Mrs. M. M. Johnson Hostess

Mrs. M. M. Johnson was a charming hostess to the Thursday Afternoon Book Club which she entertained at her attractive home on Poplar street last Thursday afternoon. The living room was beautifully decorated with spireas and jonquils, which gave a festive spring-like appearance to this occasion.

In the absence of the president, Mrs. Robert F. Stewart, the vice-president, Mrs. W. T. Huntley, presided over the meeting. During the business hour, Mrs. W. A. Blue, as chairman of the Community House, reported that a piano, five dozen chairs and other needful furniture had been donated to the Community House since the last meeting, and asked the assistance of all Book Club members in the chicken supper to be held on the following Friday night, the proceeds of which were to be used for the purpose of buying other necessary furniture. Mrs. Huntley read a petition from the Junior Order of Aberdeen asking the co-operation of the Book Club, along with other organizations in town, in lending moral support in the drive to rid this community of the liquor traffic and other evils. The secretary was requested to write a letter to this order pledging the Club's support to this movement. The prize committee was requested to select the English Prize, which this club gives annually to the pupil in High School excelling in English.

Old Southern melodies were sung by the club, with Mrs. E. L. Pleasants at the piano, after which Mrs. E. L. Barber read an interesting paper on the "First Woman Painter in America, an American, Henriette Johnston," followed by another paper on "Washington Alston, Painter, His Life and Works," read by Mrs. E. T. McKeithen, which proved to be equally interesting.

Special guests invited in for this meeting were Mrs. Margaret Jones, Mrs. Sidney Windham, Mrs. Thad Page, Mrs. C. C. Bethune and Misses Nancy Beddingfield, Mary McKeithen and Annie Grady. The next meeting will be held at the home of Mrs. J. W. Graham. A delightful social hour followed the meeting, during which the hostess, assisted by her small daughter, Miss Eva Johnson, served refreshments.

Surprised on Birthday

Mrs. Grady Burney gave a delightful surprise dinner party at the Community House in Aberdeen last Friday night, entertaining in honor of Mr. Burney's birthday. The guests present were Mr. and Mrs. Nelson Courtway, Mr. and Mrs. R. N. Page, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. Henry A. Page, Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. Grady J. Burney.

Community House Parties

The Chicken Supper at the Community House last Friday night netted the association about $40.00. On Tuesday night of this week the Young Ladies Wesley Class entertained at the house; on Wednesday afternoon, Mrs. M. Schwartzman entertained at bridge honoring her sister, Mrs. Lowry from Baltimore, who is now visiting her, and on Friday night the Ladies of the Baptist Church have a Brunswick Stew, so it will be noted that the new Community House is filling a long-felt want and is in great demand.
