Hunters Leave After a Successful Season

Express Cars Take Horses North — Laing Reports Big Sales During Winter

Several express cars laden with horses left for the north during the past week. These were mostly hunters sent here during the season for the use of sportsmen riding with the Boyd hounds at Southern Pines. Among those who have departed after a most successful hunting season are Mr. and Mrs. Martin H. Knapp of Cazenovia, N. Y., Ernest I. White of Fayetteville, N. Y., William Hostetter of New York and James S. Wadsworth of Geneseo, N. Y. Many of the Laing horses from the Halcyon Hall stables at Southern Pines have also been shipped to Mr. Laing's Virginia farm, but Mr. and Mrs. Laing remain for several weeks yet and Mr. Laing has a large number of horses still available for his hunters during the season just closed.

D. Bauer's Galiano Wins President's Cup

Lots of Excitement for Last Meeting of Season at the Jockey Club.

The eleventh and last meet of the Pinehurst Jockey Club Wednesday was brought to a fitting close with the Eighth Annual Seven Furlong race for the President's Cup. J. J. Kenney's Pere Rhue got away to a fast start, holding his place in the lead until rounding the last turn where D. Bauer's Galiano galloped easily to the front from third place and won the race by a wide margin. Seven furlongs was too much for Pere Rhue and he finished last, J. J. Kenney's Oowah taking second money.

The Seventh Annual Peach Blossom pace furnished not a little excitement when Herman Tyson's The Judge won both heats from Hal Bee, his stable mate, who, it had been announced, was out to break the pacing track record. The Judge just missed equalling the record of 2:11 1-4 by a quarter of a second.

The equestrian specialties and amateur stunts of the day drew a long list of entries recruited from the numbers of students spending their Easter holidays in Pinehurst. Herbert Robinson, of Syracuse, proved a star in several events and won two of them.

Summary: Eighth annual seven furlong race for the President's cup, Galiano (MacFarland), 1; Oowah, 2; Pere Rhue, 3. Time 1:33 3-5.

Five and one-half furlong race, Son of Hope (Small), 1; Steinway, 2; Supplicant, 3. Time 1:11 1-5.

Five furlong running race, Unlucky (MacFarland) 1; Little Thicket, 2; Lost Comer, 3. Time 1:05 1-5.

Seventh annual Peach Blossom trot, The Judge (Spurgeon) 1; Hal Bee, 2; Billy Armstrong, 3. Also ran Little Mike. Time, 2:11 1-2.

Sixth annual Spring trot, Packy Ritts (Tyson) 1; John Volo, 2; Pano, 3. Also ran Selkirk. Time, 2:13 3-4.

Musical stalls and doughnut race won by Herbert Robinson, of Syracuse.

Balloon race won by G. Edmond, of Pinehurst.

Potato race won by team captained by Helen Butterfield, of Pinehurst.

Tilting won by A. C. Alexander, of Asheville, N. C.

Big Entry List for Horse Show Tuesday

Classes for Saddle Horses, Polo Ponies, Hunters and Thoroughbreds well Filled.

The biggest entry list in the history of the Pinehurst Horse Show is scheduled for this year and every hour from Tuesday at 10 a. m. to Wednesday at 5 p. m. will be packed full of well filled classes of saddle horses, hunters, jumpers, harness horses, polo ponies, thoroughbreds, artillery horses and Fort Bragg field artillery. The Fort Bragg artillery band will furnish the music for both days.

North Carolina is unusually well represented with entries from Winston-Salem, Durham, High Point, Goldsboro, Raleigh and Greensboro, while the Sandhill winter colony is representing the Northern cities.

The show will open Tuesday morning at 10 o'clock and continue all day with an hour out for lunch, starting in the afternoon at 1:30. These same hours will prevail Wednesday.

A program of each day will be published in the Sports Daily.

Parking spaces may be secured from the secretary, Chas. W. Piquet, at Pinehurst by phone or letter.

LOCAL FIRM SUPPLIES CUSTOMERS WITH ICE UNTIL FRIGIDAIRE ARRIVES

W. H. Coffey of Lakeview recently placed an order with Gregory and Bushby, local Frigidaire dealers for a new model D-4 Frigidaire, requesting immediate delivery. Unable to get the machine for several days the firm obligingly took him down an ice box and kept it filled until the Frigidaire could be installed. "Just one of our ideas of service," says Mr Gregory.
