

PUNCTUALITY

PROMPTNESS

PRECISION

At a recent meeting of the Chamber of Commerce of Southern Pines, Richard Tufts expressed the opinion that twenty-five years from now Pinehurst and Southern Pines would be linked together as one big resort.

This recalls the statement of a certain wag after viewing the famous Siamese Twins who were exhibited in this country some years ago. Examining them critically he said, "Humph, I don't believe they're any relation anyhow, though I admit they appear to have a certain family tie."

To the casual observer, Pinehurst and Southern Pines do not appear to be so intimately related, but they have two very important family ties; John Watson's development on the so-called "Old Road" and Knollwood, Midland Farms and Pinedale on the new state highway.

The writer stakes his reputation as a pen pushing prognosticator on the prediction that it won't be ten years before a stranger driving along either of these two roads won't be able to tell where Pinehurst ends and Southern Pines begins.

Theatre

S. R. Kent, of the Paramount Pictures Corporation, had this to say of "No Limit," which is the attraction at the Pinehurst Theatre this Friday afternoon and night: "When we screened 'No Limit' in our projection room last week, I said; 'where has THIS Clara Bow been all our lives?' It's a new electrifying Bow in a strong dramatic story far removed from the light stuff this star has been making." "No Limit" undoubtedly give la Bow the best talker of her career. She is ably supported by that hilarious comedy pair, Stuart Erwin and Harry Green with the result that there is a bunch of laughs from beginning to end. Norman Foster, who will be so well remembered in "The Man from Manhattan," proves an excellent foil for Clara.

The attraction at Pinehurst on Monday afternoon and night is probably a world premiere. As we go to press it has never been shown to the public. It is none other than the famous stage play, "The Easiest Way," which served as a starring vehicle for Francis Starr and made her world famous. The screen version has a marvelous cast consisting of Constance Bennett, Robert Montgomery and Adolphe Menjou in the principal roles, supported by many other well known stars.

The Pinehurst Theatre is breaking away from its policy of one night showings for its next attraction, giving Ronald Coleman in "The Devil To Pay" Wednesday and Thursday night with a Wednesday matinee. "The Devil To Pay" is entertainment plus, with Ronald Coleman giving his finest portrayal in years, which is saying considerable. This Coleman vehicle is exactly the type of story which fits the star, who takes full advantage of the situation and delivers the goods. "The Devil To Pay" is all tasty soufflé of lightheartedness, warmly spiced with sophistication, garnished with sparkling lines and situations, and served with the proposition that life simply isn't to be taken seriously.

At Southern Pines

Should the dead past remain buried. That question is asked and answered in a logical way in the Fox Movietone drama, "Once A Sinner," which is the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. Dorothy Mackail is featured in the role of "Diana Barry," a girl who trod the primrose path, encountered love and romance with a young inventor and then insisted on telling her husband-to-be of her affair with the other man. What happened as a result of that confession in their marital life is enacted in a dramatic manner in this powerful drama of domesticity. The supporting cast is headed by Joel McCrea, John Halliday and C. Henry Gordon, with Ilka Chase, Sally Blane and Clara Blandick. The story is by the well known dramatist, George Middleton.

The most expensive and the most talked-of picture since the advent of talkies is, without doubt, the spectacular air picture, "Hell's Angels," which is the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with a matinee on Tuesday. Nearly three years in the making and bearing an overhead cost of approximately $4,000,000, this lavish air-thriller is the screen sensation of the new era of talkies. Howard Hughes, the 25-year-old producer and director of "Hell's Angels" has shattered all records in time and money spent on a single picture. His prodigious outlay is discussed wherever films are shown, and fans everywhere are eager to view the first multi-million dollar talkie.

"Sticks to Facts"

Speaking of newspaper writing at the Kiwanis luncheon on Wednesday of this week, Struthers Burt, well known author, said:

"Newspapers are 'supposed' to stick to the facts. They don't all do it."

Among those which do, however, Mr. Burt said, is
