

-Farm Notes-
(E. H. Garrison, County Agent)

Lespedeza Orders Still Coming In
Orders for Lespedeza seed are still coming in every day and it looks as though it will be necessary to make a further order. On the heavier types of soil, there are few crops that will excel Lespedeza as a cover crop. Farmers of Union and Stanly counties have found out long ago that farming poor land did not pay them. They are putting Lespedeza on the small grain in the spring, harvesting a crop of seed for next year's sowing, and in the end leaving a heavy crop of stems and leaves to go back into the soil. This land when planted to corn, following Lespedeza seldom fails to double the yields it has been making in previous years. Better place your order for enough to get you a supply of seed.

Pastures for Moore County
Almost any of our land in the county will produce some pasture but the better the land the better pasture we may expect. Land that is too rough to work for clean cultivated crops will often make excellent pasture, but the best quality and heaviest of the grazing will come from the best land.

Land in a good state of cultivation may be prepared by discing well least be disced but if this cannot be done, then burn the land over and sow the seed on the ashes as soon as they are cold.

Where possible an application of lime and some fertilizer should be used. We have found by experience that the grasses and clovers respond to good treatment just as well as other crops.

The following are some of the mixtures recommended for pastures in this section:

For well-drained clay and clay-loam soils:
Orchard grass	8 lbs.
Oat grass	4
Red Top	3
Kentucky Blue grass	2
Dallis grass	2
Alsike clover	2
White Dutch clover	1
Lespedeza	8
Total per acre	30
For Sandy Soils
Dallas grass	5 lbs.
Red Top	5
Oat grass	4
White Clover	2
Lespedeza	8
Total per acre	24
For Bottom Lands
Red Top	5 lbs.
Dallas grass	4
White clover	3
Lespedeza	10

A co-operative order will soon be made up for these seeds so see the county agent at once if you are interested.

Feed Orchard Trees

High grade fruit, either of peaches or apples, cannot be produced satisfactory, unless the trees are fertilized. The average farm orchard is too much neglected in this one feature.

Growers of peach trees should try to get a general growth of from 8 to 12 inches all over the tree and to keep the orchard in a healthy, vigorous condition. Mr. Morrow says the average peach tree should have two to three pounds of nitrate of soda or 6 to 10 pounds of a complete fertilizer during the season, depending on the fertility of the soil and the amount of fruit on the tree.

A good practice is to apply half the fertilizer about two or three weeks before the trees bloom and the remainder after the fruit has been set. Many growers, find Mr. Morrow, apply about 100 pounds per acre of a readily available nitrogen fertilizer, such as nitrate of soda, and then follow this with 400 to 500 pounds per acre of a complete fertilizer as soon as the crop has passed all danger from frost injury.

Methods of fertilizing apples are about the same as for peaches. However, the amount per tree is greater since the trees are further apart.

Corn Is Farmer's Money-Saving Crop

While corn may not be called a money-making crop, it does take high rank as a money-saving crop. The grower who spending his cotton and tobacco money for food and feed will find a good corn crop helpful in this respect.

"Home-grown corn will aid the crop farmer of North Carolina to save his cotton and tobacco money and for this reason alone, is one of the State's most important crops," declares G. M. Garren, cereal agronomist at State College.

The third way in which corn is important to North Carolina, says Mr. Garren, is as a feed crop for all kinds of livestock. Hogs fattened and butchered at home must have been fed corn for the production of the best grade of pork and lard. Fat hogs shipped to market must be corn-fed if the highest prices are to be secured.

Finally, says Mr. Garren, corn production should be increased but not by increased acreage. Enough acres are planted now. The increase should come by using better varieties, better fertilization and better cultivation so as to build up acre yields to where they will be profitable to the grower.

ANNIVERSARY WEEK AT THE CAROLINA THEATRES

Next week marks the anniversaries of the opening of the two new Carolina Theatres in Pinehurst and Southern Pines, the former being six years old and the latter five. During these years over seven hundred pictures have been presented. A record of these pictures has been kept which includes the reaction of our patrons to them and the checkup shows an average of 80 per cent good pictures. Some have been poor, some good and some extra good but always they have been the best that could be obtained at the time of presenting. A list of these pictures would prove very interesting reading to the many old patrons of the Carolinas but lack of space forbids. During these years there has been no let-up in the efforts of the management to procure pictures that would please and the future policy will be in no way changed.

The management had hoped to inaugurate the new sound equipment in Southern Pines during the anniversary week but it has been necessary to postpone this event for a few days. The sound situation has been chaotic.

