At the CAPITAL

By M. R. Dunnagan, The Pilot's Raleigh Correspondent

In January 10.2 per cent of North Carolina's population was on direct relief, as compared with 8.9 per cent in December, and the number of families receiving such relief increased from 56,042 in December to 65,852 in January, Mrs. Thomas O'Berry, N. C. director of relief, reports.

Cold weather and seasonal employment, the latter not overcome by CWA job placements, is considered largely responsible for the increase of nearly 10,000 families in January over December. At the end of January 57,798 families were on the relief rolls, as compared with 47,635 at the end of December. January and February show the largest relief rolls during the period of relief work.

Stanly county continues to remain at the head of the percentage column as requiring less relief than any other county in the State. In January only 1.3 per cent of its population required aid. In 58 of the counties less than 10 per cent of the population required aid in January.

Moore county, the report shows, had 34 per cent of its population on relief in January. In this county 1,994 families were given relief during January, at a total cost of $9,626.02, while at the end of the month the number of families on relief was 1,520, a smaller number, naturally, than the total given relief during the month.

The bill proposed by the National Association of State Tax Administrators for enactment by Congress to protect local retail sales of merchandise in sales tax states and authorizing equal taxation of interstate sales had made very satisfactory progress, according to Commissioner of Revenue A. J. Maxwell and Harry McMullen, director of assessments and collections, back from Washington.

"The bill was introduced in the House by Mr. Boehne, of Indiana, and in the Senate by Sen. Pat Harrison, of Mississippi, on Tuesday of last week and in each House referred to the Committee on Interstate and Foreign Commerce, the N. C. Tax men state. "On Wednesday each of these committees appointed sub-committees to give it consideration. On Wednesday afternoon the proponents of the measure were given a hearing by the House sub-committee, and by arrangement with the Senate sub-committee briefs were presented Thursday.

"Before leaving Washington yesterday we understood that requests had been made by mail order houses for a hearing in opposition to it. No other opposition to the measure appeared. The Chamber of Commerce of San Francisco filed full endorsement.

"In express terms the proposed statute would have no effect upon the great preponderance of interstate commerce handled through the usual channels of sales to merchants, dealers of manufacturers for resale as merchants or in manufactured goods. All transactions of this character are already reached by a sales tax on retail dealers. It applies only to actual retail selling in this State by out of state merchants. If they send their solicitors or agents into the State, or distribute retail sales catalogues, competing with local merchants, the foreign merchant will have to file his sales tax returns and pay the State sales taxes exactly like the home merchant.

Reduction of the gasoline tax and automobile license plate tax will not be asked in any specific amount by the Carolina Motor Club's committees until a further study by a sub-committee shows just how much they can be reduced and still meet the needs for paying bonds and interest, and maintaining the present system, with such construction as is considered necessary, it was decided at a meeting of the Motor Vehicle Taxation and Diversion and the Road Construction and Conditions committees in Raleigh Wednesday.

The sub-committee will also secure data on the amount of taxes raised from the sale of passenger car plates and truck plates, income which is not aggregated now, before making its recommendations as to the reasonable reduction in rates it will recommend and seek legislation to make operative at the next legislature. It was made plain that reduction will not be sought which would jeopardize the credit of the highway system of the State.

Chairman E. B. Jeffress, of the State Highway and Public Works Commission, cited that of the 57,

000 miles of highways in the State 7,000 miles are weather surface types, and presented a map showing where 3,412 miles more of this type is badly needed. The first obligation is the $9,000,000 pledged to payment of highway bonds, and the second is a like amount for adequate maintenance, he said. The department has been able to get along on a "cut to the bone" budget because it had contracts at lower prices than now prevail for materials needed, but these prices are now having meteoric rises, he said.

Retirement of Judge Frank A. Daniels, Goldsboro, at the end of his present term, next December 31, has precipitated a lively fight in his judicial district. The newest possible recruit to the list of aspirants to his post is Charles Ross, Lillington, for several years general counsel for the State Highway Commission, and previously an assistant Attorney General. Apparently Mr. Ross is giving the race some thought and is considered a likely candidate.

Clawson L. Williams, Sanford, now solicitor, K. R. Hoyle, Sanford, and D. H. Bland, Goldsboro, have already announced entry into the race, and F. H. Brooks, Smithfield, is expected to enter. And the solicitor's place, which Solicitor Williams is relinquishing to seek the judgeship, is offering another lively tilt. James Best and J. Robert Young, both of Harnett county, and Claude C. Cannady, Johnston, are announced candidates, while Daniel L. Bell, Pittsboro is likely to enter the race.

Governor Ehringhaus has written Chester C. Davis, of the AAA, Washington, urging that the potato be included in the list of major crops, in order that growers may benefit by the legislation provided for cotton, tobacco, corn-hog, wheat and other crops.

Share planting, Governor Ehringhaus, points out, is largely responsible for the over-production of today, and any plan that leaves it out cannot reach the problem. "It is the most positive, seductive, and potent influence in bringing about over-production of potatoes that I know," he writes, saying that before the advent of share planting, there was no over-production problem.

Republicans to Meet in Charlotte

Moore Assigned Thirteen Delegates and As Many Alternates

The Republican State Convention, to be held in Charlotte April 4, will have in attendance 1,113 accredited delegates, with a like number of alternates, the number based on the number of Republican votes cast for governor in 1932. Chairman James S. Duncan, Greensboro, has computed.

County conventions to elect delegates and alternates to the convention are to meet prior to April 3. Congressional conventions to name candidates for Congress are to meet prior to April 13, according to the plan. Chairman Duncan reminds that candidates for State, judicial and congressional offices must file notice of candidacy with the State Board of Elections by April 14 and candidates for county offices and the legislature must file with county boards by May 5.

Chairman Duncan is expected to have opposition in his post of State chairman, W. C. Meekins, Hendersonville, son of Federal Judge I. M. Meekins, is said to be seeking the post, while A. I. Ferree, Asheboro, lawyer, and once a candidate for Congress, are mentioned as possible opponents.

Guilford county will have the largest number of delegates to the convention, with 43, while Buncombe is relegated to second place with 43. Wilkes county will have 34 and Randolph and Davidson 33 each.

In 14 counties the Republicans are so scarce that they will have only one delegate each. Several of them are in the northeastern section, where the Democratic candidate, Governor J. C. E. Ehringhaus lives. These 14 one-delegate counties are Bertie, Caswell, Currituck, Greens, Hoke, Hertford, Hyde, Jones, Martin, Northampton Pasquotank Perquimans, Scotland and Warren.

Moore county is assigned 13 delegates and as many alternates in Chairman Duncan's division.
