

Art Masterpieces On Exhibit at Cameron

Reproduction of Famous Paintings To Be Shown at School December 9-12

Principal E. S. Temple of Cameron School announces that an exhibit of 150 of the finest reproductions of recognized masterpieces of art will be placed on display to students of the school and the general public on December 9th, and will be on exhibit through the 12th. A small admission charge will be made and the fund raised used for the purchase of pictures for the Cameron School.

In making the announcement, Prof. Temple said, "It has been the privilege of students and the general public to enjoy the masterpieces of music and literature for generations; but an enjoyment of the masterpieces of art has, until very recently, been restricted to those who were wealthy enough to travel throughout the world, visiting the museums in which the original paintings hang.

"Recent improvements in color photography and printing now make it possible to bring the art of the world to even our smaller towns and villages through the medium of faithful reproductions. These reproductions are true to the originals in all respects, with the possible exception of size. Even the most delicate variations in color are maintained. In most instances the brush strokes in the original picture are clearly discernable.

"I feel that we are fortunate indeed to be able to bring to Cameron a collection of these splendid pictures."

TENNIS TOURNAMENT AT "THE ARK" IS COMPLETED

What is termed by our reporter "a knock-out tennis tournament has just been completed on the court at "The Ark," Mrs. Hayes' private school in Southern Pines. The contest aroused great enthusiasm among the youthful participants, among whom were Phyllis Lovering, Mary Pethick, Jean Hoyt, Ann Child, Morell Bentley, Barbara Hoyt, Mary Arkell, Ann Fenner, Dana McNeill, Margaret Denyer, Lillian Halliwell, Richard Pethick, Sylva Pethick, Ellen Vale, M. E. Webb and Mrs. M. A. Hayes. In the finals Morell Bentley and M. E. Webb defeated Phyllis Lovering and Lillian Halliwell 6-2, 6-3 to win the championship.

"Business" Trip?

Deer, Turkey, Coons and Squirrels Result of Mayor Graham's Visit South

We wouldn't have them know we said it, but members of the Vass Mayor's family are beginning to look a little wild. We don't think it is anything serious, and they will probably come around all right before long if said Mayor Graham will remain in Vass, but if he goes to South Carolina on many more hunting trips, we shudder to think of the consequences.

W. B. Graham slipped off to South Carolina where he has lumber interests last week, as is his custom, and, as is our custom, we reported that he had gone on a "business" trip. We later decided it was pleasure for him and good business for his neighbors. While away, he was a member of a hunting party on a big game preserve on the Savannah River, and the party of fifteen killed nine deer, one turkey, half a dozen coons and twenty-odd squirrels. Eight of the deer were killed within about five hours.

Mr. Graham came home Thursday with wild meat enough to supply his numerous relatives and some who are not his relatives and still had enough left at home to produce the results mentioned above.

Gets His Man After Wild Ride

Judge Humber Was Liberal with Sentences in His Court Monday

A wild dash through Vass and Lakeview and back through Vass and into the edge of Hoke county, in which Alvin Laubscher, Vass policeman, played the part of pursuer and Leonard Cameron that of the pursued, took place Sunday afternoon, and on Monday Cameron was before Judge Humber to answer to a charge of driving an automobile while under the influence of intoxicating liquor. The Judge ruled that Cameron should pay a fine of $50 and the costs and refrain from driving a car for six months and imposed a four months road sentence, execution to issue at the will of the Court. Cameron is a young white man of the Beaver Creek section.

Coy McKenzie, white of Montgomery county, was before the court on two separate cases. In one he was charged with driving a car while intoxicated and resisting an officer, and the other was an assault charge, which came about as a result of mistreatment of his wife. He was found guilty in both cases. He will be required to serve four months on the roads on the driving while intoxicated count and when this time expires he was given two years for resisting arrest, execution of this sentence to issue at the will of the court.

