Southern Pines To Sell Grass Seed at Cost To Aid in Beautification

The Southern Pines Chamber of Commerce has contracted for five tons of Italian rye grass seed to be sold at cost to residents of Southern Pines in furtherance of the Chamber's program of town beautification. Howard Burns, City Clerk, has the matter in charge and announces that in less than 100 pounds lots the price will be seven cents a pound, in 100-lb. bags the price is $5.85 the hundred, both prices strictly cash.

The price of grass seed has dropped from over 20 cents in the past two years, and the present low cost is expected to stimulate buying and planting throughout the city.

The matter of engaging someone to plant lawns for the city and for residents at so much a lineal foot was discussed at the meeting of Chamber of Commerce directors held Tuesday of last week, and referred to the Planting committee, of which R. L. Hart is chairman. A move is on foot to plant all parkways, especially along the route of U. S. No. 1.

STATE REVENUE COLLECTIONS AHEAD OF A YEAR AGO

North Carolina general fund revenue collections for August were about two-thirds of a million dollars ahead of last August's collections, due almost entirely to seasonal license and franchise tax collections, Commissioner of Revenue Maxwell reporting $2,099,319.73 for the past August and $1,365,133.91 for August, 1930.

Automobile taxes showed an increase of $211,826, or from $1,111,884 in August, 1930, to $1,323,711 last August. The gasoline tax increased nearly $22,000 over the slightly more than $1,000,000 for August, 1930, thus reflecting the increase in tax of one per cent. Gasoline sales by gallons were about the same for the two Augusts.

Seventy-Five Pictures Show Results of Teaching of Pastor A. M. E. Church

In the A. M. E. Church at West Southern Pines an exhibit was given last Friday under the direction of the pastor, the Rev. W. A. Cooper, which showed some striking evidences of skill in drawing and painting by a group of young folks, as well as the skill of the pastor in this field. Something like 75 pictures were hung on the walls of the basement of the church, covering a wide choice of subjects, every one the work of the colored children or of their pastor, who is carrying on a class in drawing among the young people of his flock.

Mention has been made in The Pilot of his work, but he had one or two new pieces in the group which were much appreciated by the audience that from time to time dropped in to see what was there to offer. The work shown by the children is really the striking features of the display. Under the instruction of the artist-clergyman the boys and girls for about ten weeks have been studying and predicting, with the result that several of the creations are of unusual merit. Three or four heads by Vivian Steele and Edna Bethea showed remarkable skill for girls of around 15 years, especially as their time of training is less than three months. Some of the portrait work by these young colored folks is astonishingly able, representing the efforts of ten or more of the class. A fruit collection would have been creditable to older workers or longer training, while some animal life is equally commendable.

Some of the white visitors who saw the exhibit suggested to the pastor to arrange for a display of the work of his class over in some prominent place in Southern Pines a little later, which met with his approval. He also says that interested persons will always be welcome to call at his house not far from the Methodist church, which is on the Pennsylvania avenue extension, and at his house most of the pictures are hung on the walls or are available for observation in other ways. The expression of opinion by those who saw the collection is that the trip over to the church was decidedly worth while.

Possessing the basic goodness of sound design and fine manufacture

CHEVROLET From the selection of raw materials to the completion of the finished Chevrolet product, each process of building, assembling and checking the Chevrolet Six is marked by extreme care and precision. An exhaustive system of test and inspection makes certain that every part meets specified dimensions exactly. Many of these parts are held to limits of one ten-thousandth of an inch. No manufacturer in the industry uses more care or precision in building and testing than Chevrolet. Just as every part of the car is soundly built, every feature is soundly designed.

In planning the motor, Chevrolet engineers were not content to offer the public anything less than tried and proved design. They knew that the only satisfactory way to get smooth, flexible power in a car is to use at least six cylinders. So they adopted the six-cylinder engine without compromise. And this is what you get in today's Chevrolet Six.

As a result of this sound designing and sound manufacturing, you can buy a Chevrolet and know you are getting a genuinely good automobile—soundly designed, soundly built, basically and technically right.

SAFETY FIRST

Cool weather will soon call for putting the heating furnace, stove or fireplace back into use. Before doing that make sure, chimneys, flues, pipe and stacks are thoroughly cleaned of soot, nests of birds and squirrels, and all smoke pipes are in good repair. Failure to do this has caused many disastrous fires.

Weymouth Heights

Southern Pines, N. C.

"Oh, but the long, long time the world shall last," sings Old Omar Khayyam, the Persian.

And he might have added that all that time folks will be looking about for the most agreeable place to make a home.

That would have led him up to more discussion of the subject, which would have brought out the fact that on Weymouth Heights, the summit overlooking Southern Pines and all the country round for miles, is the place that will always be acceptable, always convenient, and always a community of excellent neighbors.

Fort Bragg, the military reservation, just beyond Weymouth, the hunt club centers on Weymouth, the Southern Pines Country club reaches up to Weymouth, the Sandhills resort villages are all in sight of Weymouth, and everything desirable is accessible.

Many of the Weymouth homes are already engaged for the winter. The people are already beginning to come south for the winter.
