

Broke Jail Here, Gets 61 Days on the Roads

Perryman Found Guilty at Carthage.—Golf Course Trs-passers Jailed

Roy Perryman, white, was tried in Recorder's Court on Monday for escaping from the jail in Aberdeen. The defendant pleaded guilty, and was given sixty-one days on the roads.

Perryman was in jail, having been arrested on a charge of reckless driving. He is alleged to have run into the car of a nurse from Dr. Dickie's sanatorium, the accident taking place near the sand pit.

Herman Mayo, charged with driving an automobile while intoxicated, also received a road sentence of sixty-one days.

Charlie Harris and Foster Wilson, colored, will spend thirty days with the county jail as headquarters and the county home farm as place of employment for trespassing on the Pinehurst golf links.

Roy Perryman, Lonnie Brown and Ray Hight were in court on a reckless driving count, but the case was left open. Several others were continued to next Monday.

THE WEEK IN VASS

Attended Group Conference

Mrs. D. C. McGill, Mrs. Sarah Margaret McNeill, Mrs. J. M. Tyson, Mrs. R. G. Rosser, Mrs. N. N. McLean, rs. W. D. McCraney and Mrs. T. K. Gunter from the Vass Presbyterian Auxiliary attended a group conference at Jackson Springs Tuesday.

Friday night was "Ladies' Night" at the "Lodge" and an enjoyable occasion it was.

A number of the 'teen age boys of Vass have an organization which has been described as sort of an unofficial Boy Scout troop, and never was a group of members more loyal to an organization. They have erected a building, known as the lodge, in a picturesque wooded spot near town, and while none of them claims to be a real carpenter, their building is quite attractive. Here meetings are held weekly and questions of great importance discussed and settled.

Friday evening, their first big celebration was held. Their grove was lighted with lanterns and everything made as attractive as possible for the occasion. After the arrival of the guests, games were played and later a sumptuous "chicken stew" supper was served. The guests enjoying the party were Misses Catharine McMillan, Elizabeth Keith, Anna Laubscher, Bessie Klingenschmidt, Elizabeth McNeill, Mary Frank McMillan and Eva Callaghan. The hosts were Vick Keith, Bernice Graham, Remond McCraney, Harry Laubscher, Ray Griffin, Joseph Matthews, Franklin Matthews, Henry Borst, Jr. and Mack Brewer, with R. L. Mayfield as chaperon.

Miss Alice McDuffie of Sanford was the week-end guest of her sister, Miss Mattie McDuffie, at Hotel Charmella.

Little Miss Edith Hollingsworth of Southern Pines is spending this week with her grandfather, Hugh Allen.

Mr. and Mrs. H. C. Sherrer and daughter of Hamlet visited Mr. and Mrs. C. M. Winfrey Sunday.

Mrs. D. B. Nash of Columbia has come to join her husband, who for some time has been making his home on T. Frank Cameron's farm.

O. M. Spurlin, Jr., of Sharon, S. C., spent last week-end with his grandmother, Mrs. Mary E. Edwards. O. M. has entered State College in Raleigh.

Joseph Matthews came home from Campbell College, Buie's Creek, to spend the week-end with his parents, Mr. and Mrs. W. D. Matthews.

Miss Jessie Brooks left Friday for Wilson, where she will be a member of the faculty of the city schools.

Miss Sadie Matthews of Lemon Springs and Mrs. Arthur Burt of Biscoe were in town a day last week visiting Mrs. G. W. Brooks and Mrs. Bertie L. Matthews.

The communion service was observed at the Vass Baptist church Sunday morning, following a sermon on "Friendship" by the pastor, the Rev. A. H. Porter of Bonlee. Mr. and Mrs. Porter were dinner guests of Miss Florence Leslie.

Mrs. J. S. Bundy of Raleigh spent a part of last week with her daughter, Mrs. A. G. Edwards.

Robert Leslie and Athas Cockman of Rockingham were Sunday evening visitors at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. C. Leslie.

J. Hampton Thomas, J. Elvey Thomas and J. R. Thomas of Raleigh spent Sunday with their uncle and aunt, Mr. and Mrs. W. J. Cameron. Mrs. Thomas, who had been visiting in the community for several days, left with her sons to return to her home in Greensboro.

Among those attending the home coming at Sandy Grove church in Hoke county last Sunday were T. J. Smith, Mrs. Annie Chappell, Monroe and Alton Chappell, Mr. and Mrs. T. F. Cameron and Mrs. E. B. Thompson.

Mrs. A. M. Cameron and children and Miss Martha McKay spent the week-end in Buie's Creek with Dr. and Mrs. J. F. McKay.

Mrs. G. W. Brooks and Miss Jessie Brooks were Fayetteville visitors Thursday.

