Cameron and Community

On Wednesday afternoon Mrs. J. E. Snow and Mrs. H. D. Tally were charming hostess at a delightful party at the home of Mrs. Snow in honor of Mrs. H. O. Averitt, a recent bride. The rooms were lavishly decorated with long fronds of golden rod and handsome ferns, where six tables were prepared for bridge. When tallies were counted Miss Margaret Gilchrist and Mrs. McLean were awarded the prizes. The honoree was presented a handsome gift. The guests from Carthage were Mesdames D. N. Carter, George D. Carter, Sam Miller and Fred Flinchum.

Tuesday afternoon, Mrs. H. P. McPherson and Miss Manda McPherson were gracious hostess to Circle No. 1 of the Woman's Auxiliary. Mrs. J. P. Monroe of Sanford conducted a spiritual devotional and Miss Mamie Arnold, chairman, presented an interesting program. Japan, medical missions and White Cross work were discussed, after which the Bible study was conducted. The circle felt honored to have as guests two former members, Mrs. J. P. Monroe, of Sanford and Mrs. Warren Ferguson of Chicago.

In the absence of the pastor, the Rev. J. H. Buffalo, who was conducting a revival meeting at Center Church, the Rev. Frank Blue of Carthage filled Mr. Buffalo's appointment at the Methodist Church last Sunday evening. The congregation was made up of many friends and relatives who were deeply interested in hearing this able young minister for the first time.

A series of meetings will commence in the Baptist church next Sunday morning and a cordial invitation is extended to every one to attend these meetings. Owing to this announcement, the Rev. M. D. McNeill cancelled his regular appointment for the third Sunday evening, and asked his congregation to worship with the Baptists at that time. The Rev. Frank Hare, the Baptist pastor will be assisted in this meeting by some visiting minister.

Miss Nellie Kelly of the White Hill community and Miss Flora Phillips left Tuesday for Flora MacDonald College. Miss Kelly is a member of the Sophomore class. Miss Phillips, a graduate of Cameron High School, was valedictorian of her class.

Miss Jennie McDonald, trained nurse, returned home from Troy last week.

Miss Olivia Harmon of Chapel Hill is guest of her aunt and uncle, Mr.

and Mrs. R. C. Thomas. Miss Harmon has both an A. B. and M. A. degree and will soon add Ph. D. to the list.

Miss Herring of Roseboro is guest of Mr. and Mrs. Flint Loving. Mr. and Mrs. E. K. Proctor of Whiteville were guests of Mrs. Loula Muse Friday, leaving in the afternoon, accompanied by Mrs. Jewell Hemphill, for Henderson, where they were weekend guests of Dr. J. D. Muse.

William Parker left last Wednesday for Washington, D. C. where he has accepted a position in a grocery store. He will also take a business course while in the city.

Miss Margaret Thomas attended the Farm Woman's Course at State College, Raleigh, after which she spent a week with relatives in Chatham county.

Mrs. W. G. Parker and mother, Mrs. Lizzie Borst, spent several days in Petersburg, Va., visiting relatives. Wilbur Currie and Garrett Wallace of Carthage were in town Sunday.

After visiting relatives in Troy, Va., Mr. and Mrs. J. R. Loving and Miss Lucille Loving returned home Sunday.

Mr. Yow and family of Lemon Springs were guests Sunday of Mr. and Mrs. Asa Yow.

J. J. Irvin and Asa Yow, who have been ill are gradually improving.

Mrs. J. P. Turnley and mother, Mrs. Burgess, are visiting in Broadway.

Misses Jacksie Muse and Kattie Harrington were dinner guests Sunday of Miss Thuria Cole.

Archie and Fred McKeithen of Aberdeen visited Miss Mollie McKeithen Sunday.

Miss Mary McDonald spent Tuesday and Wednesday in Raleigh, guest of Mr. and Mrs. Earl York.

D. Thomasson, young son of Mr. and Mrs. B. T. Thomasson of route 1, is again a patient at the Moore County Hospital where he underwent an operation for adhesions. Young Thomasson was critically ill about a year ago, and was a patient at this hospital for some six or eight weeks after an appendicitis operation.

Archie Lawhon accompanied by an uncle and some nieces and nephews of Fayetteville, was in town Sunday afternoon, visiting the grave of his grand-father and graves of other relatives in the cemetery.

Mrs. J. M. Guthrie who has been confined at home with an infected foot is much better.

THE WEEK IN VASS

Mrs. Lawrence Hostess

Mrs. C. A. Lawrence was hostess to the Girls' Circle of the Presbyterian church an evening of last week at which time a very interesting program on Japan was given with Miss Marian McMillan as leader. During the Bible study period questions on the book of John were asked by several of the girls.

A delightful social hour followed the program during which several games and contests suggestive of the mission field in Japan were enjoyed. Refreshments were served and miniature Japanese fans were given as favors. Miss Jessie Brooks and Mr. W. M. Moore were special guests for the social hour.

Family Reunion

Members of the family of Mrs. Jane Keith assembled at her spacious country home three miles from Vass on Sunday for a family reunion, it being their custom for the family to come together each September to celebrate Mrs. Keith's birthday anniversary. A bounteous picnic dinner was enjoyed at the noon hour.

Those present included Mr. and Mrs. W. H. Keith and family of Vass; Mr. and Mrs. J. W. Atkinson and Tommy Atkinson of Southern Pines; Mr. and Mrs. E. B. Keith and Billy Keith of Pinehurst; Mrs. R. E. Patterson, Rebecca Patterson and Miss Andrews of Manley; Mr. and Mrs. Floyd Keith, Floyd, Jr., and Mrs. Garrett of Red Springs; T. J. Keith of Fort Bragg; Mr. and Mrs. J. D.
