This Merchant Believes Honesty is Best Policy or Is Careless in His Advertising

We have always heard that "Honesty is the best policy," but we've only recently found a merchant who is willing to practice this policy to the limit in his advertising, and he is a Moore county merchant, if you please. Or, it may be that he did not mean exactly what he said; judge for yourself. This is the wording on the sale paper:

"Men's work shoes. All solid leather; double soled—They won't last long—$1.84."

DOC HUSSEY FOUND DEAD NEAR HOME OF NEIGHBOR

Doc Hussey, a well-to-do farmer of upper Moore county, was found dead near Brown's mill above Hemp about 2:30 o'clock Sunday afternoon. The coroner's verdict was that he died from natural causes and exposure. The body was found near a neighbor's home some two miles from the Hussey farm. The deceased was about sixty years of age and is survived by his wife and several children.

Miss Anne Popham of Pinehurst spent Monday with Mrs. M. D. Janaris.

Only 19 Deaths This September As Compared to 38 in Same Month Last Year

At this season of the year deaths from diphtheria have nearly always been more excessive than at any other time. If parents, teachers and physicians will act together in order to promptly discover any evidence of diphtheria in the very earliest stages, and if teachers will promptly send home any child having the slightest complaint of sore throat, and then if a competent physician is immediately consulted and anti-toxin used in sufficiently large doses, there generally need be no fear of death from diphtheria.

Deaths reported to the State Board of Health for the month of September indicate two things with reference to diphtheria this year. The first is that evidently a great many more children have been immunized during the spring months by using toxin-anti-toxin; and second, the parents and physicians were much more alert than usual. The reason for this statement is based on the fact that, whereas in September 1929, 38 deaths were reported to the State Board of Health from diphtheria, in September of this year there were reported exactly half that number, or 19 deaths. A one hundred per cent reduction in the mortality of any disease is a somewhat remarkable record to accomplish in one year. At the same time these 19 deaths could have been prevented by first, using toxin-antitoxin in three full immunizing doses, say, last April and May or even June; and second, where it was not used, if a competent physician had seen each one of these 19 children the first day of its illness, and had administered a large dose of curative antitoxin, the chances are, instead of their having been 19 deaths, there would not have been a single death.

"The purpose of this message is to urge upon everybody concerned with the care and training of children at this time to be on the alert every moment in order to prevent the approach of so insidious a disease as diphtheria, and so to prevent the usual large number of deaths for this season of the year from that disease," says Dr. Symington, Public Health Officer.

RECORDER'S COURT

Monday was the lightest day of recent months in Recorder's Court, only two or three cases being disposed of. Arthur Fry was before the court on a charge of non-support, and in another case along with Clyde Black was charged with the larceny of an automobile, driving an automobile while intoxicated, transporting and being drunk on the highway. As to the charge of larceny of an automobile, the evidence was not sufficient to make a case. Fry was found guilty of being publicly drunk, but judgment was suspended on the payment of the costs in this and the non-support case.

Clyde Black was found guilty of possessing one half pint of liquor for his own use and not for the purpose of sale, and of transporting the same in his pocket. Judgment was suspended upon payment of the costs.

Mr. and Mrs. James Buchanan of Broadway were guests in the home of Mr. and Mrs. T. D. McLean last Sunday.

PUNCTUALITY PROMPTNESS PRECISION

Well, did you vote early and often?

One man at the polls was heard to ask which of the candidates the pictures at the top of the ticket were supposed to represent. When told it was an Australian ballot he said he had always thought there were elephants in Australia, but didn't know they had mules there.

Another voter when asked if he was a socialist said he wasn't sure, his mother was a Methodist and his father a Baptist, but a doctor once told him he was a somnambulist; anyhow, he always voted a straight ticket.

Still another was heard to remark that he once had a friend who was a Taoist, and knew a man who was a Buddhist, but he thought the inventor of the Australian ballot must have been a Confusionist.

The Bank of Pinehurst is neither socialist, confusionist nor somnambulist. It is always wide awake and prepared to render service with punctuality, promptness and precision.

SOME DAY

You will want a home on

Weymouth Heights

But someday the Weymouth Heights homes will be in the hands of those who get them sooner.

This Sandhill area is limited. Maybe you never thought of that, but you can't go farther east than the Fort Bragg boundary, and the north and the south are held by people of means and no desire to sell.

Some day it will take money to get a location on the Weymouth ridges, and at that you cannot then have the pick of building sites as you can now.

A Weymouth Building site has always been an investment and is an investment now and always will be.
