Return from Western Tour
Prof. and Mrs. E. S. Temple after a two months Western tour returned to their home in Hickory August 10, and spent two weeks with their home folks, reaching Cameron August 22, where they have rooms at the home of Mrs. Loula Muse on Carthage street. Prof. and Mrs. Temple made this tour in a Chevrolet equipped with tent, etc., and were able to rest at will; in this journey of 10,400 miles, they report "that they did not have a single puncture." They went via New Orleans and returned via St. Louis. They enjoyed Los Angeles, Portland, San Francisco, Salt Lake City and many other large cities. However, they found the waters of the Pacific too cold for bathing, and the men were wearing overcoats and the ladies fur coats in San Francisco. The wonders of Yellowstone Park were too great for mere words, and Prof. Temple speaking of the temperature in the park, said it "was so cold he went to bed fully dressed."

WAFFLE SUPPER AND OLD TIME "SPELLING BEE"

A waffle supper will be served at the Community Church in Pinehurst Friday, August 26, beginning at 6:30 p. m. The small price of 20 cents per plate will be charged. There will be a few "extras" including ice cream.

At 8 o'clock there will be an old-fashioned "Spelling Bee" to determine the best speller among the children and one to test the spelling ability of the high school students and older folks. For the latter match the old "Blue Back Speller" will be used. This supper and entertainment are being sponsored by the Pals Class of the Community Church School. They promise plenty of fun and food for young and old at a most reasonable figure. There will not be any admission charge, so bring the whole family and enjoy the evening.

People from the surrounding towns are not only invited to the supper but are also invited to participate in the spelling matches. The older persons of the section who studied the old "Blue Back Speller" are especially invited to enter the match and show the younger folks how to spell!

Will Absence Make Heart Grow Fonder?

Colored Hubby, Says Trouble with His Wife Started Before They Were Married

"You've been having trouble with your wife, haven't you?" asked the prosecuting attorney of the defendant before the bar in Recorder's Court on Monday.

Carson McLaughlin, colored, readily admitted that he had.

"When did it begin?" continued the attorney.

"Before we were married," came the reply.

Carson was in court for malicious injury to personal property and for being publicly drunk. Charges were brought by his wife, who claimed that he burned her dresses, valued at around $15, cursed and otherwise abused her and ran her off from home.

"She tore up two of my shirts," countered the defendant. Carson told the court that he and his wife had lived happily a part of the time, but that most of their married life had been trouble. "She don't like me and I don't like her and we can't get along," he explained. For the next five months they will have the opportunity of learning whether it is true that "absence makes the heart grow fonder."

Isaiah McNeill, colored man who was arrested in Vass by a highway patrolman and was shot as he fled from the officer, was given ninety days in jail to be worked at the county home. He was found guilty of driving an automobile while intoxicated and of possessing and transporting but not for purpose of sale.

Spencer Hicks and L. O. Twines were given eighteen months each on the roads for larceny. The complaining witness, a dewberry picker, claimed that on the day he was paid off, these two men approached him and while Twines held him, Hicks started to go through his pockets. About this time another man came up and the two men let their victim go. However, they kept their eyes on him the rest of the day, he claimed, and that night while he was asleep on a bench, Hicks took the money, $4.46, from his pocket.

George Ranson, colored, was fined $50 and the costs, is not to drive a car again for six months, and has hanging over him a 60-day sentence, execution to issue at the will of the court at any time in two years.

For assaulting Teulla Harrington, colored, with his fists, Parnell Mines, also colored, was given 30 days in jail. On an immorality charge Mines was given 12 months on the roads and Teulla Harrington six months in jail with permission to the county commissioners to work her at the county home or hire her out.

Clay Clegg, colored, was fined $50 for violating the prohibition law and driving a car while intoxicated. He was given a 60-day suspended sentence and is not to drive a car in six months.

Neill Ray, colored, pleaded guilty to disorderly conduct. Prayer for judgment was continued upon payment of the costs and upon his giving a deed to a person with whom he had entered into a contract.

Robert Comer, white, of Lee county was fined $50 and the costs and is not to drive a car for 90 days as a result of his driving while intoxicated.

Wiley Brown, W. C. Brown and Henry Peat were charged with public drunkenness and violating the prohibition law. Peat was given thirty days on this case and required to serve ninety days on an old account which had been suspended conditionally. These sentences are to run concurrently. The case as to the two Browns was continued as W. C. Brown was sick and unable to be in court. These three defendants are white.

Charlie Foster, colored, charged with carrying a concealed weapon and assault, was given eight months on the roads. Henry Maness, colored, found guilty in May of violating the prohibition law and given a five months sentence, was ordered to serve his term.
