskets for a number of the needy persons within the club territory, Dr. Poate being appointed head of a committee to do the work.

A committee headed by Leonard Tufts will visit Ellwood Cox at High Point this week to confer with him in making the double road from Southern Pines to Pinehurst a branch of the state system, as it is one of the most highly traveled roads of this section.

A lot of amusement was furnished the club by the classification by each member of the one who sat next him. A new light was afforded in some cases, but all squared up to the qualifications.

COMMUNICATION

To the Editor of The Pilot,
Vass, N. C.

Dear Sir:

Please accept my congratulations upon your editorial in last week's paper, in which you expressed your opinion as to the importance of good schools in rural sections. I agree with you that we need to rid ourselves of some of the ever-increasing burden of taxes, but we certainly should not begin our reductions with the schools.

Personally, I favor an eight month term for every rural boy and girl. There are, I believe, several good reasons for having an eight month term. First of all, with an eight month term, the farmers' child can secure a high school education before he becomes old enough to do much work on the farm, while with a six month term it is necessary for him to be in school a longer period of time, thus losing several years of productive usefulness. Secondly, the sooner the high school education has been secured the more useful the child becomes on the farm, in that he is bringing to the farm a trained mind. The rural sections are ever handicapped for lack of leadership. With the six month term the time of training is prolonged to such an extent that the boys and girls are compelled to drop out of school and go to work with inadequate training.

We are told that three-fourths of the business men that hold the cities and towns together were reared on the farm. Our best educated boys and girls drift to the cities, due to the fact that the farm offers no special inducement for a life's work. Before we can demand and secure just co-operation from our competitors, we must be equally educated. This calls for a school term longer than six months. We can never hope to succeed on the farm until we educate the rural population to the extent that they can intelligently cope with the better trained man.

Our representatives will undoubtedly have the opportunity to express themselves along school matters this winter. I can see no plausible objection to the passage of a bill permitting the people of North Carolina to vote on an eight month term for the entire state.

I do not believe that the outcome of our Moore county school election in April means that Moore county does not favor a longer school term. Local problems caused many men and women who favor a longer school term to vote against the changes proposed for Moore county. Opposition to a uniform school tax is not necessarily opposition to an eight month term.

It is my sincere hope that tax reductions will be forthcoming at an early date, but let's not interfere with our schools; reduce anything rather progress, and it is essential to provide sufficient funds for efficient than school appropriations. Good schools are our greatest factor for school management.

Yours for greater progress through better schools with longer terms.

Z. V. BLUE.

Note this actual test. It proves something of interest to every home builder or buyer.

A box is divided in half by a layer of Celotex Insulating Lumber.

The right half of the box is heated by an electric lamp, to 179°.

At the end of an hour, the left half is only 77°—102° cooler.

HOW CELOTEX STOPS HEAT

Interesting test shows results of building with insulating lumber

In the roof and walls of a house, Celotex does the same thing as in the test above. It keeps out the hot rays of the beating sun in summer. And keeps in precious furnace heat in winter.

Results: a cozy warmth in the bitterest winter weather, a refreshing coolness throughout a hot summer... one-third less fuel cost... greater security... longer life... less upkeep expense.

This remarkable insulating lumber is one of the greatest contributions ever made to home comfort and economy.

Celotex is made from the tough fibres of cane. It comes in stock sizes: 4' wide, 8' to 12' long, 7/16" thick. It weighs about 60 lbs. per 100 sq. ft.

Look ahead! By all means let us give you all the facts before you build or buy. Celotex advantages cost little or nothing more than ordinary, heat-leaking construction.