Various and sundry equipment have been on the market but the quality of them has been questionable. Then too, certain producers have refused to allow their pictures run over certain equipments and the battle between the exponents of the sound-on-film method and the sound-on-disc method is still waging with good arguments on both sides. It will be another year before the sound situation is standardized. The Western Electric Vitaphone-Movietone combination has been impossible for the smaller theatres for two reasons. First the prohibitive cost and second, the impossibility of securing it on account of contracts made a long time in advance by the big city chain and key theatres. At this writing the only theatres equipped with Vitaphone-Movietone (they are a dual installation) in North Carolina are at Charlotte, Greensboro, Winston-Salem, Raleigh, Fayetteville, Greenville, Asheville, Gastonia and, perhaps one or two others of the larger cities. This, of course, made it necessary for the smaller theatres to seek equipment from the independent companies.

The Carolina Theatre at Southern Pines makes no claim to a Vitaphone or a Movietone equipment but it does claim a quality equipment.

The Friday and Saturday attraction at the Carolina Theatres is a story of the United States Marines, William Boyd, Alan Hales, Robert Armstrong and Fred Kohler, under the title of "The Leatherneck." It is a compelling drama woven into an entertaining pattern of thrilling adventure, natural humor and poignant romance. It combines the dash and camaraderie of the "Three Musketeers" with the exquisitely appealing heart interest of "Beau Geste." William Boyd, Allan Hale and Robert Armstrong are known as the Three Musketeers of the U. S. Marines in this production.

Monday and Tuesday brings us the European Production, "The Loves of Casanova" with two of Europe's most celebrated screen stars, Ivan Mosjoukine and Susanne Bianchetti, in the leading roles. This production is partly in Technicolor and is otherwise lavishly produced.

On Wednesday and Thursday, the picturization of that famous Saturday Evening Post Story, "The Bellamy Trial," will be presented with an exceptionally able cast including Leatrice Joy as "Sue Ives," Betty Bronson as the girl reporter, Margaret Livingston as Mim Bellamy, Charles B. Middleton as the District Attorney, supported in minor roles by Edward Nugent, Kenneth Thompson, Margaret Seddon and Charles Hill Mailes.

Here is the full answer to what takes place at a big murder trial, with every appeal of thrill, surprise, pathos, love interest and clash of local giants—the first film of its kind to grace the screen.

RECENT PROPERTY SALES ENLARGE THE WINTER COLONY AT PINEHURST

Business in the Statler Building, Boston, in which business he is associated with Mr. Harry H. Beckwith, owner of Hotel Wentworth, New Castle, N. H., also of a Talc Mine near Hemp in this state, and the further most important fact is that he is an ardent golfer and member of the Winter Golf League of Advertising Interest.

Mr. Murnan and his family recently spent several weeks at the Carolina hotel and a few days before leaving purchased two lots from Mrs. F. B. Richards of Cleveland, Ohio, thru the office of Harry B. Emery. Mr. Murnan has secured a most desirable location available in the village for a winter home and plans of a residence specially adapted for the site have been submitted to him for consideration. While it is not Mr. Murnan's present intention to build immediately, preferring perhaps to spend a winter here before doing so, it is thought that he will in the near future erect a very attractive home here and become permanently identified with Pinehurst and its activities.

One of the most recent property sales in Pinehurst is that of the Rose cottage, owned by the late George F. Blake of Worcester, Mass., to H. Chatfield of Dedham, Mass. Although Mr. Chatfield owns several other homes and firmly declared he would not buy an additional one until he sold one of his present properties, the lure of Pinehurst was too great and when the Rose cottage was made available by the death of Mr. Blake, it was only a matter of a few days before Mr. Chatfield became its owner. Mr. and Mrs. Chatfield are now living in the cottage and are already making additions and alterations which will give them one of the most desirably located and enjoyable winter homes in Pinehurst. Both Mr. and Mrs. Chatfield are ardent golfers whose scores will be found well within those limits which classify Pinehurst golfers as being much better than the average. Mr. Chatfield is a Princeton graduate of the Class of 1899 and with Mrs. Chatfield is already being warmly welcomed by the older members of the cottage colony.

Recent additions to the Pinehurst cottage colony include:

Mr. and Mrs. J. P. Williamson of Wilkes Barre, Pa., who have leased Rose cottage for the balance of the season. They have been coming to Pinehurst for many years and are now guests at the Carolina Hotel.

They will be warmly welcomed to the cottage colony and it is hoped that their experience this year may result in their becoming more permanently identified with Pinehurst in the near future.

Theodore S. Barber with Mrs. Barber and their daughter Amy, have leased Column Lodge which they are occupying for the balance of the season. The Barbers are intimate friends of the Williamsons and Mr Barber is a large coal operator and has other large interests in Wilkes Barre. They too will be warmly received by the cottage colony and are most valuable additions to it.