W. B. Graham spent several days last week in Raleigh at the bedside of Mrs. Graham, who was critically ill in Rex Hospital. Mrs. Graham is now much improved, we are glad to report.

John A. Cameron, 82, Dies at Swann Station

Prominent Citizen of Section Passes After Illness Due to Heart Trouble

John A. Cameron, prominent citizen of Swann Station, passed away at his home there on Tuesday night of last week following an illness of heart trouble. The funeral service was conducted Wednesday afternoon by his pastor, the Rev. Mr. Cook, and interment was in Cameron Grove cemetery beside his wife, who passed away about two years ago.

Mr. Cameron was in his eighty-second year. He has been unusually active for his years until about a month before his death. He had been a loyal member of St. Andrew's Church for nearly half a century, and the pastor paid a loving tribute to the life of the deceased.

Surviving are two daughters, Mrs. J. W. Smith of Vass Route 2 and Mrs. Maggie Culbertson of Mars Bluff, S. C.; five sons, M. J. Cameron of Selma, J. N. Cameron of Mars Bluff, S. C., D. H. Cameron of Olivia, A. A. Cameron of Broadway and Angus Cameron, who lived at the home place; and one sister, Mrs. Polly Walker of Swann Station.

Mr. Cameron was a brother-in-law of Mrs. A. Cameron, Mrs. Mag Cameron and W. J. Cameron of Vass.

At the Carolina

Laurel and Hardy, those two inimitable funsters who never let trouble get the better of them, selected a "natural" with which to take them from two-reelers to the feature comedy field. It is doubtful if there is a comedy today so uproariously funny as "Pardon Us," the attraction at the Carolina Theatre this Saturday (one night only), with a matinee at 3:00.

The story of "Pardon Us" is a satire on all the prison pictures of a season ago and offers ample opportunity for the popular comedy team to engage in those antics for which they are best known and to introduce specialties which will be new to their present following.

"Street Scene," pictured from the famous Pulitzer Prize play by Elmer Rice, will be presented at the Carolina Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, with a Tuesday matinee. In directing the story of a warm-hearted romance and a passionate murder against the living screen of a city street, King Vidor makes of "Street Scene" his most ambitious effort since "The Big Parade." Sylvia Sydney, in whose ears are still ringing the nation-wide acclaim that greeted her appearance in "An American Tragedy," has the romantic lead.

On Thursday and Friday (2 days only) a modern version of George Chester's famous "Wallingford" story, under the title of "New Adventures of Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford" will be the attraction. It is described by the Los Angeles Reviewers as "the best Bill Haines show since 'Slide Kelly Slide,' and Metro Goldwyn has certainly backed Bill up with a marvelous comedy cast, including Ernest Torrence, Guy Kibbee, Leila Hyams and James Durante. This Durante fellow is one of the world famous Durante-Jackson vaudeville team and he is coming through with a rush. They say he is another over-night sensation, like Clarke Gable, and that he practically "steals" this picture. "Wallingford" is guaranteed to be full of good comedy and bright dialogue.

RESIDENT OF WEYMOUTH HEIGHTS DIES IN NORTH

S. R. Smith of Southern Pines died at his winter home in Freeport, Long Island, on Monday of this week, according to word just received here. He has spent his winters here for several years, residing on Weymouth Heights near the Olmstead residence. He was married a second time last winter, his widow and a daughter by his first marriage surviving.

CHANGE MADE IN SCHEDULE

On account of the two fairs to be held in Moore county during the first and second weeks in October, it was necessary for Mrs. W. L. Ryals to make a change in her club meeting schedule. Classes scheduled for the first week will meet the third week, and those for the second will meet during the fourth week.

At the Dixie

Because of the numerous requests received from theatregoers in the surrounding section, the management of The Dixie Theatre has consented to run a Western type photoplay Saturday of this week. The attendance at this picture will determine whether or not this policy (Western pictures Saturday of each week) will be continued in the future. For the test the selection is "Wild Horse," taken from the Cosmopolitan story by Peter B. Kyne, and featuring Hoot Gibson. Highlights of the picture are the battle between real wild horses and the thrills and dangers of subduing man-killers, the excitement and color of a great rodeo and Hoot Gibson in the role of a likable "Show hand."

The attraction Monday and Tuesday is "Pagan Lady," featuring Evelyn Brent, Charles Bickford, Conrad Nagel, Gwyn Lee, Roland Young and many others. The story deals with a rum runner. Moll and her hankering to turn respectable when a missionary proposes marriage to her. It is not in any sense an underworld story. It is without shootings or killings or police or coast guards. It is sheer romance from the start.

Other pictures for the week are, Wednesday, "The Big Gamble," featuring William Boyd.

Thursday and Friday, "The American Tragedy," featuring Sylvia Sydney and Phillip Holmes.
