A TAX ON MORE SALES.

The News and Observer cites the success of the tax on the sale of gasoline and suggests that a tax on the sale of other things would stand looking into.

This is neither a state nor a nation that objects to pay legitimate taxes to take care of legitimate needs. People spend money enough without thought of the amount to provide for all the public needs, and will admit further public collections if those collections are laid on the things that can stand the payment.

PROHIBITION IN NORTH CAROLINA.

North Carolina is a prohibition State, prohibition because its people voluntarily chose to bar intoxicating liquor, and before and without the influence of the other states.

hardly exert itself to prevent New York whisky from crossing into North Carolina. The whole task would be a state task, and states are small units to undertake to stop illicit interstate commerce.

North Carolina has trouble enough now to prevent the sale of whisky. The trouble would be greater if other states could make and sell liquor lawfully again. And that is one reason why North Carolina will not be favorable to any measure that might have for its aim to permit other states to make and sell intoxicants.

THAT SOUTHERN PINES PARK.

The Pilot has referred to the proposed park at Southern Pines on the road down the hill to McDeed's Creek and Knollwood. While the idea is not new it is brought to life again, and with more or less enthusiasm.

The swiftness of the development over at Knollwood indicates that another movement for development closer to Southern Pines would meet with a rapid response, and the example of many new homes of high character in the Knollwood project foreshadows what can be expected when the land west of the creek is brought into the market.

There is no doubt that from now on the whole community around Southern Pines is destined to grow on a basis broader than any of us have suspected. That has been the case for years. We are going faster now than ever, but we will go still faster from year to year.

VASS AND COMMUNITY.

at her home on Tuesday evening for the regular monthly business and social meeting.

Mrs. Smith selected Psalm 149 for the Scripture lesson, after which prayer was offered by the Circle Chairman, Mrs. W. C. Leslie.

A general discussion of Circle activities was held and encouraging reports made.

During a most delightful social hour two very interesting and instructive contests were enjoyed. Mrs. W.

C. Leslie was given a hand embroidered guest towel for being able to answer the greatest number of Bible questions, and Mrs. H. A. Borst a dainty handkerchief in a word speed contest.

The hostess was assisted by Misses Mary Smith and Eva Callahan in serving refreshments of lemonade, ice cream and cake.

Circle One Meets With Mrs. J. M. Thompson.

The regular monthly meeting of Circle One of the Methodist Auxiliary was held on Tuesday evening at the home of Mrs. J. M. Thompson.

Mrs. Thompson had arranged a very interesting program for the evening. A Scripture lesson was read by the leader and this was followed by prayer in unison.

Next came a general discussion of the Circle's work.

The social hour was crowded with contests, jokes and stunts which were entered into merrily. The winners were Mrs. W. J. Cameron, Mrs. W. H. Keith and Mrs. George Barnhardt, and each was awarded a dainty prize.

The Circle members were delighted to have Mrs. George Barnhardt, of Sanford, the guest of Mrs. W. D. Matthews, as a visitor at the meeting.

PINEBLUFF

Mr. and Mrs. Deyo Key and little daughter, Helen, expect to leave this week for Missouri to visit Mr. Key's parents. They expect to spend a 30 days' vacation.

The cyclone that destroyed the little town of Ashley Heights last Thursday morning also swept down two of P. Cranford's tobacco barns by tearing them to pieces, the brick and foundations and the cement furnaces were destroyed also.
