liberty of each of us. Any religion which ignores the meaning of the prayer that the Kingdom of God may come on earth and tries to solace the disinherited by the hopes of comfort in a future heaven deserves the scornful title, "the opiate of the people." But make no mistake in this matter of social planning. To remake or re-think the world in the spirit of Jesus means the facing of ingrained prejudices.

The Peril of War

There are at least four areas of social strain and peril which give deep concern today. International discord with the peril of war threatens the foundations of civilization. Interracial antagonisms breed hatreds and contempt which foment all manner of conflicts. Industrial revolution in methods of production, with a resultant antagonism between capital and labor, and its perils of injustice, plunges the nation into intermittent civil war. Agriculture which is at the basis of all our living has so far failed to insure the producers of food of a living that all the best minds have been able to suggest is that the farmers be paid for destroying their crops and their cattle. Thus, in the midst of unexampled plenty, our failure to make a fair distribution of the products of our farms and factories has plunged us all into one of the worst depressions in history. For all our common sin in these four fields of the nation's life, let us confess our faults and seek a better way.

It is not the business of the preacher or the church to write the laws which shall correct these abuses in these four fields of life; but, whenever and wherever the attitude and institutions of society are unbrotherly, it is the duty of a disciple of Christ to proclaim the message of Jesus and to work for the coming of the Kingdom of God, the realm of good will. Those who profit by social iniquity and those who are blinded by racial and international prejudices will call us Reds and Bolshevists and declare that the Church should stick to the "simple Gospel" and leave matters of public policy alone. Such objectors do not know the meaning of the Gospel, which is simply the good news that God is our Father and that all men are brothers. He who says that the Sermon on the Mount is not practical is a heretic. As slavery and piracy were banished by the growing power of Christianity, so must war, industrial strife, and the whole brood of vipers which prey upon the vitals of the race be destroyed by the intelligent and brave application of the teachings of Jesus. These evils are not an abiding part of the plan of God for his children. We are to believe in Christ as the Lamb of God who is taking away the sin of the world. To neglect or obscure the social teachings of Jesus in this crisis would be fatal to the church.

Social Development

The great commission of our Lord to go into all the world and preach the good news of God's love, teaching men everywhere to do all that Christ had commanded rings also with a promise. He said: "Lo, I am with you always, even unto the consummation of the age." Therefore I believe that Christ is now with his Church, leading in the social development of this bewildering age. As we teach his precepts of brotherhood, we are not alone. His Spirit is with us and the Kingdom cometh in the power of His Presence. It is the radiant power of this truth that is at the bottom of all that is good in the Oxford movement. As we share our vision of His Presence and commit our lives to the leadership of His Spirit we shall be able not only to be changed in our inner lives—we shall be able to change this corrupt social order into the Christian way of life.

But the Brotherhood of the children of God is not limited to this earth. We are to pray that God's will may be done on earth as it is in heaven. The risen life of Christ brings us into such an assurance of the reality of our communion with God that we are no longer under bondage to the fear of death. Nothing can separate us from this eternal fellowship. We share in the glorified triumphant life of our risen Lord who brings life and immortality to light in the Gospel, the glad good news of the love of our Father, God.

This then is my message. God is our Father and we are all brothers. The possibility of friendship with God is the good news which I am commissioned to preach. All men can enter this redemptive comradeship with Jesus in bringing in the realm of good will. The redemption, renewing power of the friendship of Jesus is the greatest fact in the universe. To bring men face to face with Jesus Christ that they may know him and the power of his risen glorified life is the deepest personal joy that a man can know and the largest social service that he can render. To this faith in God, Man and the Coming Kingdom of good will I come through Jesus Christ, who at the close of his earthly ministry described his relations with his disciples by the name of friendship, saying, "Greater love hath no man than this, that a man lay down his life for his friends. Ye are my friends."

The Carpenters of Moore County---

To the Contractors and the Public---

"Newton D. Baker has lately written that local communities will either pay for welfare (RELIEF) work, or pay greatly increased federal taxes for that purpose.

The Moore County Carpenters Association have asked the Contractors of Moore County for a Collective Bargaining Agreement in a minimum wage of 60c per hour for a 40 hour week.

(The President has established 40c per hour for common laborers in all construction work.)

The Carpenters Association desires to follow the President in his call for a Labor and Capital truce.

Following are excerpts from signed expressions of opinions by citizens on the question of wages between the Moore County Carpenters and Contractors:

FROM SOUTHERN PINES:

"I believe that sixty cents ($60) per hour is a fair wage to the Builder and the Carpenter."

"I am perfectly willing to pay sixty cents an hour to qualified carpenters."

—ROBERT CORNWELL.

FROM PINEHURST:

"I do not think that 60c an hour is too much, provided that you do not set that price on all so-called carpenters, some carpenters are cheap at even 65c or 75c an hour."

—CHAS. W. PICQUET.

"It seems to me that under present conditions a fair minimum wage of $5.00 or $5.50 cents per hour could be established."

—W. P. MORTON.

"I believe the hourly rate should be not less than 65c. If this rate does go into effect, which I hope it will, it would not interfere in any way with having any proposed work done on the property of which I have charge."

ELMER M. SIMKINS, Agent.

FROM CARTHAGE:

"I believe that 60c per hour will be a fair price for experienced carpenters at present."

—L. R. FLINCHUM.

"I am of the opinion that a minimum wage of 60 cent an hour would be reasonable wages for carpenters employed on public work at this time."

—H. LEE THOMAS.

"Unless the scale is about 65 cents per hour the whole purpose of the program will be defeated."

—F. H. UNDERWOOD.

*to get together and establish a fair wage scale of sixty-cents per hour for expert Carpenters of Moore County."

—C. T. HENSON, Mgr. Jones Dept. Store.

FROM ABERDEEN:

"Under present conditions with prices on commodities advancing as they are, we feel that a fair wage for a Journeyman Carpenter would be 75c per hour, which at forty hours a week would only give them a living wage."

—MELVIN BROS. INC.
—T. S. MELVIN
—J. K. MELVIN

"We think that the rate of pay for carpenters in the county should be about 65 cents per hour."

—A. L. BURNLEY, Burney Hardware Co.

"It is our opinion that a fair hourly wage for workmen of this nature would be 75c per hour and with a maximum work week of 40 hours."

—ABERDEEN HARDWARE CO., J. D. McLean.

"In your fixing a scale of wages for skilled carpenters, I would recommend that you adopt the pay of 60 cents to 75 cents per hour."

—W. H. McNEILL.

"I am of the opinion that carpenters should be paid a price ranging from 60 to 75c per hour, that is a No. 1 carpenter."

—J. R. McLEAN.

The average carpenter works an average of 100 days per year.

60c PER HOUR, 8 HOURS PER DAY FOR 100 DAYS GIVES A CARPENTER $480.00 PER YEAR.

Again we ask the contractors for this agreement.

And we will welcome further expression from the public on our endeavor to make our carpenters self-supporting citizens.
