Conservation of Natural Beauty Spots in State and County Aim of Organization

Members of the Alfred Moore Chapter of the Daughters of the American Revolution met last Tuesday afternoon with Mrs. H. F. Seawell of Carthage. In addition to the thirty regular members present, the following associate members, winter guests of the community from other national chapters, were on hand: Mrs. L. W. Dietz of Gilbertsville, New York, Mrs. A. O. Douglass from Oneida, New York, Miss Hattie Condit of Rose-land, New Jersey, Miss Mary Williams from West Orange, New Jersey, and Mrs. Alfred Williams and Mrs. Raymond Howe of Utica, New York. Interesting features of the afternoon's program included Mrs. Melvin Sanborn's report on Conservation and Thrift. She spoke on the nationwide effort this year to plant trees and conserve places of natural beauty throughout the country and, of course, in North Carolina, which will see results of extensive work during the year by the various state chapters of the D. A. R.

GREENWOOD PARTY TO HOLD SERVICE SUNDAY

One more opportunity will be given this community Sunday afternoon to hear the Greenwood evangelistic party at the Carolina Theatre in Southern Pines. There have been so many requests for a continuance of these meetings that Mr. Greenwood decided to defer leaving until after this coming Sunday. His subject will be: "The Meaning of the World War in its Bearing on the European Situation and the Coming of Christ." The music will be of the usual high order, with Mr. and Mrs. Clifton Plummer assisting. The doors will open at 3 o'clock.

State Dentist Starts Work in Consolidated School at Cameron

By Dr. J. Symington Public Health Officer The dental clinic has commenced. The dental dentist, Dr. Pigford, arrived Monday morning, the 29th at the Public Health office, Carthage and left shortly afterward to commence work in the consolidated school at Cameron, where he has been located every day since. A general plan is being worked out for these dental clinics to be held at different schools throughout the county. It will be impossible for the dentist to visit every individual school and we advise all schools, the smaller ones in particular, when they hear of the dentist being at a larger and more settled school, to take steps for their children to get to the clinic and to make sure that they are not overlooked. It is probable that the big consolidated schools will be visited first but the smaller schools within reach of these consolidated schools should make arrangements for the transportation of their children to the clinics being held at the consolidated school.

We urge attention to this matter as, having examined the teeth of practically every school child in the county, we know that there is very much work to be done and instruction to be given. Some of the teeth of the children are in a most unhealthy condition and it is impossible for children with such teeth to enjoy good general health. We know that food has a great deal to do with producing good teeth and it commences with a former generation but unfortunately children have been born with bad teeth and now treatment is the immediate urgent remedy, and teaching and instruction for the future will at the same time be given. Only 5 percent of the children of Moore county and of the State of North Carolina go to the dentist to have their teeth treated and to seek information and carry out valuable advice. This clinic, as we have said, has been made possible by a guaranty of $900.00 by Mrs. Francis T. Keating, which is being duplicated by the same amount from the state. Mrs. Keating has donated the above amount with the expectation and hope

Vance Rowe Jr., Gets $81.60 For Two Pigs and Nets $17.40 for Clothes

Final report on a good piece of Pig Club work has just been submitted by J. Vance Rowe, Jr., of Aberdeen. In his letter of recent date he tells just exactly what he did. It is as follows: Dear Mr. Garrison:

I am writing you today about my Pig Club work. We killed them today and the red one weighed 303 pounds before dressing (weighing 115 pounds first) and 247 pounds when dressed. The other weighed 283 pounds before dressing (weighing 105 pounds at first) and 247 pounds when dressed. That makes 510 pounds together when dressed. I am going to get 16 cents per pound for them which makes a total of $81.60. I owe Daddy $56.06 for feed and hogs. I had to pay the man who butchered them $8.00 which leaves me a profit of $17.40 which I will spend for new clothes, etc.

I will not raise any more hogs until next Spring. I will then start with a pig weighing 35 pounds. I will appreciate it very much if you will send my brother Lawrence a Pig Club Manual and mark him down as a Pig Club member as he wants to join. Send me a new book also.

I hardly know how to thank you and the ones who made the Club Book. I love the work anyway and count it as one of my regular chores. I have been thinking about joining the Poultry Club.

Your Pig Club Member, J. VANCE ROWE, JR. Age 11 1-2 years, 7th Grade. Note—Pigs exactly one year old each. Fed from September 2nd to December 23rd, 16 weeks; first pig 115 pounds increased to 303 pounds; second pig 105 pounds, increased to 283 pounds.

There is no secret about the way this work is done. It was simply a matter of carrying out a good practice. Similar directions will be given to anyone interested!

that other generous donors may join her.

The children of Carthage High School have contributed several bundles of clothes and food which were brought to the public health office by Mrs. O. B. Welch. These will find their way into families where there is a great need.

