

Pinehurst Teachers All National Assn. Members

Faculty Also Hold Hundred Percent Membership in State Body

The teachers in the Pinehurst Schools evidently desire to keep in touch with the educational progress of the nation. They hold a 100 percent membership in both the North Carolina Education Association and the National Education Association.

The journals published by the State and National associations are among the best. They furnish splendid material for study and discussions at faculty meetings. Through these journals the teachers can learn what other progressive schools are doing. These journals tell a continuing story of the purposes, achievements and needs of education.

The Pinehurst Schools are making an honest effort to educate for tomorrow. Some noted educator has said that the schools that are merely up-to-date are twenty years behind. "Educating for Tomorrow" is the general theme for American Education Week beginning November 5. All programs for that week will be looking toward the development of better types of schooling. This year the Pinehurst Schools and community are interested in a larger and stronger program of physical education. The Pinehurst citizens presented two beautiful plaques to the school on the opening day—one for the high school and the other for the elementary school. At the close of school the name of the grade winning the most points and the pupil winning the most points will be placed on these respective plaques. E. S. Webb directs the program in the high school and E. C. Cunningham supervises the program in the elementary school. One of the Pinehurst teachers is writing an article for publication giving this Physical Education program in some detail.

Gubernatorial Candidates

Reports are beginning to pick the candidate for Governor from eastern North Carolina in 1940, although the status of the government race in 1936 is by no means determined. Kenneth C. Royall, Goldsboro and Raleigh lawyer, is the latest name injected into that class. He was former Wayne county senator and president of the N. C. Bar Association. He is being talked some in the east, which, under the east-west alternating unwritten law, will get the Governor in 1940. The name of Charles M. Johnson, State treasurer, has also been mentioned. Several others will get into the limelight before the end.

May Enter the Lists

Clyde R. Hoey, Shelby, came a little nearer to saying something last week on whether or not he will enter the race for Governor next time, but he has not come to a definite declaration yet. Asked about the possibility, Mr. Hoey said something like this: "If I should have to enter into a long and bitter fight to get the nomination, I would not be interested. On the other hand, if there should appear a fairly unanimous sentiment for me and a genuine widespread desire on the part of the people to see me Governor, then (and this is the point at which his declaration become unsatisfactory) then that would be another matter." But he doesn't yet say he will or that he won't.

State Fair Earns Money

The 1934 State Fair has been the most successful and satisfactorily held in North Carolina in many years and from practically every viewpoint. The State this year had a contract with Norman Y. Chambliss, Rocky Mount, and George Hamid, New York, by which the State will receive 10 per cent of the gross receipts, with a minimum of $4,000. Early estimates are that the State will receive from $6,000 to $7,000 as its share of the proceeds. The State Board of Agriculture had charge of the fair and leased it. Rain one night interfered with the crowd, but the rest of the time the weather was ideal. Fire Wednesday night destroyed all of the exhibits in the East wing. These included those of the Departments of Agriculture, Conservation and Development, and State College and State Hospital, Raleigh. The exhibits, free acts, animal race, midway and other features were to or above normal.

Fall Campaign On

Democrats of North Carolina are getting into full swing in their campaign for votes in the general election November 6 and have started a vigorous drive. Headquarters in Raleigh is a busy place and Chairman J. Wallace Winborne and Secretary Cutler Moore are active in the mechanics of the biennial political season.

Chairman Winborne and Mrs. C. W. Tillett, Jr., vice-chairman, have covered the entire state in a series of Congressional district conferences, finishing with three last week, at Edenton, Tarboro and Goldsboro. These have been very valuable in giving the party officials a picture of the State as a whole. Every county has been represented at the 11 conferences and interest in the campaign has been marked. From 50 to 100 attended each.

Hoey On the Stump

Speakers are now beginning to appear and will be on the hustings from now on. Harold D. Cooley, Fourth district has been one of the most active so far, and will speak in a dozen or more places outside his own district. Clyde R. Hoey, always a favorite, has about a dozen speeches scheduled and has already delivered a few. He will speak almost daily. Governor Ehringhaus started at Reidsville last Friday night and will speak at Smithfield October 22, and will make probably half a dozen other speeches. Congressman J. Walter Lambeth has a busy schedule, largely in his own district.

"Our Bob" To Speak

Senator R. R. Reynolds has promised to return to this country from Mexico in time to make several speeches during the last week of the campaign. Senator J. W. Bailey has also promised to make several appearances. Numbers of others, including Major L. P. McLendon, and other leaders will speak.

Chairman Winborne is well pleased with the beginning of the campaign. He has stressed the need of getting out the Democratic vote this year, in order to prevent charges of repudiating the President Roosevelt and Governor Ehringhaus administrations. He is keeping the machinery oiled, not through any fear this year, but to have it ready for the Republican onslaught in 1936. He particularly is urging election officials to learn the election laws and to apply them religiously, so there will be not possible chance of charges of irregularities in the election this fall.

4,150 Motor Cars in Moore County Oct. 1st

Registration Figures Show 3,400 Passenger Cars and 750 Trucks Here

North Carolina had 439,200 motor vehicles, including 359,206 automobiles and 79,994 trucks, registered on October 1, as compared with 374,604 motor vehicles, 305,613 automobiles and 68,991 trucks, on the same date of last year. L. S. Harris, director of the Motor Vehicle Bureau, reports.

Moore county had 3,400 automobiles and 750 trucks at the beginning of this month, as compared with 3,000 automobiles and 700 trucks a year ago, October 1, 1933. These figures are secured by measuring the cards on file, each representing a vehicle, and are with in a dozen of the actual county, Mr. Harris explains.

Three months ago the motor vehicles registered in this county were 2,925 automobiles and 650 trucks; six months before there were 2,680 automobiles and 575 trucks. For the entire year of 1933 the registration was 3,100 automobiles and 775 trucks.

Reports of the Revenue Department show that up to Saturday, October 13, the State registration this year had reached 450,000, which included the sales of several thousand plates as of October 1 for the one-fourth price of the plates when sold at the beginning of the year.

RINGLING BROS. CIRCUS TO SHOW MONDAY IN CHARLOTTE

The world's mightiest amusement entourage, the Ringling Bros. and Barnum & Bailey Combined Circus with its gigantic 1934 program of new world-wide wonders, many of which have never before appeared in America is scheduled to exhibit in Charlotte on Monday, October 22.

The gorgeous, vastly enlarged inaugural spectacle, "The Durbar of Delhi" stupendously introduces the multitude of arenic marvels that succeed this populous panoramic display.

The great new international congress of features presented in the seven rings and stages, huge hippodrome track and the maze of aerial rippings includes the recently imported Otari Troupe in the most astounding mid-air feats ever witnessed. These intrepid performers fly from all points of the compass at the same time in perilous forward and reverse flights through space from their lofty aerial cross.

The Otoris with such arenic notables as Mile. Gillette, Europe's sensation of the air, now appearing in this country for the first time and the celebrated Torence-Dolores, Merckels, Willos and Spurgat Troupes, all new to this continent, are among the 800 men and women circus stars presented by the big show this year.
