

THE WEEK IN VASS

Woman's Club Meets
The regular monthly meeting of the Woman's Club of Vass was held in the club room on Friday evening with a good attendance. The American Home department of which Mrs. Emma Laubscher is chairman had charge of the program and interesting readings appropriate to the Thanksgiving season were given.

Several matters of interest to the club were discussed during the business session. Plans were made for planting shrubbery on the club's "beauty spot" along the highway and Thursday afternoon, November 20, was named as a time to meet to begin the planting. All citizens who are interested in highway and town beautification are urged to help with the planting and to contribute shrubbery. A day was named also for trying to add a little cheer to the lives of the inmates of the county home. A resolution favoring the plan of the George Washington Bicentennial Commission and pledging participation in the celebration was adopted. Mrs. R. L. Oldham, Mrs. C. L. Tyson and Mrs. A. K. Thompson were named by the president as a membership committee.

An especially interesting feature of the program was a report of the district meeting held recently in Lillington given by Mrs. D. C. McGill. Others who attended gave brief reports. Mrs. H. A. Borst read a copy of the club's annual report which was prepared for the district meeting.

Under the direction of Mrs. N. N. McLean and Mrs. H. A. Borst, a delightful social hour was held. Mrs. W. C. Leslie was the winner in a sentence building contest, the words being drawn from horns of plenty. Each member was then given a piece of stiff brown paper and told to tear out a Thanksgiving turkey. Some of these resembled chickens more than turkeys and one really belonged in the "camel" class, and the judge found it quite difficult to name the winning fowl. Mrs. S. R. Smith's was finally awarded the decision and Mrs. W. H. Keith's was a close second.

At the close of the evening Mrs. A. M. Cameron, Mrs. Bertie Matthews and Mrs. C. J. Temple served delicious refreshments which were thoroughly enjoyed.

Mrs. Smith Hostess to Girls' Circle
Mrs. D. A. Smith was hostess to the Girls' Circle of the Presbyterian church at her attractive home on Monday evening. Miss Catharine McMillan was leader and a very interesting program on orphanage work was given. The Bible study was conducted by Mrs. Stacy Brewer. A donation of dish towels and aprons was brought in to be sent to the Presbyterian Orphan Home at Barium Springs.

A delectable refreshment course was served by the hostess. Mr. and Mrs. A. M. Cameron and little A. Mac spent Friday afternoon in Sanford.

Mr. and Mrs. T. R. Moffitt and Mr. and Mrs. B. W. Smith of Sanford, Mr. and Mrs. J. D. Thompson, Harold and Ned Thompson of Aberdeen, Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Keith and children of Pinehurst, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Keith, Linwood Keith, June Brewer and Albert Hicks of Vass were Sunday afternoon visitors at the home of Mrs. Jane Keith and Aubrey Keith in the Cranes Creek community.

Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cameron and Mr. and Mrs. S. R. Smith visited J. B. Cameron and family in Pinehurst Sunday afternoon.

The regular monthly meeting of the Vass Methodist Auxiliary was held on Sunday afternoon and a very interesting program on school work in Mexico was given. This was the time for the election of officers for the new year and practically no changes were made, either in the officers or the chairmen of departments. Mrs. T. Frank Cameron was unanimously re-elected to head the organization, with Mrs. Bertie L. Matthews as vice-president.

Miss Bessie Cameron, second grade teacher in the Vass-Lakeview School, was able to resume her duties on last Friday after an absence of a week and a half caused by an illness of influenza.

Personals

Miss Rosa B. Giles returned Friday from a stay of several days in Charlotte.

T. F. Cameron spent Sunday in Dillon, S. C.

W. B. Graham spent the first of the week in Ruffin, S. C., transacting business.

Mrs. Vester Smith and little daughter, Frances, spent last week-end with relatives in Hamlet.

Mrs. Irene Byrd of Albemarle spent Saturday with Mr. and Mrs. G. W. Griffin. Her son, W. C. Byrd, came to Vass with her and they, with Mrs. W. C. Byrd and little Mary Lou, who had been visiting relatives here, returned home that evening.

John Thompson of Winston-Salem and his son, Eugene Thompson, of Washington, D. C., were visitors at the home of Mrs. Mag Cameron a day last week.

Mr. and Mrs. R. H. Cox and children visited relatives at Morven and Wadesboro Sunday.

Milton Brewer, who has not been well for several months, is now undergoing treatment at the Moore County Hospital, which his many friends hope will prove very beneficial.

Mrs. W. H. Keith attended a Red Cross meeting at Pinebluff last week.

Mr. and Mrs. Alton Chappell have moved to Aberdeen, where Mr. Chappell has a position.

PINEHURST

A very delightful organ recital was given at the Community Church Sunday evening by Mrs. Nancy Hines Brigman of Seneca, S. C. Mrs. Brigman is an organist of unusual ability, having studied in leading schools of New York and Chicago. Preceding the organ recital the congregation enjoyed a sermon by President Bedinger of Flora McDonald College, Red Springs.

Joe Hotchkiss of Winston-Salem spent the week-end here with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. H. P. Hotchkiss.

Mr. and Mrs. O. H. Stutts visited relatives in Fayetteville over the week-end. Mrs. Lawrence, who has been their house guest for several weeks remained in Fayetteville for a longer stay.