The hot lunch has commenced in a most satisfactory manner in the graded school at Carthage. About 70 children have daily enjoyed warm cocoa and hot tomato soup deliciously prepared by the voluntary ladies of Carthage, several of whom are taking turns each day in being present at these lunches. We feel that these lunches, made possible by the Business Men's Club of Carthage, the Woman's Club, and other organizations, and by contributions of the children themselves, will have a most beneficial effect on the growth and strength of the under-nourished children now attending the school, many of whom leave their homes early in the morning to catch the school bus and who have to wait long hours before lunch time comes.

Theatre

At Pinehurst "Paid," which will be the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre, this Friday is Joan Crawford's first straight dramatic starring vehicle, and is of particular interest in being the first dialogue version of Bayard Veiller's sensational stage play, "Within The Law." Miss Crawford was given her opportunity to play the heroine in this smashing drama in recognition of her splendid portrayal in "Our Blushing Brides" and other screen hits. In essaying this difficult role, Miss Crawford follows in the footsteps of Jane Cowl who created the part of Mary Turner on the New York stage in 1912, and Alice Joyce and Norma Talmadge who played it on the silent screen in 1917 and 1923 respectively. Robert Armstrong, of "Is Zat So" fame, heads the imposing supporting cast as Joe Garson and Kent Douglas, a new comer to the screen, has the romantic lead, while Marie Prevost carries the role of Aggie, "Paid" is now "standing them out" at the Capitol Theatre, New York.

At Southern Pines Janet Gaynor and Charles Farrell in a co-starring vehicle. That's a bulls-eye at the outset. Therefore it is a pleasure to announce their joint appearance at the Southern Pines Theatre, this Thursday, Friday and Saturday nights with a Saturday matinee, in that famous stage play, "The Man Who Came Back," which was the talk of the country during its long run in New York several seasons ago. Raoul Walsh, the director, has packed into this story every ounce of feeling and showmanship that is possible in turning out real entertainment. It boasts of the best acting that Janet Gaynor has ever contributed to the screen and Charles Farrell is a very close second. There is a lot to the moral and the story of "The Man Who Came Back" is now lining them out at the Roxie Theatre, New York.

"One Heavenly Night," which was shown at Pinehurst, last Wednesday night, is moving over to the Southern Pines Theatre for Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday. "One Heavenly Night" introduces to the screen one of its new and amazing personalities in Evelyn Laye, the magnetic and beautiful English comedienne who scored such an astounding success in the New York stage production, "Bittersweet." Miss Laye is supported by that gifted singer, John Boles, whose splendid work with Bebe Daniels in "Rio Rita" is still remembered. The comedy end of this production is taken care of by none other than Leon Errol, he with the accordion legs, and Lillyn Tashman, than whom there is none more brilliant.

ARMY OF WOMEN URGE MRS. RYALS RETENTION

Office Retained At five o'clock in the afternoon the commissioners finally announced that they had decided to retain the home demonstration agent, but at a salary reduction of $200 per year.

Mrs. Ryals has done a splendid work in the county, reaching communities that had never before been reached by this type of work, and at the present time she has fifteen girls' clubs and nearly as many women's organizations, teaching in all around five hundred homemakers and future homemakers of the county. She has won the confidence and love of the women and they know that she will help them solve their manifold household problems, so they were ready to do all in their power to have the work continued.

The commissioners were not opposed to the home demonstration work, neither were the women opposed to the welfare work. It was just a matter of not having money enough to provide both and of having to decide between them. Considering the efficient way in which the welfare work is being handled, the club women felt that the greater need was for a demonstration worker who could go into the various communities and teach the homemakers how to properly feed their families to prevent disease, how to garden and can in such a way that the tables might be supplied with home grown vegetables throughout the year and how to economize in clothing the family, thus eventually doing away with the need for so much welfare work.

TO OUR FARMER FRIENDS: The Sanford Tobacco Board of Trade takes great pleasure in announcing to the farmers of this community that it has again secured from the large buyers of tobacco a full and complete set of buyers for the closing weeks of this season. At the request of the Sanford Board of Trade, the large companies returned their full corps of buyers to the Sanford market—the same full and complete set that was here before Christmas. All of these buyers will remain here until the close of the season. The Sanford market has paid top prices for tobacco this season; and the return of all the buyers, coupled with a demand for tobacco, will mean that top prices will continue to be paid here the balance of this season. The Sanford market will remain open as long as is necessary to take care of the present crop of tobacco. It is urged that you bring your tobacco to the Sanford market, and that you bring it at once while prices are high. The Sanford Tobacco Board of Trade will continue to serve you in their usual efficient manner, and will continue to get the best prices for your tobacco. SANFORD TOBACCO BOARD OF TRADE.