Word comes from the Tufts-Pender-Biddle outfit in Florida that the fishing is fine, but Pete thinks he is on the verge of another attack of "flu." All this is very sad, since Pete has already had his share of that disease this year and since he is chief cook and bottle washer and first mate for the whole party.

CARTHAGE

Meeting of Junior Aid

The Junior Ladies' Aid of the Methodist church met with Mrs. F. H. Underwood and Mrs. W. J. Harrington, joint hostesses, at the attractive new home of Mrs. Underwood on Pinehurst Drive, Monday evening, February 11. In keeping with the spirit of the Valentine season, love was the theme. Very impressive devotional exercises were conducted by the president, Mrs. Underwood. Twenty-three members responded to roll call with verses of Scripture on love, which had been arranged by the hostess. Miss Margaret Blair read an interesting paper on the origin of St. Valentine. This was followed by a beautiful piano solo, Nevin's "Venetian Love Song," rendered by Mrs. Herbert Pool. Mrs. Wilburn Shields gave two readings. The program committee had arranged Valentine telegrams to be written to the "shut-ins" of the church, those were written, read and enjoyed very much.

Monthly Meeting of Auxiliary

The Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church met in the ladies parlor, in regular monthly session, Monday afternoon, February 18, at three thirty. The attendance was good, twenty-two members being present.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. F. S. Blue, Mrs. S. F. Cole presided. The devotional was conducted by Mrs. Cole, reading the 1st Psalm, followed by sentence prayer. Song, "Light up the World for Jesus," was sung. The reports from the different circles were very good indeed, Circle No. Four is doing some social service work, that is very encouraging.

There were two interesting letters read from Mr. and Mrs. Worth, written to Mr. and Mrs. Frank Blue, also Mr. and Mrs. Sugg. The self denial envelopes were collected, and the amount was $20 or more.

Honor Mr. and Mrs. Golden

One of the most delightful affairs of the winter social season of Carthage, was the reception given at the home of Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Welch, on Pinehurst Boulevard, Thursday evening, of last week, by the Auxiliary of the Presbyterian Church, honoring their new pastor and his wife, Mr. and Mrs. Golden, who have come to Carthage from Richmond, to live. The lovely home of Mrs. Welch, was made more attractive by the bright decorations, which carried out the Valentine motif.

The guests were met at the door by Mrs. J. L. Currie and Mrs. Mollie Person and were introduced to the receiving line. Those receiving were Mr. and Mrs. O. B. Welch, Mr. and Mrs. Golden, Mrs. Frank Blue, Mrs. Chas. Barranger, Mrs. Nelia Black, Mrs. Walton Sugg, Mrs. G. C. Graves, Wilbur Currie, Leo McDonald, Miss Anna Howell and Miss Margaret McLeod received in the dining room.

Music was enjoyed throughout the evening, Mrs. M. G. Dalrymple and Mrs. L. R. Sugg at the piano and Miss Johnnie Redding singing several songs that were very appropriate.

An iced course was served during the evening. Those serving were Mrs. Penn, Misses Augusta, Norman and Francis McKeithen and Mrs. L. P. Tyson. There were about fifty guests called to meet Mr. and Mrs. Golden. Mrs. Cole and Mrs. Dowd bade the guests goodbye at the door.

Missionary Society with Mrs. Downing

The Missionary society of the Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. J. G. Downing Monday afternoon. The theme for the evening was "Stewardship." Interesting papers were read by Mrs. Charles Sinclair, Mrs. Fannie Shaw, Mrs. Colin Spencer and Mrs. L. L. Marrion.

The society was pleased to have Mrs. L. L. Marrion, as a new member. Mrs. J. P. Sinclair assisted the hostess in serving sandwiches and iced grape juice. The next meeting will be at the home of Mrs. Colin Spencer.

Has Dinner Guests

Mrs. J. L. Owens and Miss Louise Owens, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Spain and children all of Charlotte, motored up from that city Sunday afternoon, and had six o'clock dinner with Mr. and Mrs. J. G. Downing, returning to Charlotte that evening.

Mrs. Janie Tyson has been quite ill for the past several days, but is doing nicely at present, her friends will be pleased to know.

Dr. Blue returned from Charlotte Sanatorium Tuesday, with the news that Hon. H. F. Seawell, who has just had an operation, is doing nicely, and stood the operation very well.

E. C. Matherson of Eagle Springs was in town Tuesday. Mrs. McGraw, Mrs. L. P. Tyson, Miss Williams and Miss Blair attended the D. A. R. meeting in Southern Pines at the Jefferson inn, last Tuesday.

Mrs. W. T. Jones is at home after spending the most of the winter in Charlotte.

Mr. and Mrs. Stephen Kennedy and little Francis Winston, of Charlotte, spent the week-end with Misses May and Bess Stuart.
