October Fires Cause Heavy Property Loss

Aberdeen One of Nineteen Towns Reporting No Fire Damage for Month

North Carolina's total fire loss for October, announced yesterday by Insurance Commissioner Dan C. Boney, was $817,582 from 241 fires, as against a total of $327,376 from 178 fires in October 1929.

The detailed report shows that of the total loss, 188 fires, with $730,665 loss, occurred in towns, and 53 with $86,917 loss, were rural fires.

There were 120 dwelling fires, with loss of $81,735 in towns, and 26 rural dwelling loss of $35,313 making an unusually large dwelling loss in the totals of 146 dwellings and $117,048 damage.

The following 19 towns reported no fire damage during October: Nashville, Beaufort, Waynesville, Marion, Dunn, Spencer, Washington, Roanoke Rapids, Bessemer City, Aberdeen, Mount Olive, Middlesex, Ahoskie, Edenton, Tarboro, Kannapolis, Rowland, North Wilkesboro.

BAPTIST REVIVAL AT CARTHAGE SUCCESSFUL

There were twenty-six young people Baptized Sunday night at the Baptist church, as a result of the evangelistic services being held by the Rev. Lawrence B. Greenwood and Mr. and Mrs. Plummer, his assistants.

The meetings are creating much interest in Carthage and Moore county. People are attending from Aberdeen, Southern Pines, Pinehurst and Pinebluff. The church is filled both afternoon and evening to capacity and Sunday at the 11 o'clock service and that evening there was hardly room to accommodate the throng.

The music by Mr. and Mrs. Plummer and Mr. Greenwood is quite a drawing feature of the meeting. Mr. Greenwood is an earnest and forceful speaker his interpretation of the Bible clear and convincing. The meetings will continue through the week, closing Sunday evening.

After the meeting closes here Mr. Greenwood, Mr. and Mrs. Plummer will begin a meeting at Aberdeen, another of Dr. Jackson's churches, on December 2nd.

There will also be services at the colored Presbyterian church Saturday night by Mr. Greenwood, starting at 7:30. Sunday at three o'clock there will be a service for men only at the Baptist church and for women at the Presbyterian church. The services for women will be conducted by Mrs. Jackson and Mrs. Plummer at 3:00.

THIEVES ENTER VASS STORE

Thieves entered the dry goods store of the Vass Mercantile Company last Friday night and made a safe getaway with some two or three hundred dollars' worth of goods which included ladies' coats and dresses, men's suits, shirts and other apparel. The thieves gained entrance by removing the glass from a rear door. So carefully and quietly did they work that the glass was not broken and roomers in the Beasley apartments next door were not awakened. It is thought that the stolen goods were loaded onto a truck or car at the rear of the building. Sheriff McDonald came down Saturday to investigate, but there is no clew as to the identity of the thieves.

Theatre

Seven stars in a single talking picture! Such is the remarkable array of talent assembled for "A Lady Surrenders," the picturization of John Erskine's best-selling novel, "Sincerity," which comes to the Pinehurst Theatres, Friday afternoon and night. The cast reads like a blue-book of stage and screen.

Sparkling in its comedy and filled with the personality of Marilyn Miller, "Sunny" the screen version of the famous stage play, will be seen at the Pinehurst Theatre Monday afternoon and night. "Sunny" is something distinct as a picture type. It follows no conventional lines. Taken from Miss Miller's famous stage success, which ran for three years, "Sunny" on the talking screen is essentially a comedy-romance.

A picture with a laugh clown laugh twist, with a surprising matrimonial denouement, Constance Bennett's new production, "Sin Takes A Holiday," a scintillating, dazzling comedy, which will appear at Pinehurst, Wednesday afternoon and night, will prove a delight to every lover of the best the dialogue screen affords. It is a story in which drama and humor are splendidly blended.

The mere announcement that Harold Lloyd in his new laugh-fest, "Feel First," will be seen at the Southern Pines Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday, is sufficient. This is the best comedy Lloyd has ever made and that is saying a mouthful.

And then—another joy-fest on Monday and Wednesday at the Southern Pines Theatre. Winnie Lightner, the sparkling comedienne who first rose to film fame in "Gold Diggers of Broadway," returns in "The Life of the Party" in which she overreaches even her own standard in singing several songs which include "You Ought To See The Horse," and "He Got A Poison Ivy Instead of a Clinging Vine."

CARTHAGE WOMEN PLAN HOT LUNCHES FOR SCHOOL

Forty per cent of the children in the grammar grade school are undernourished, according to a statement made by Dr. J. Symington, public health officer of Moore county. Each child has been examined and weighed by Dr. Symington and his assistant, Miss Seagrove, and that is the condition they find. There are over two hundred children who bring their lunches to school and plans are under way by the Carthage Women's club to furnish hot soup, hot chocolate or some kind of hot drink during the winter months to the children.

THE PINEHURST WAREHOUSES

Pinehurst, N. C.

For a long time folks have been hunting antique furniture and buying it to the extent that it has become something of a fad. The presumption has gone out in some directions that old furniture is an exaggerated fancy that will presently die out. But that is a mistake.

The furniture of the earlier days was made by artists, men who studied material, and harmony of lines, and of color in material and covering. The virtue of antique furniture is in the designing and the building of it.

The search for antique furniture is founded on sound principles, and will never wear out.

But furniture factories today can make good copies of furniture of the earlier periods, and as it comes to be recognized that the old types were founded on artistic conception, modern construction of furniture on old lines is increasing, and eagerly sought.

AT THE PINEHURST WAREHOUSES

A liberal stock of copies of old pieces has been obtained, and for odd corners, or for filling in, or giving a softened and heightened tone to the various sections of the home nothing is more expressive and attractive than some of these well made duplicates of the days gone by. Some of these pieces will make excellent holiday gifts.

And talking of Holiday selections the Famed Handel Lamps are to be recommended. Also for home use as well as for remembrances to friends.
