Cattle, Hogs, Poultry and All Kinds of Crops to be Shown at the County Fair

Exhibit Tent Twice the Size of Last Year's Ready To Receive
County's Pride

By E. H. Garrison

Exhibits for the County Fair this fall will be much more numerous and of a wider variety than last year and from all indications now these exhibits will come from every part of the county. There will be exhibits of registered cattle from Pinebluff, Pinehurst, Eureka, Cameron, Deep River and Carthage.

Mr. Ragsdale of Pinehurst has also promised us to put on an exhibit of some of his excellent Berkshire hogs from the Pinehurst farms on Little River. We are also expecting an exhibit of pigs, belonging to some of the 4-H Club members at Cameron.

In the line of farm crops there will be exhibits of all kinds and varieties of Lespedeza from the farm of Dr. Street at Glendon, Mr. Willcox of the Horseshoe and from the farms of D. A. Dunlap and W. C. Garner in the Hemp section of the county. There will be an exhibit of some Perennial lespedeza from the Pinehurst Farms and an exhibit of Grohoma from the same farms. These latter two are new plants in this section and so far as I know have never been grown here before. There will be exhibits of all kinds of farm products from all sections of the county. These will consist of all kinds. Several varieties of corn from Cameron, from Carthage, McConnell and the Spies section of the county.

Mr. Mayfield has promised us a real poultry show this year, he being in charge of this particular part of the fair. There will be exhibits of all the leading breeds of birds and turkeys in the county this year.

J. E. Collins of Cameron, R. E. Bryant of the White Hill Community and Walter McCaskill of Eureka have promised to get up some first class exhibits of tobacco. All of these men are experienced tobacco growers and I am sure that they will have something of interest this time.

There will be a booth showing what is being done at the County Home this year and the crops which have been raised there this time.

The above mentioned are just a few of the things which will be put on. There are also a great many other folks who have not been mentioned bringing in good exhibits of farm and garden products this year. E. C. Matheson of Eagle Springs is putting on

Fair Officials

Officers of the Moore County Fair, opening Tuesday of next week at Carthage, are:

- Charles J. McDonald, President.
- E. H. Garrison, Vice President.
- S. R. Hoyle, Vice President.
- R. G. Wallace, Treasurer.
- L. W. Barlow, Secretary.
- O. B. Welch, Manager.
- J. L. McGraw, Assistant Manager.

Directors: John Beasley, D. Adolph Blue, Frank S. Blue, W. W. Dalrymple, C. A. Kivett, H. Lee Thomas, B. C. Wallace and L. C. Wallace.

an exhibit of cotton and George Ross of Jackson Springs has promised to bring over part of his herd of Hereford cattle.

Our exhibit tent has been increased to twice the size that we had last year and I am thinking that anyone who misses this fair this year is going to miss a real treat in things of interest from the farms.

SCHOOL EXHIBITS

The school children and teachers of the county are looking forward to the Moore county fair with a great deal of pleasure, and practically all of the schools now in operation are preparing exhibits representing work done in the schools. Cameron, Eureka, Pinehurst, West End and Carthage school officials have already requested space for exhibits of various kinds, and indications are that the schools will play an even bigger part in the success of the fair this year than they did last.

Wednesday the 15th is school day, and all school children and teachers will be admitted to the fair grounds free. It is hoped that a large number will avail themselves of this opportunity of attending.

Those who plan to carry school exhibits to the fair should do so on Monday afternoon and if the schools wish to keep these exhibits, they should remove them on Friday.

Mr. and Mrs. T. C. Johnson of Mount Holly have moved to Aberdeen and have rooms with Mr. and Mrs. Edward Sloan on Rush street. Mr. Johnston is connected with the State Highway Commission.
