"Juicy Attics" Soon To Reveal the Real Story of Old South

Dr. Hamilton, Professor of History at U. N. C., Tells Kiwanis of Great Research

COLORFUL CIVILIZATION

The old South, "the most colorful civilization on the American continent," will have its real story told for the first time when the data now being collected by the University of North Carolina, is edited, catalogued and made available to the public. Dr. J. G. de Rouhac Hamilton, Keenan Professor of History at the University told members of the Kiwanis Club of Aberdeen at their weekly meeting in the Civic Club, Southern Pines, Wednesday noon. He gave a most interesting talk on the work which the University is doing to reveal the true history of the South.

Dr. Hamilton stated that the work of collecting historical data bearing on this section of the country was started by the University in 1844, and that every effort was being made to acquire all possible information relating to the South and all works by Southerners. Particular attention is being paid to the collection of family letters, old manuscripts, records, diaries, and the like, because, he said, only through such documents can the real story of slavery, religion, politics, economics and education bearing on the South be told. "The most reliable source of history is the family letter, written 'when the front is down, with no thought of possible publication.'"

"There is more interest today in the history of the South than in any other section of the country," Dr. Hamilton stated, principally due to the fact that the real story never has been told.

Dr. Hamilton has himself travelled 50,590 miles "in my little Ford" since March 1st, 1929, and has brought into the library at Chapel Hill between three-quarters of a million and a million pieces of manuscript in the form of old letters, records, ledgers and diaries, picked up all over the country. He gave interesting anecdotes of his experiences in prowling through "juicy attics," as he called them, and of rich finds made in out of the way places.

The Kiwanis Club welcomed back into membership Dr. L. B. McBrayer, who resigned some time ago, Judge William A. Way making a gracious speech to which the doctor responded. Frank Buchan reported that more than $600 in cash and large quantities of clothing had been received to date for the Christmas Daddy fund.

Theatre

At Pinehurst

You never know women! For example, take a look at "Oh, For A Man," which comes to the Pinehurst Theatre, Friday night. In this production you find Jeanette MacDonald, who came to screen notice first with Maurice Chevalier in "The Love Parade," playing the role of a successful prima donna in opera, the toast of the town for her rare beauty and golden voice, admired by unattached man and her hand sought by men of wealth. She has no time for affairs of heart, so she says, and then, in the dead of night, her apartment is invaded by a burglar, a thief in the night, come to rob her of her jewels. Thus begins the story whose theme is the unique love romance of a burglar and a prima donna. Reginald Denny has the most glorious co-featuring role of his entire career as a burglar with an ambition to sing.

The latest novelty in Central American revolutions furnishes the background for Victor McLaglen's newest comedy drama, "A Devil With Women," which is adapted from Cleopatra Ripley's novel "Dust and Sun," and which comes to the Pinehurst Theatre, Monday, December 15th. As a captain in the forces of a small republic on the Caribbean, McLaglen manages to embroil himself in plenty of exciting adventures, ranging from attracting the smiles of various señoritas to a thrilling jail break and a desperate battle against a bandit leader. Mona Maris is here usual dainty and charming self as the heroine. Special local interest is attached to this picture because of its author, who is a resident of the Sandhills.

Comedy vices with drama in "Lightnin'," Will Rogers' latest Fox Movietone picture which will be seen and heard at the Pinehurst Theatre Wednesday, December 17th, and Rogers gives a performance that outshines anything he has previously done.

At Southern Pines

"Billy The Kid," which opens at the Southern Pines Theatre this Thursday and continues through the week relates the stirring happenings at Lincoln, New Mexico, during the famous "cattle-men's war of 1878, 1879 and 1880. The career of William Bonney during that time is the crux of the wildest point the wild west ever reached. "Billy The Kid" occupies a period between "The Covered Wagon" and the present day. William Bonney was the most distinctive figure of this era. Jack Mack Brown plays "The Kid" and Wallace Beery gives another of his inimitable characterizations as Sheriff Garrett. Kay Johnson has the feminine lead. "Billy The Kid" is an adaptation of the famous novel, "The Saga Of Billy The Kid."

CHRISTMAS DADDIES ENLIST COUNTY-WIDE SUPPORT

money, clothes, toys and books will be announced in The Pilot next week.

The dire situation among the needy families of the county is becoming more and more apparent as the work of the committee progresses. Demands upon it are getting greater every day, and the pitiable stories coming to the ears of the committee members is stimulating them to greater collection efforts each day. The Christmas Daddies can use all and everything the more fortunate of the section can spare this Christmas time, and urgently appeal to one and all to leave any garments, food, toys, etc., at the East Broad street store, that no approved families in the county may be without on Christmas day. If there is no one in the store when you arrive with your load of gifts for the poor, the key may be secured at the Broad Street Pharmacy across the street. Open the door yourself and leave your contribution. Checks should be sent to the Rev. T. A. Cheatham, Pinehurst, P. Frank Buchan, Southern Pines, or to the Kiwanis Club, Herbert Vail, secretary, at Pinehurst.

order that the work of alleviating distress may proceed without delay. This committee, upon organization, will completely canvas the situation from the standpoint of possible jobs and number of jobless, and fit the puzzle together as best it can. Just how many are out of employment in Southern Pines now numbers around 4,000 persons, is not known, but appeals are being made to merchants and others almost daily and there is said to be some indiscriminate begging among residents. With no centralized agency of control, the merchants and residents have no means of checking up on whether appeals to them are worthy cases. The plan is to maintain an office where all applicants for aid or employment will be sent, their cases investigated and proper attention paid them.

This committee has no relation to the Christmas Daddy work which the Kiwanis Club of Aberdeen is doing to carry Christmas cheer and substantial aid in the form of food and clothes to the poor and needy. It is strictly an employment proposition, and will probably not be in shape to function until after the work of the Kiwanis charity fund is completed.
