

Pinehurst Paragraphs

Mrs. Marion Phillips was hostess at tea Saturday afternoon at the Country Club. Guests included Mrs. T. A. Cheatham, Mrs. I. C. Sledge, Mrs. E. G. Fitzgerald, Mrs. C. B. Hudson, Mrs. W. L. Dunlap, Mrs. E. F. Harris, Mrs. Chas. W. Picquet, Mrs. Ruggles, Mrs. Raymond Johnson, Mrs. E. B. Keith, Mrs. J. I. O'Brian, Miss May Chapman, Mrs. F. L. Dupont and Mrs. True Cheney.

On Friday evening, Mrs. Herman Campbell entertained at two tables of bridge, having as guests Mrs. A. P. Thompson, Mrs. W. R. Viall, Mrs. R. K. Footman, Mrs. F. L. Dupont, Mrs. L. L. Yost, Mrs. True Cheney and Mrs. Tom Cole. Mrs. A. P. Thompson was high score winner.

The circles of the Woman's Auxiliary of the Community Church will meet jointly with Mrs. J. S. Dunlop on this Friday evening at 8:00 o'clock. At this meeting, last minute details for the entertainment of the Fayetteville Presbyterial on May 5 and 6 will be worked out and a full attendance of members is desired.

On a recent afternoon the faculty of the Pinehurst school was entertained at a tea in the home of Mrs. I. C. Sledge. Mrs. James Quale and Mrs. Murdoch McLeod were joint hostesses with Mrs. Sledge in this charmingly appointed party.

Complimenting Mrs. Carey McLeod, Mrs. Ellis Fields was hostess in her home on Wednesday evening at a delightful miscellaneous shower. A large number of guests were present and the honoree received many lovely and useful gifts. Mrs. McLeod has been a popular member of the Pinehurst school faculty for several years and has a host of friends here who regret that she will not be back in the school again. Before her marriage in the winter, Mrs. McLeod was Miss Rozella McCallum of the Eureka community.

The Senior class play, "Miss Molly," given in the High School Auditorium on Tuesday evening was among the best ever given here and has received much favorable comment. The cast was well chosen and the presentation unusually pleasing.

The Rev. Murdoch McLeod and James Quale left Tuesday morning to attend a two-day session of Fayetteville Presbytery at Dunn. Mr. McLeod preached the opening sermon on Tuesday morning.

Miss Maureen Orcutt of Englewood, N. J., spent the week-end with Mrs. A. P. Thompson.

Dr. and Mrs. R. N. Harden, and Mr and Mrs. C. C. Carson of Greensboro were week-end guests of Mr. and Mrs. W. P. Hardin.

McKay McKinnon of Maxton was a business visitor in Pinehurst on Monday.

Mr. J. S. Dunlap, Mrs. Willard Dunlap and guest, Mrs. E. T. Harris spent Tuesday with Mrs. Henry Graves in Lakeview.

Mrs. Alma Taylor, who has been spending some time with her brother, J. W. White in Newberry, S. C., is expected to return this week to the home of her daughter, Mrs. H. W. Ehrhardt.

Mrs. Tom Cole, Mrs. Herman Campbell and R. K. Footman motored to Fayetteville on Tuesday for an afternoon's shopping.

O. H. Stutts and J. F. Taylor enjoyed several days fishing at Sneed's Ferry the latter part of last week.

Vass-Lakeview To Give Mystery Play

Students To Present "Oh, Kay" as Part of School's Commencement Program

Playlovers of the community are looking forward with eagerness to the presentation of "Oh, Kay!" the high school play which the Vass-Lakeview students will give on next Tuesday evening at 7 o'clock. Vass-Lakeview has long been noted for its ability along dramatic lines, and "Oh, Kay!" is expected to be all that its name implies.

It is a sort of mystery play with something doing every minute in the way of thrills, surprises and laughs. "Gramp Pembroke (played by Joseph Matthews) with his fliver and "Gram" Pembroke (Leamon Crouse) with her habit of trying every patent medicine on the market are a couple of comedy roles that will furnish a couple of hundred laughs. The play will bring to a close the commencement exercises.

On next Sunday morning at 11 o'clock, the Rev. F. C. Hawkins of the Sanford Baptist church will preach the baccalaureate sermon in the school auditorium. There will be no other preaching service in town in order that all may attend this service.

On Monday evening at 8 o'clock, the class day exercises will be held, and at 10 o'clock Tuesday morning Judge George H. Humber of Carthage will deliver an address to the graduates after which they will receive their diplomas.

County Poultry Ass'n. Out for New Members

The Moore County Poultry Association which was recently organized is urging every poultryman in the county to send in his membership fee during the month of April. The fee is fifty cents, and includes a year's subscription to the American Poultry Journal.

