A Good Crop of Cotton
Depends on Good Seed

One of the best cotton crops grown in this section in a long time was that field of Red Cotton below Vass, which averaged last summer almost a bale to the acre in a sixty-acre field.

This field was practically free from weevil, it fruited well, grew a staple almost a full inch long, ripened uniformly, and was of good quality at the mill. Big boll, easy to pick, vigorous, quick of growth, and the crop made a profit even at the low price of cotton of last fall.

The seed from this cotton was saved after the gins had been cleaned for it to be ginned without possibility of mixing with other seed, and some of the seed is still to be had by those particular farmers who want to try a more profitable type of cotton.

Progressive farmers should try a few bushels of this promising cotton, for it looks like the best type that has come to this section.

Seed may be had at the Little River Store, Vass, N. C.

TIRE COSTS DROP MOST

	(Cost in 1926)	(Heavy lines show cost in January, 1931)
FOOD	100%	80.1%
HOUSE FURNISHINGS	100%	91.1%
BUILDING MATERIALS	100%	82.9%
FARM PRODUCTS	100%	73.5%
CLOTHING	100%	71.0%
FUEL AND LIGHT	100%	69.8%
RAW MATERIALS	100%	72.9%
FINISHED PRODUCTS	100%	80.5%
550 COMMODITIES	100%	77.0%
AUTOMOBILE TIRES	100%	45.7%

Necessity will compel millions of motorists to put new tires on their cars this spring. Economy should induce millions of others, whose tires are dangerously worn, to do the same thing. The above chart, prepared by The General Tire and Rubber Company, from official U. S. government figures, shows why motorists today can easily afford to buy the best tires made.

No other commodity has dropped as far in price in the past five years as have automobile tires. Official figures just made public by the U. S. Department of Labor prove this. Tires today cost less than half as much as they did in 1926, while the average drop in the cost of 550 commodities from 1926 to 1931 is 77 per cent. Food costs four-fifths as much as it did in 1926 and house furnishings cost more than nine-tenths as much but tires only cost 45.7 per cent as much.