Will McCowan, colored, of Aberdeen, was charged with possession for sale and pleaded guilty. The official records show that the quantity was "one-half gallon and three pop bottles." Will was fined $50 and the costs and was sentenced to six months on the roads, execution to issue at the will of the court. Bond was continued and the defendant is to show good behavior once a month. McCowan works at the sulphur works at Aberdeen and the company claimed that it could not get another man to take his place and if he were put on the roads it would have to about shut down until it could get another man from Georgia.

James Willis, colored, of Southern Pines was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon and was fined $10 and the costs and given two months on the roads, execution not to issue until further order of the court, but to issue at will of the court at any time within two years.

Leslie Swearingen, white, through his attorney, W. D. Matthews, pleaded guilty to driving a car while intoxicated. He was fined $50 and the costs, was deprived of the right to drive a car for three months, and was given four months on the roads, execution to issue at the will of the court.

NEW YORK MUSICAL SUCCESS COMING TO FORT BRAGG

Through the instrumentality of the Recreation Officer, arrangements have been concluded with the Shubert theatrical booking offices of New York to bring to the War Department Theatre, in Fort Bragg, on Sunday night, November 30th, what is perhaps the greatest musical comedy hit in the past twenty years, George White's "Flying High," which for the entire year has been playing at George White's New York Apollo Theatre, at $5.50 top scale. Reasonable prices have been set, in order to enable the playgoers of this section to see one of the greatest current hits at far less than the New York prices. This is the first time in history that George White has personally presented any of his own shows on tour in the south. George White's Beauty Chorus, and Mr. White's New Apollo Theatre Orchestra, will be carried intact. Mail orders will be received now, and seats can be secured in person at the box office of The War Department Theatre at Fort Bragg.

OWNER OF EDUCATED PONY, HERE LAST YEAR, DIES

Thomas Barrett, 89, whose educated pony, "Black Bear," delighted thousands of children in North Carolina cities last year, is dead. The ills of old age and pneumonia proved fatal November 15 at Grassland, N. Y. Barrett had his pony in Aberdeen last year and gave an exhibition to the school children.

BAZAAR WILL BE HELD BY PINEBLUFF LADIES

The Ladies' Aid of Pinebluff M. E. Church is planning a bazaar to be held December 12. There will be many nice things displayed which may be purchased for Christmas gifts. A Brunswick stew supper will be served for those who care for it. The proceeds of the bazaar and supper will be used toward the building fund for the new church.

CHICKEN SUPPER AND BOX PARTY

There will be a chicken supper and box party at the Thagard old school house next Saturday night, November 29, from six to 9:00 o'clock. Benefit Yates-Thagard Church. The public is cordially invited.

ON Weymouth Heights Southern Pines, N. C.

More horses than ever are arriving in the Sandhills this winter, and more people are this early in the season asking about home sites on Weymouth and in the Weymouth section.

Weymouth Ridge is the incomparable place for a winter home.

Every new member of the Weymouth colony adds to the value of a home in that section, for good neighbors constitute one or the greatest advantages of Weymouth.

Midland Farms Home Sites

Acreage---Big or Little

LOCATIONS TO SUIT, JUST OFF THE DOUBLE ROAD BETWEEN PINEHURST AND SOUTHERN PINES, THE MAIN STREET OF THE SANDHILLS, AND IN THE HEART OF EVERYTHING

Rapidly the horse is capturing this section. The tracks at Pinehurst, the polo fields there, the fox hunting at Southern Pines and at Pinehurst, the hundred miles of soft bridal paths and the scores of miles of sand-clay roads that are comfortable to the feet of the sulky horse, with the climate that horsemen say is ideal for their stock, bring larger numbers his way every winter.

A well informed observer of Sandhills attractions says horseback riding in its various forms is the greatest recreational possibility of this section.

MIDLAND FARMS HOME SITES

Are in the center of the areas in which the horse is most freely cultivated. Stables are extending along the Midland road. Surrounding territory is going into the hands of men who own good horses. Field trials and fox chases are seen on Midland Farms lands frequently, and one or two of the best packs of hounds in the country are maintained here.
