scant margin in the American League, and the New York Giants have a slight lead over St. Louis and Chicago in the National League as the two races narrow down to the home stretch before the World Series. It looks like the Tigers and Giants.

WOOLNOUGH PLANS FINE RESIDENCE ON WEYMOUTH

most notable English architects developed the Georgian lead, and its suitability for the wide spaces of territory in America gave it early favor over here, more especially in the South. It is a type of great simplicity but carrying the classical lines of its Italian ancestry, and Mr. Woolnough has encouraged his architect to design the structure with all regard for the principles that generations have embodied in the Georgian of the present American period.

The cost of the new house is not given out, but it is apparent that it will be among the prominent few of the houses in the Sandhills, and for that matter it will be one that all North Carolina can include in the class A group.

Mr. Woolnough is an interesting addition to the community now that he has come permanently. He began life as a newsboy in Niagara Falls, on the Canadian side, and progressed rapidly from one line of work to another until he had created the National Groceries company, of Canada, one of the foremost things of its kind on the globe, and by the way one that has pushed forward steadily during the depression, while most of the world has been sailing close to shore. He is chairman of the board of managers, and along with his work there he is associated with other big concerns, and what is most of all he is a genial chap and a likely leader in some of the things that help to make the community.

BASEBALL SEASON OVER; ABERDEEN-WEST END WIN

sor, was nicked for four hits and two tallies in his one frame of hurling.

The series proved very popular with the crowds. The average attendance was estimated at about 400. Threatening weather conditions throughout the series held the attendance down somewhat.

The spectators were treated to a good brand of baseball all the way through, with the last two games the best-played. It was a fitting climax to the baseball season of 1934.

If it is Printing we can do it and do it right
