Morton Holds Out Hope for the Aging

Tells Kiwanians Years Need Prove No Barrier to Achievement, Citing Examples

Superintendent W. P. of the Pine-Superintendent W. P. Morton of the Pinehurst Schools cheered up the members at their weekly meeting by proving by statistics that age is no barrier to achievement. He cited the study made by one historian into the "masterpiece age" of famous men of history which revealed that the average of these men at the time of their great achievements was 47 years. He told how studies made at Columbia and other institutions with classes of various ages had proved that men and women in the forties and early fifties learned as readily as their juniors.

Mr. Morton said the only drawback was that more opportunity for learning is not made available for older people, expressing the belief that there should be more night schools. "There are probably as many underprivileged grown-ups as underprivileged children," he said, "and our educational system should provide facilities for them." He told of the success of the school for grown-up colored people in Taylortown, Pinehurst suburb.

The meeting was held at the Community Church in Pinehurst. Willard Duniop told of the big plans for next week's afternoon and evening session on The Paddock grounds when two baseball teams made up of club members will battle for supremacy. A picnic supper will follow the ball game.

STATE REJECTS PETITION FOR COUNTY SCHOOLS

quest to leave the schools in these communities, but met with no success. More recently, the county Board of Education joined in a petition and also passed resolutions requesting the State to reestablish these schools, and the above letter is the answer.

The State will this year pay to the Carthage special tax district the sum of $4,189.81 as tuition for the Glendon, Putnam, Plank Road, Bethlehem, Mount Holly, Carbondon, McRae, Priest Hill, Springfield and Pinewood district children attending the Carthage schools.

While Moore county as a whole received more teachers this year than last, it is still carrying on with fewer than the county is entitled to have under the law. Southern Pines lacked three, one white and two colored, of having as many allotted as it was due to have, and Aberdeen is short two colored teachers.

The County Board has joined in with the local boards at Aberdeen and Southern Pines in requests that the full number of teachers be allotted, but on account of a lack of funds the State has not complied with the requests.
