Elizabeth and Emily Teague, little daughters of Mr. and Mrs. D. B. Teague, of Sanford, gave the Correspondent a pleasant call last week.

In last week's copy of the Moore County News, an interesting letter by W. J. Adams, Jr., on Moore County's interesting past, he writes of the first telephone line from Cameron to Carthage. That recalls an incident at that time that isn't tradition, but truth. An old lady of an inquiring mind, who lived between Cameron and Carthage, passed along one day when the men were at work. Having heard about the telephone she said: "Do you mean to tell me that a man can stand at one end of that line and talk to another man at the other end?" On being told it was a fact, she replied: "Well, if Preacher McQueen tells me that it can be done, I'll believe it, but not before."

John C. Ferguson, of State College, spent the week end at home.

Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McLean and Margaret, called Saturday evening at Jonesboro, to see Mrs. Parrot Hardee and little daughter of Florida. Mrs. Hardee was formerly Miss Burdette Joyner. She has a host of friends in Cameron.

Miss Mary Lacy McIver, from near Sanford, is a guest this week of Miss Flora Phillips.

Mrs. D. W. McNeill attended the Knight reunion at Lakeview Thursday.

Mrs. Janie Muse and daughter, Miss Bonnie, who recently returned from a visit to Mr. and Mrs. E. T. Muse, Mr. and Mrs. Tell, of Ridgeland, Jasper County, S. C., brought back some moss that grew at the home of Thomas Heyward, Jr., one of the signers of the Declaration of Independence, and said to be the only one of the signers who took up the sword. His grave is about eight miles from Ridgeway. The ruins of this stately mansion lie at the head of an avenue of stately live oaks. Here were entertained Washington, LaFayette and other notables. Jasper County is named for the Revolutionary hero, Sergeant Jasper. It is generally believed that he is buried in the old Swiss cemetery at Perrysburg, on the banks of the Savannah River.

At the last meeting of the John McNeill Society, the Society presented Rev and Mrs. McNeill with a handsome gate-leg mahogany table, accompanied by the following note: "Love and appreciation were the motives that prompted this gift.

Love, because you first loved us. Love, because we have ever felt the sweet influence of your beautiful lives, which have filled the whole atmosphere of our town and community with its rare and matchless perfume. Appreciation, because you have inspired us with noble thoughts and have taught us by precept and example to value that which is pure, noble and God-like!

With love from every member of The John McNeill Memorial, August 2, 1927."

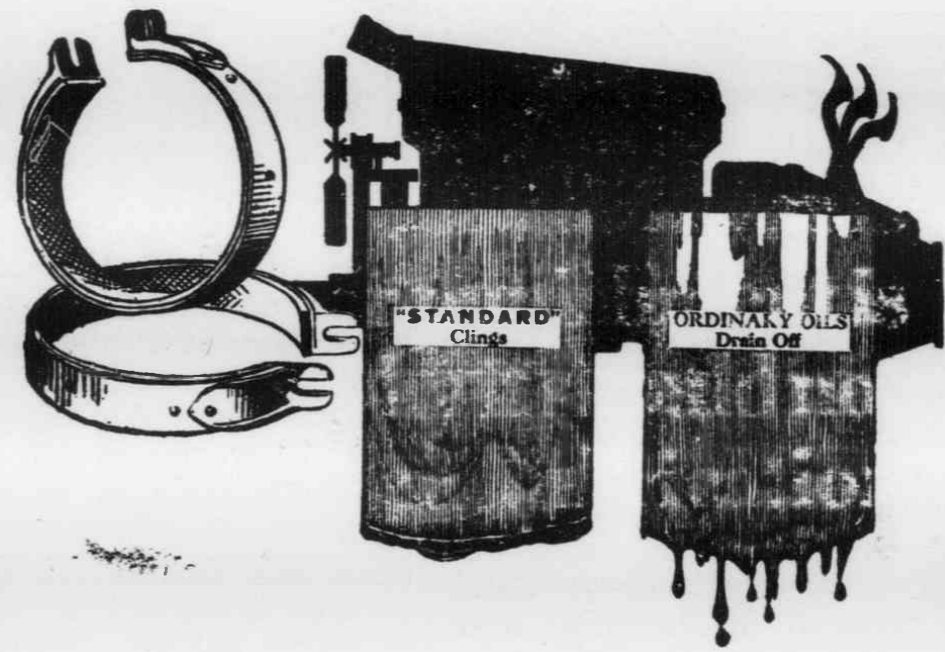

Response of Rev. M. D. McNeill to the John McNeill Society: There are times and occasions in our lives when words utterly fail to convey or adequately express our feelings, especially when those feelings are our tenderest and most sacred. The table itself is a rare beauty, and will be very, very useful. We prize it highly, and will keep it with tender care. We thank the Society, to us a great society. We are interested in every one of its members. And we thank every one most sincerely. The note in presenting the gift, is also a rare gem in expression and sentiment which we profoundly appreciate. Thanking you every one and praying that you may be blessed and be a blessing. Yours with many thanks. M. D. McNeill.

Owing to a break in the program for "Stunt" night's entertainment by the Woman's Club, it began to look like a curtailing of stunts. However, Mrs. H. P. McPherson, the president, who is a resourceful body, called out the Junior Reserves, and a member or two of the Home Guard, to fill out the missing links in the stunt chain. Follows a part of the program. Some classical music of a high order and very beautiful, by Mrs. Warren G. Ferguson and Mademoiselle Mallasaue and Miss Kate

No other motor oil meets the Ford car's two-fold lubrication needs so completely and efficiently as does "Standard" Motor Oil

The smoothest motor operation is possible only with "Standard" Motor Oil for Fords. It splashes freely to every moving part, clings to bearing surfaces, does a thorough job of lubrication. With "Standard" in your crankcase you can actually feel the difference.
