Has Never Made Money in Dairying As Implied, and Finds Butter and Cheese Unprofitable

To The Pilot:
Since my illness my family say that I am deaf and mumble worse than ever—that I talk with my stomach rather than with my lips.

This explains why the statements that follow do not entirely correspond with Mr. Butler's article in The Pilot of November 29th. I say this since my family as yet haven't said anything about my eye sight having failed and among their various uncomplimentary remarks of the increased signs of old age, I haven't heard them say that I prevaricate any worse than I have averaged, say, for the past ten years.

Dairying is the only business of the sixty odd that I have tackled in the past forty years on which I have never made money. I know, however, that where a man can get the State's average price of 18 cents a quart or more for his entire output for the year that the dairying business is often very profitable.

If I could have understood the questions Mr. Butler asked me and if I had not mumbled so badly he would have said that the making of butter and cheese in any portion of North Carolina, outside of the natural grass lands of the mountains, will be found very unprofitable as it means selling 4 per cent at 5 cents a quart. However, butter making that simply takes the surplus milk of a community is very valuable, but it should be merely a sort of safety valve to take the surplus that is bound to come from time to time.

As to pasturage, our experiments of the past two years are encouraging but we must remember that we have had two wet summers.

Lastly, I believe most firmly that the time will come when on the better lands of the State we will make butter as cheaply and as profitably as it can be made anywhere in the United States but the proper methods and procedures have not been devised yet, and I am sure that it hasn't been done yet, and I am also sure it cannot be done by the methods employed in Wisconsin and the other big butter making states.

My advice is to every farmer in Moore County to make his milk, first for himself and family and next to make it to sell if he can get an average of 18 cents a quart for it the year around, and when there is a surplus in either of the above cases, sell the cream if possible to be made into butter.

Very truly yours,
LEONARD TUFTS.

Movie Magnates to Hear DeForest and Roxy at Banquet

Public Invited to Dinner to Be Addressed by Noted Theatre Men

DANCE FOLLOWS BANQUET

The annual convention of the North and South Carolina Theatre Owners Association will conclude with a banquet at the Carolina Hotel, Pinehurst, Tuesday night, December 10, at 7 o'clock, to be followed with a dance in the Carolina ballroom.

Several speakers of national prominence, including S. L. Rothafel, (Roxy) of New York; Dr. Lee DeForest, inventor of the radio tube, of New York; C. C. Pettijohn, general counsel for Will H. Hays, New York; Jack Miller, president of the Illinois Theatre Owners Association, Chicago; M. A. Lightman, national president of the Motion Picture Theatre Owners, Memphis, and the Rev. Murdoch McLeod of Pinehurst, will make short and interesting talks. R. F. Woodhull of New Jersey, has been selected as toastmaster.

Citizens of the Sandhills who are interested may secure tickets to the banquet and dance from Charlie Picquet at Pinehurst for the nominal fee of $3.00. All applications must be in his hands before the morning of December 10th.

WOMAN'S EXCHANGE OPENS FOR SEASON AT PINEHURST

The Sandhills Woman's Exchange opened yesterday to the public for the season under the leadership of Mrs. George Howard, acting as president. The other officers are Mrs. Richard Lovering, vice president; Mrs. Jackson H. Boyd, secretary, and Mrs. J. R. Page, treasurer. To the entire Sandhills, the exchange offers a great deal. Everything which is sold from sacks of pinecones to fifty-year old quilts is the handiwork of the women of the mid-Southern states. They bring or send their work in from all parts of this county, most of it being entirely voluntary. At times these women are given suggestions by the exchange to follow out, for example, how to make certain articles which the exchange knows to be readily saleable. The policy of this shop has been to make use of as many articles brought in as it possible can in order to encourage the workers to put forth their best efforts. A special committee which decides upon the price to be placed on each article as it comes in. The whole system is based on charity lines.

The Woman's Exchange is particularly interesting to the Northerner, who may find there inexpensive gifts as well as the valuable ones, to take North as remembrances, corn shuck mats, pine needle baskets and figures, and bundles of fine pinewood.

Friday night, December 27th has been set for the annual ball of Sandhill Post, American Legion. It will be held at the Pinehurst Country Club, the proceeds to go to disabled veterans at the Oteen Hospital and the building fund of the Sandhill post. The Yale Dramatic Club will be at Pinehurst the same night, the dance following its performance at the Carolina Theatre.

The Parish Guild of Emmanuel Church will hold its annual bazaar and cafeteria luncheon in the Civic Club, Southern Pines on Tuesday, December 10th. The luncheon will be served beginning at 12:00 o'clock noon and until 2:00 p. m., and the members of the guild will have a full line of fancy articles, notions, aprons and other articles on sale suitable for Christmas gifts. The public is most cordially invited to attend the luncheon and patronize the bazaar.

CARD OF THANKS
We wish to express our thanks to the many friends for the words of sympathy and the kindness shown us during the sickness and death of our husband, son and brother. We want especially to thank the nurse who was so faithful during his illness.
—Mrs. Mary Adkins, Mr. and Mrs. C. N. Atkins and family.

REFRIGERATION is a year round NECESSITY

Kitchens are nearly always hot... that's why perfect refrigeration is an every-day necessity.

When the temperature in your refrigerator rises above 50 degrees, foods deteriorate. If you eat them they may endanger your health.

The General Electric Refrigerator automatically keeps your food at a temperature safely below 50 degrees... makes a generous supply of ice cubes... has an accessible freezing regulator... an all-steel warp-proof cabinet... and all its mechanism hermetically sealed in a steel casing.

Every General Electric Refrigerator is hermetically sealed

ANOTHER CLUB DEDICATED

Thanksgiving Day was the occasion for the dedication of another of the multiplying club houses that are opening in the vicinity of Weymouth Heights.

The fine new club house, "The Pad-dock," was opened by a group of the members who had come down from New York for the occasion, and what a day it would have been for that hardy old settler Sandy Monroe, if he could have looked in on what was once a part of his possessions and seen the marvelous change. Great brick building, fine stables with a troop of horses, electric lights, telephones, automobiles there in the heart of his low ground, and all the marvels of the present day.

Weymouth Heights is pushing over the ridge and out into the valley, and it is a wondrous quarter of the Sandhills home belt and play ground.