Miss Pearl McNeill of Charlotte is the guest this week of her sisters, Mrs. Sledge and Mrs. Stewart.

LEGION AND BOY SCOUT CHURCH SERVICE SUNDAY

Members of the American Legion and the Boy Scouts of this community will attend the morning service next Sunday at the First Baptist Church in Southern Pines. At the request of those who heard it, and of the many who did not have that privilege, the Rev. J. F. Stimson, pastor of the church, will repeat the Armistice Day sermon which he gave last Sunday morning. The Sandhills Sixteen will make their first appearance of the season, singing several numbers. Members of the Sixteen include William Dunlop, S. B. Richardson, Albert Adams, Thad S. Page, E. B. Garrett, David Packard, Levi Packard, Shields Cameron, Thomas A. Kelley, John Bloxham, Dr. L. B. McBrayer, P. Frank Buchan, Myron Adams and Lewis B. McBrayer, Jr., with Mrs. E. Ellsworth Giles as accompanist.

PREACHING SERVICE AT ABERDEEN PRESBYTERIAN

Regular preaching services will be held at the Presbyterian Church in Aberdeen Sunday morning at 11:15 o'clock. The High School will furnish special chorus music under the leadership of Miss Grady, glee club director. This will close the program "Educational Week" that the school has held this week.

Mr. Barber will take for his subject, "Education of Tomorrow."

Theatre

At Pinehurst

As the producing of operettas was Cecil B. DeMille's last stage activity before he entered pictures, it was quite "in the cards" that he should make a musical play under the new talkie set-up. "Madam Satan" is the title selected for a comedy with music which the producer-director has made for Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer. Sprinkled with bright new songs, and with scenes laid in homes of wealth, and abroad a giant Zeppelin (later destroyed in a thrilling air-crash), "Madam Satan" will be shown at the Pinehurst Theatre, Friday Night, November 14th, with a matinee at 3.00.

With more than fifty well known screen names listed, this production would be notable if for no other reason than its unusual flood of established personalities. The entire industry was combed for the players of this production. The principal roles go to Kay Johnson as "Madam Satan," Reginald Denny as Bob Brooks; Roland Young as Jimmy; Lillian Roth as Trixie; Elsa Peterson as Martha; Edwards Davis as Henry the VIII; and many, many others equally famous, as well as one of the most famous jazz hands the world has known. Abe Lyman's band needs no introduction to any who own a radio, a phonograph, or go to a theatre. The versatile Abe has carried his troubadours all over the United States and Europe, and his records sell by the millions of copies. Theodore Kosloff also dances "electricity" in the Prinz ballet, "Ballet Mechanique."

On Wednesday, November 19th, one of the old Sandhill favorites who has not been seen nor heard in some time, William Haines, comes to the Pinehurst Theatre in his newest and doubtless best, talking screen comedy, "Remote Control," which is adapted from the recent well known stage hit of Broadway fame. "Remote Control" is a mystery-comedy of the Broadcasting Station and is made for laughing purposes and succeeds as such. Bill Haines is ably supported by an all-star cast consisting of Charles King, Mary Moran, John Miljan, Polly Moran, J. C. Nugent, Benny Rubin, Roscoe Ales, Cliff Edwards and many others.

At Southern Pines

Way for the "Big Parade" of the merchant marine! John Gilbert's new talkie, "Way For A Sailor," is a fitting talkie companion to his popular war film of silent days. It has all the wallop, the virile comedy and tender romance. It is a drama of men, of men who go down to the sea in ships. But it is the women who wait who motivate the plot and therefore it belongs in the class of romance. This new Metro-Goldwyn-Mayer picture, which opens at the Southern Pines Theatre this Thursday night and continues through the week, is a happy vehicle for Gilbert. He seems to fit squarely into the role of the tramp freighter sailor who is ready for a fight or a frolic and doesn't care very much which comes first. Wallace Beery walks away with honors in the supporting cast, contributing an admirable performance as the hardboiled boss mate with a weakness for Liverpool ladies and concertinas.

Tom Sawyer

Time will turn back when you see "Tom Sawyer" on the talking screen with half-grown-up Jackie Coogan, making his initial talking appearance as "Tom." You will become a kid again—thrilled by the possibility of "spooks" in the graveyard—arguing the relative merits of "spunk water" and dead cat as a cure for warts—shyly "in love"—day-dreaming of pirates and brave knights—and experiencing adventures only Mark Twain could invent.

M. H. TURNER RETURNS IMPROVED IN HEALTH

M. H. Turner, of Creamer & Turner, proprietors of the Highland Pines Inn in Southern Pines, arrived here yesterday, motoring down from Main despite the recent illness which delayed his usual early coming to the Sandhills. Mr. Turner is looking fit after his ordeal, and says that all he needs to restore him to full health is a winter in the Sandhills.

KENILWORTH INN LEASED

Bruce H. Lewis, aided by Shields Cameron, has leased the Kenilworth Inn, Southwest Broad street, Southern Pines, to Mrs. M. L. Morris of hotel and boarding house this win-Pinehurst, who will operate it as a ter. Mrs. Morris formerly operated the Lexington Hotel at Pinehurst, now The Manor. She is well acquainted with the hotel business and intends to make her house one of the popular inns of the village. The Kenilworth is a 14-room, steam-heated building near the heart of town.