No members will be received into the association after May 1 until April of next year, according to Mr. Mayfield, so all who are interested in the success of the poultry business in the county should act at once. The association plans to assist its members in getting a market for their poultry and eggs. They will also be entitled to free service calls to treat sick birds, plan poultry houses or solve any problems which might arise and to caponizing service. Fees should be mailed to R. L. Mayfield, Vass, or sent to any of the community secretaries. Every poultryman in the county who has a surplus of poultry and eggs should be a member of the association.

Marriage License Issued

Marriage license has been issued to Myron Willis Graves and Kate Harlow Coleman, both of Pinehurst.

Theatre

At Pinehurst

Eight years ago a little girl from Alabama played her first role on the Broadway stage. She was unknown to Broadway then—just as she, although a famous star with a nation at her feet is unknown to American picture audiences today. She is Tallulah Bankhead, who left her native United States to become London's favorite toast before a breath of popularity had touched her New York stage work; who has returned to the United States, after eight years of adulation, to begin to win the acclaim of her fellow countrymen in the moving pictures. In "Tarnished Lady," the brilliant Donald Ogden Stewart drama, which the Pinehurst Theatre is presenting for its closing attraction this Friday afternoon and night, Tallulah Bankhead, co-starred with Clive Brook, makes her bow to the moving picture public. Her husky voice, her vibrant personality, her large, languid eyes will make their bid for favor in this picture, in an effort to conquer a greater world of acclaim than even her brilliant London stage success brought her. Here is an actress of assured charm, quick witted and sophisticated, able to handle a quip with lightning rapidity. In Miss Bankhead, Paramount raises the curtain on a new star, a great actress, on a new personality that will be immediately and warmly welcomed to the hearts of all theatre goers.

At Southern Pines

Robert Montgomery will be seen in his first starring role in "Shipmates," a spectacular story of Navy life, which is the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre this Thursday, Friday and Saturday. This picture climaxes one of the most spectacular careers in the history of the screen. Making his debut barely two years ago in "So This Is College," Montgomery subsequently scored one success after another in such vehicles as "The Divorcee," "Inspiration," "The Easiest Way" and "Strangers May Kiss."

"Shipmates" is a romantic narrative of the career of a daredevil sailor, and was filmed with the co-operation of the navy department. The annual force-firing practice of the Pacific Battle Fleet was filmed in sound for the first time for spectacular episodes and the U. S. S. Colorado was placed at the disposal of the company for shipboard scenes. A remarkable cast surrounds Montgomery, including Ernest Torrence, Dorothy Jordon, Hobart Bosworth, Joan Marsh and Cliff (Ukulele Ike) Edwards, who brings forth a new song hit, "I'm Looking For Someone To Care For." Plenty of laughs, thrills and romance is promised in "Shipmates."

This—to be alliterative—is a paean of praise for Paramount. As part of its share in making attractions that will "bring the kids back to the theatre" it has turned out "Skippy" which is the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre (return engagement) Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday with a Tuesday matinee and which will not only bring back the kids, but will bring back every father, mother, aunt, uncle, grandparent and big brother and sister along with them. Here is a picture with universal appeal if there ever was one. "Skippy" is great entertainment and because of its general appeal to children of all ages it is brought back for a second engagement in the Sandhills.

S. P. HIGH SCHOOL LOSES TO DURHAM TEAM AT GOLF

The golf team of the Southern Pines High School, Woodward, Grover, Harris and Gifford, journeyed to Durham Saturday playing the home four, Clay, Burke, Stone and Budd over the Hillandale course. Unfamiliar with the course and unused to the grass greens the Sandhills boys went down to defeat, winning only three points out of a possible eighteen. A return match will be played in Southern Pines on Saturday, May 2nd.

BIRTH ANNOUNCEMENT

A little daughter weighing seven and one-half pounds arrived at the home of Mr. and Mrs. Julius Simpson in Vass last Sunday. Mrs. Simpson was formerly Miss Freda Gschwind.

WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS

SOUTHERN PINES

Along about this season of the year folks from all sections set out for a trip here and there to see the floral display at some carefully advertised spot.

But the art of seeing is as useful as the outlay and time spent in going out to behold the things some one else has seen for us and told us about.

Possibly there are more interesting floral displays than the Sandhills offer just now, but the man who has at least one seeing eye can put in hours driving over the Weymouth neighborhood, down toward Fort Bragg, along the ridges North and South east of the Seaboard, amid the pines, the red maples, the dog woods, the elaborately planted homes and lawns of the Weymouth summit, and find a new delight at every turn of the road.

Right now Southern Pines is staging one of the finest floral shows in the world, and Nature cares for it.

What a place for a home in the midst of all this attraction.
