HORSE SHOW-GYMKHANA ATTRACT LARGE CROWD

was lost in the shuffle. In the musical stalls Miss Mary Grace Pethick of Southern Pines was the last to remain in and took first prize. This is the old "Going to Jerusalem" game, played on horseback. The Tilting event, which calls for the piercing of rings with a spear while at full gallop, was taken by Corbett Alexander, and the balloon piercing contest by Miss Dorothy Pottle of Southern Pines, the young lady who was second in the race for Queen of the Festival this week.

The equestrian program was followed by a drill of motorized Battery B, of the 17th Field Artillery, four gun squads showing with what rapidity they could set up their huge motorized field pieces ready for action, then tear them down and move them off behind the big Ordnance Department trucks which are part of the equipment on view all this week in the heart of town. It was a fine exhibition and thoroughly enjoyed.

Several thousand people gathered to witness the various sports events which featured the third day. The band concert in the Municipal Park was followed by an exhibition golf match at the Country Club. Tommy Armour of Chicago, former British champion and former national open champion, and Emmet French, Youngstown, Ohio, played Roy Bronsdon of Oosterville, Mass., and Ellis Maples, Mid-Pines Club pro, for a tie in a best ball foursome on the championship course at Southern Pines Country Club. Armour carded a 68, three strokes under par, while Bronsdon turned in a 69.

In the archery event Thurman S. Fowler of Boothbay Harbor, Maine, won first honors in the American round with a score of 419. T. N.

Barnsdall of Bradford, Pa., was runner-up with a score of 417.
