

Celebrating Release From Jail Lands Him Back in Toils of Law

Wiley Brown's Freedom Lasts Only Two Days.—Ball Game Ends in Riot

Wiley Brown, white, of the Hemp section, is again in the toils of the law. Wiley had served a fifteen months' sentence on the roads for assault on Z. B. Sanders, an elderly attorney of the upper part of the county, and had been off the chain gang only two days when he was returned to jail, before he had so much as finished celebrating his release.

The fact is, celebrating was what got him in trouble again. He and some of his friends were staging a celebration in which a fruit jar of liquor was playing an important part, and Monday found him among familiar faces to answer to charges of possessing and transporting for purposes of sale and public drunkenness. He was found guilty of unlawful possession and transporting, but not for purpose of sale, and judgment of four months in jail to be worked on the roads was rendered, execution to issue at the will of the court at any time within two years from date and he was required to give bond in the sum of $100 to appear every first Monday to show good behavior.

Rudolph Fry, white, of Pinehurst, was found guilty of assault with a deadly weapon, a baseball bat, the outcome of a near riot staged at Pinebluff last Saturday afternoon when a baseball game between Pinehurst and Pinebluff was broken up when some of the Pinehurst players got quarreling among themselves. It appearing that the defendant was at the time of his trial in jail in default of a $1000 bond required of him for his appearance at Federal court at its next term, prayer for judgment was continued until the termination of the action in the Federal court. Cecil Fry, white, of Pinehurst community, was found guilty of assault with deadly weapon and the judgment of the court was the same as in the case of Rudolph Fry.

D. A. Elliott, white of Lee county was charged with carrying a concealed weapon. He was found not guilty of this charge, but pleaded guilty to driving a car without proper license plates. Upon the defendant's depositing money to buy license plates and to pay the costs, prayer for judgment was continued.

Anderson Persons, colored, was found not guilty of assault and battery on a female, and Roy Cagle, the prosecuting witness, was taxed with the costs.

Passed Bad Check

Coy Nalls, a young white man of a good family residing in the Putnam section, pleaded guilty to a false pretense charge, and was sentenced to four months in jail to work at the county home. Nalls gave Bridges-Boone Co., a worthless check for $6.25.

A case against Arthur Hussey, charged with assault with a deadly weapon, was continued to next Monday on account of the condition of the prosecuting witness, who was hit on the head with a hoe.

Donnie Persons pleaded not guilty to a charge of assault with a deadly weapon with intent to kill. The case was continued for the State to next Monday.

Upon payment of the costs, the prosecuting attorney took a nol pros in the case of Bill Richardson, charged with public drunkenness.

John Sanders and L. G. Sanders were defendants in one case and Charlie Lucas and Mallie Lucas were defendants in another, growing out of a fight in which a knife and a pop bottle played leading parts. The cases were consolidated. John was given three months in jail to be worked on the roads and the others were required to pay one third each of the costs of the cases. All are colored men from South Carolina.

GOVERNOR RE-APPOINTS FOUR SPECIAL JUDGES

Governor Gardner has announced the reappointment of the four special judges now serving as such for the next two years, beginning July 1, as was provided in the special judge act passed by the 1931 General Assembly. The judges are G. Vernon Cowper, Kingston; Clayton Moore, Williamston; J. H. Harwood, Bryson City, and Cameron F. McRae, Asheville.

The act directs the Governor to appoint four special judges, two from the east and two from the west, and authorizes him, if he deems it necessary to name two others, one from the east and one from the west. Governor Gardner announces that because of the improved condition of the court calendars, the lessened demand for special court terms and the relief secured through handling of workmen's compensation cases by the Industrial Commission, he does not think the additional two judges necessary at this time. Judge T. L. Johnson resigned and Judge H. Hoyle Sink was appointed a regular judge last year. Their places as special judges have not been filled.

The four judges appointed, Governor Gardner states, "are now serving and have served the State for a number of years in a most satisfactory and experienced manner." All except Judge Cowper were appointed by Governor McLean.

WHY AUTOMOBILE INSURANCE?

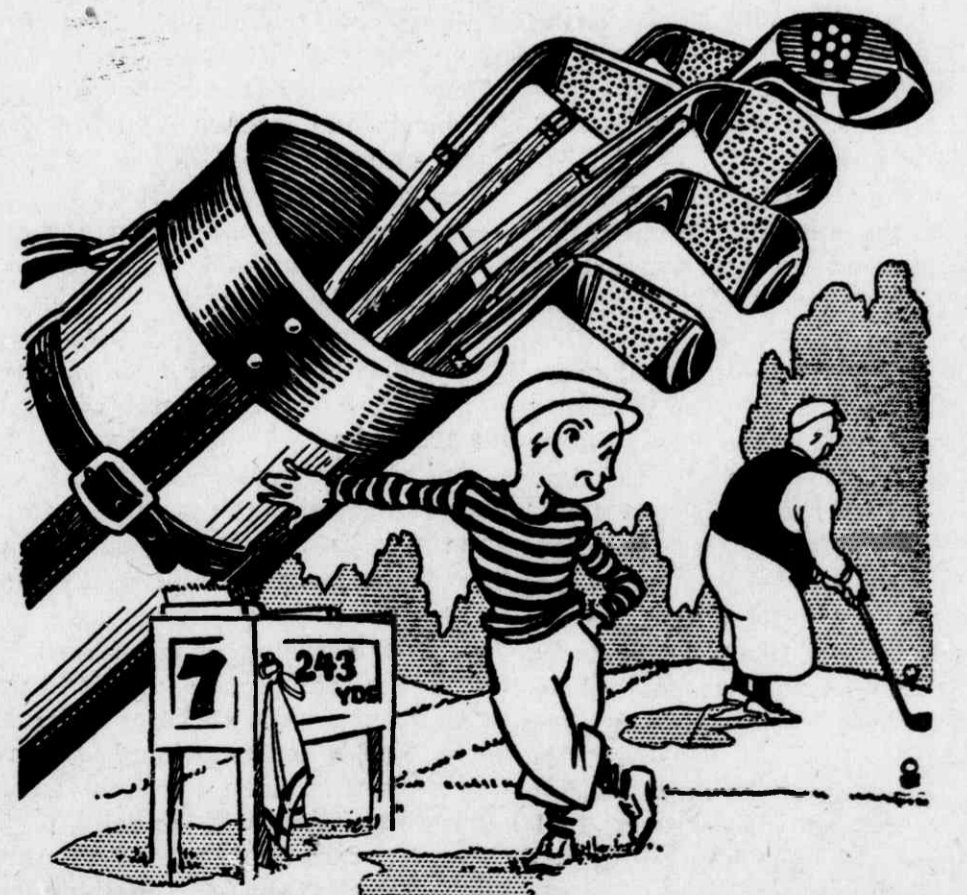

The same answer to that query will not apply to the "Why Fire Insurance?" or "Why Life Insurance?" The operation of an automobile incurs numerous risks, all of which are insurable. There is the chance of loss of the car by fire, collision, or theft, the amount involved being only its value, the least of importance. Responsibility to others for injury to person or damage to property is the greatest risk assumed in the ownership of a car and the ultimate cost may be determined before an accident except it be measured in premium for ample and sound Liability Insurance.

33,000 persons lost their lives as result of automobile accidents during 1930. The economic loss from that source during the same period is estimated at $900,000,000.00.
