

PINEHURST LUMBER YARDS

Pinehurst, N. C.

Building is starting up again, and for the present it is encouraged by low prices of material. Lumber is a purchase at the prevailing prices, and it is a good move for those having building to do to get their material now. It is impossible that framing lumber can remain as low as it is, for the minute the building industry starts, as it is bound to do to make up for the quiet day it has been passing the call for lumber will make a difference in the price.

Now is the time to build.

Framing lumber at a price that makes it worth while to secure it. The highest qualities of Long Leaf. The select qualities of Short Leaf, all sizes, all kinds, and at prices to make it profitable to you to get busy.

WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS

SOUTHERN PINES

Dogwoods in blossom on Weymouth and out the roads over the hilltop. Hollies, azaleas and other aristocrats of the forest cover the grounds farther down. Building development continues. The Paddock is already enlarging to make room for more people and for more horses. The Andrews home is becoming an illustration of the possibilities of a bit of the Weymouth slope in the hands of skilled landscape men.

But Weymouth is a limited area. When the eastern slope is taken no more land will be made out that way.

This is the time to select a home site on Weymouth.

CARTHAGE

At the charming home of Mrs. Alonzo Blue on Monday afternoon, Circle No. Two of the Presbyterian Church held the regular monthly meeting and the first meeting of the new church year. There were 15 members present.

Plans were made for the new year. Mrs. Evelyn Blue was chosen treasurer for the circle and Misses Janie McLeod and Annie Clegg to lead the Bible study for the coming year.

Mrs. W. G. Brown was charming hostess to the Sanford Music Club at the home of her mother last Saturday afternoon. The program was prepared by Mrs. Brown and was very interesting.

Circle No. Three of the Carthage Methodist church met at the home of Mrs. Carl Gulledge Monday afternoon with nine members present. Plans were made for giving a silver tea on April 24 at the home of Mrs. J. H. Buffalo.

Mrs. G. C. Graves and Mrs. Cabell Penn were joint hostesses to Circle No. 1 of the Presbyterian Auxiliary Monday afternoon at their home here. Sixteen members were present.

Four little girls received copies of the New Testament at the Presbyterian Church on last Sunday for having recited the Child's Catechism. These children are members of Mrs. E. H. Morton's Sunday Class.

Mrs. John Beasley spent the weekend in Monroe.

Mrs. Lee Campbell and children have returned to Washington, D. C., after spending the holidays with Mrs. Campbell's mother.

Miss Katherine McCollum of Washington, D. C., is visiting her parents.

Mr. and Mrs. Joe Phillips and children are paying their annual visit to friends and relatives in Carthage and Moore county. Mr. Phillips is teaching in Kentucky.

Mr. and Mrs. E. H. Garrison were in Rock Hill, S. C., for the week-end. Walter McIver of New York is visiting his sister, Mrs. R. C. Wallace.

Friends were delighted to see Miss Howel, who used to be teacher of the Seventh grade in Carthage. She was the guest of Miss Mary Currie.

Friends of Mrs. Alice Harrington Thomas sympathize with her in the loss of her only son, P. D. Thomas of Charleston, W. Va. He had been ill for several weeks but was apparently getting along all right when he was taken by a heart attack He died on Monday. Mrs. Thomas has many friends in Carthage and Moore county, having been reared here. She is a sister of Will Harrington and Mrs. Lewis, daughter of Mrs. Mary Jane Harrington.

MR. STIMSON STARTS NEW SERIES OF SERMONS

Mr. Stimson, at the Southern Pines Baptist church, has entered on another series of four evening sermons on Sundays. Last Sunday the topic was "The Debt That Jesus Paid in Full." Next Sunday he will pay his respects to the "Religious Dead Beat," the man who takes no part in squaring off what he owes in fairness to repaying some of that debt by helping along in the cause. A week later the theme has some reference to the payments that should be due by the beneficiaries, the closing subject being "Spiritual Currency, evidently a discourse that will throw some light on the character of medium which might be used in the adjustment of the obligation that the great payment of the debt leaves with the original debtor. Mr. Stimson has been attracting an appreciative congregation with these topical discourses, which in his simplicity of handling delivers his message in a manner that makes his story plain.

CAMERON SENIORS TO GIVE PLAY NEXT FRIDAY

The Senior Class of the Cameron High School will present "Miss Adventure," a farce comedy in three acts by Charles George, Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock, April 24.

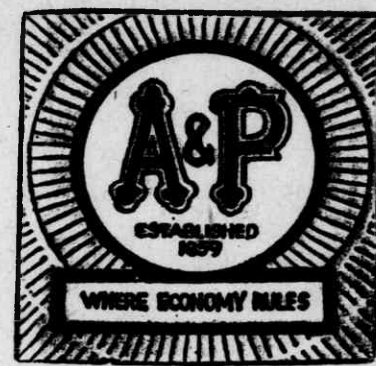

Josephine Carter, a young and pretty "tomboy" known to her friends as "Jo," is sent, against her will, to a smart girls' finishing school. For a lark, Jo and several of the girls write love letters, Jo sending her's to a nearby address in the hope that it might reach a destination. That night she steals the janitor's clothes and, disguised as a boy, escapes from the college. Arriving at a farmhouse in the morning, she applies for a position as a farmhand. The farmer, a young, good looking chap, is suspicious, but pretends to believe that Jo is a boy. The letter that Jo has written arrives at the farmhouse, the name and address being that of the young farmer. He notifies the college, also Jo's mother, who arrives with the principal of the school to take her back to college. She rebels and decides to become a "farmerette" and to marry the farmer.

The cast is as follows: Sue, a young college girl, Ida Whitaker; Betty, a young college girl, Jessie Cooper; Peggy, a young college girl, Thelma Bruner, Samson, janitor at Miss Prim's school, Clovis McDonald; Miss Prim, who conducts a school for girls, Eula Flynn; Josephine Carter, known as Jo, the tomboy, Jessie Thomas; Sarah Ann Haskins, housekeeper for Albert Brown, Flora Phillips; Rebecca Haskins, her daughter, Montie Pearl Bullock; Albert Brown, a young farmer, Andrew Hemphill; Cyrus, a bit of rural romance, Daniel Thomas; Mrs. John Tyle Carter, mother of Josephine, Ruby Goodman.

There will be special music and a complete comedy between acts. Admission 15 and 25c.

YOUR PORCH will look nice and stay nice

Lowe Brothers Porch and Deck Paint is made in a wide range of pleasing colors from which you may choose. Come in and let us show them to you.

YOUR porch will give a smiling greeting to your friends and it will prove a source of immense pleasure to you and your family if it is "fixed up" a bit.

The porch is really an outdoor sun parlor and its appearance should be considered as a matter of importance.

Due to the abuse to which it is exposed—rain, snow, sleet, ice and the hot rays of the sun—scuffing shoes and oft-moved chairs, the porch floor needs the best kind of protection that can be secured. For this protection we offer LOWE BROTHERS PORCH AND DECK PAINT.

It is very easy to put on—you will be pleased and surprised at the results you can obtain.
