MOORE COUNTY BAR PAYS TRIBUTE TO JUDGE ADAMS

(Continued from page 1) position. He was thereafter elected to succeed himself and was unopposed for the Democratic nomination to succeed himself for another term at the time of his death. His opinions on the Supreme Court bench attest a high judicial quality, a ripe scholarship, a sound psychology and an abounding human sympathy. Ever a deep student of the law, he had a profound knowledge of its history. He had dug deeply in legal learning and his purpose ever was to do exact justice. None ever questioned his integrity or uprightness and all respected his unusual legal attainments and recognized his unflinching devotion to duty. Loyalty was a fundamental mark of his character. He was devoted to his home, loved his home town and county, loved his church and was always found in attendance upon his ordinances, was deeply attached to his State and his friends, and gave to his work as judge the best that he had in distinguished service.

We shall not again soon see his like. He honored in distinguished service his county and State and leaves a life of high example.

He died unexpectedly after a serious operation in Johns Hopkins Hospital after he was thought to be near recovery. He was buried in Cross Hill cemetery in Carthage. His funeral was attended by the Governor of the State, the members of the Supreme Court and a large concourse of the most distinguished people of the State.

An editorial tribute published in the Raleigh News and Observer on May 21, 1934 was also made a court record.

Those of Lakeview who attended the homecoming at Rosendale Church Sunday, were Mr. and Mrs. C. G. Priest and family, A. C. Blue, Mr. and Mrs. Deese and family and Miss Jennie McCrimmon.

A. B. Sally, Miss Lailovra Sally and A. B., Jr., and Mr. and Mrs. John F. Taylor and sons, John and Jack spent the week-end on the coast fishing.
