JAMES L. COLE DIES AT HOME NEAR CARTHAGE

Funeral services for James Lawrence Cole, 61, who died Sunday at his home near Carthage, were conducted in Carthage Presbyterian Church Monday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Rev. W. S. Golden, pastor of the deceased, officiated. Interment followed in the Presbyterian Cemetery.

Mr. Cole, the son of the late Benjamin and Margaret Cole, was born and reared near Carthage, and was a member of a well-known Moore County family. Surviving are his widow, who was Miss Betty Priest, and six children, Laura, Allie, Elizabeth, Anna, George and James; three sisters, Mrs. Thomas A. Stewart, Mrs. John Barber and Miss Ada Cole and three brothers, Robert, George and Roy all of Carthage.

Mr. Cole was a farmer, and surveyor. He was a quiet man, modest in manner, friendly toward all who knew him. He was a man of patient industry, always busy at some useful task. His many friends will miss him and the sympathy of the entire community goes out to his bereaved family.

78,767 QUARTS OF FRUITS AND VEGETABLES FOR RELIEF

reopening and if the experiment proves successful the plan will be adopted on a larger scale next year. It is the use of Moore county pottery as containers for the kraut and pickle. There had been many calls for churns and there was a potter in the county who was on relief, so the local relief office hit upon the plan of giving the potter work by allowing him to make churns of two-gallon capacity to be used as containers for kraut to be distributed among needy families, and as soon as the kraut is consumed, presto, change! a regular churn lid converts the kraut jar into the needed churn. The potter furnishes two covers for each churn, a tight-fitting one to be used while it is a kraut jar and the usual style with the hole in the center for the familiar ker-chug, ker-chug dasher. The pickle is being placed in smaller jars that will also prove useful in the kitchen. Pottery as well as wooden kegs have been used as containers for kraut in farm homes since pioneer days, but the tin can has been the accepted container for all canning done on a large scale or for commercial purposes.

School lunches will be further supplemented by an estimated yield of 365 bushels of sweet potatoes from two fields in Pinehurst and Spies, and by 250 bushels of peas to be set aside for this purpose from these grown on the 50-acre "pea patch" near the airport.

PINEHURST

The regular monthly meeting of the Pinehurst Parent-Teacher Association was held Wednesday afternoon in the school auditorium with Mrs. Herman Campbell, president, presiding. The meeting was opened with the 1st and 2nd grades singing a group of songs directed by Miss Blue, music instructor. Mrs. Campbell spoke briefly of the purposes of the association. The budget as arranged by the council was read and adopted. It was decided to have a benefit supper Thursday night, November 1st in the Community Church assembly room and Mrs. Charles and Mrs. Ellis Fields were appointed joint chairmen of the supper committee. An excellent menu at a nominal charge had been arranged and those in charge will be prepared to serve the usual large crowd.

Mrs. Clarence Thomas, chairman of the membership committee, announced that transportation would be furnished parents from the country or bus pupils who were kept to be on programs.

It was reported by Mrs. Ethel Journey that the school cafeteria was running smoothly and the suggestion that a shower be given the cafeteria within the month was approved. Mrs. T. A. Cheatham reported for the loan closet committee, in the absence of the chairman, Mrs. Foster Kelly. Plans were made to purchase new scales to replace the worn out, inaccurate one now used in checking the children's weight. Mrs. T. A. Cheatham and Mrs. Gordan Cameron were asked to attend to this matter.

Dr. F. C. Pinkerton and Mrs. Pinkerton left the last of the week for Washington, N. C., where Dr. Pinkerton has located for the practice of medicine. They had lived in Pinehurst for several years and will be greatly missed, both here and in the surrounding country where he had extensive practice.

Miss Janie Henley of Raleigh is spending some time with friends here. Miss Henley for a number of years was a member of the Moore County Hospital staff.

Mr. and Mrs. Ivey Sally announce the birth of a daughter, Lucy Ann, at the Moore County Hospital on Friday, October 19.

Theatre

One of the most sparkling and delightful screen romances ever to merge from Hollywood, is the attraction at the Southern Pines Theatre, Monday, Tuesday and Wednesday, October 29, 30, 31, with a Tuesday matinee. Its name is "Lovetime," and it is the creation of Fox Film, a producing company which deserves much credit for undertaking so unusual a project. Great good taste and foresight were required to discover that a fascinating picture could be derived from certain romantic incidents in the life of Franz Schubert, one of the world's greatest composers. Actual situations in this career of this colorful figure have been employed in the screen story, which tells an idyllic tale of love lost and won again. Its setting is the Austrian countryside and Vienna, with the fields and woods of the former interchanging swiftly with the pomp and circumstance of the Emperor's Court. The exquisite young "Pat" Paterson, is seen as the sweetheart of the youthful Schubert. The composer is played by Nils Asther. For both of these young players, "Lovetime" affords the finest acting opportunities of their career. Many of the gorgeous melodies written by Schubert in his brief, romantic life are woven into the very texture of the film. Among these are "Abschied," "Who Is Sylvia," "Moment Musical," and the haunting "Serenade." Costumes and settings are lavish in the extreme. It is apparent producing company and director have spared no cost to make "Lovetime" one of the outstanding idylls among screen musicals. In addition to the two principals, such noteworthy players as Harry Green, Herbert Munden, Lucien Littlefield, Henry B. Walthall, Georgia Cane and Henry Kolker offer fine performances in strong roles.

"Mrs. Wiggs Of The Cabbage Patch" which was written by Alice Regan Rice in 1901, is generally ranked with "Little Women," by Louisa May Alcott and "David Harum" by Edward Noyes. The latter two have already been filmed and "Mrs. Wiggs Of The Cabbage Patch" has now been completed.
Pauline Lord, distinguished stage star who played in such notable stage productions as "Anna Christie," "The Late Christopher Bean," and "Strange Interlude," makes her screen debut as Mrs. Wiggs. She rejected numerous screen offers in the past but succumbed to the chance to play in this classic. Evelyn Venable and Kent Taylor, who were teamed in "David Harum," are cast as the young lovers, Miss Lucy and Mr. Bob. W. C. Fields has the role of Mr. Stubbins and ZaSu Pitts plays the vapid Miss Hazy. All five of the child roles—Jimmy, Billy, Asia, Europa and Australia, have been filled by well known youngsters already prominent in pictures. The most lovable characters in all American literature... Mrs. Wiggs and her brood of little Wiggesses, Lovingly they are brought to the screen, as real as you'd want them to be... as human as the immortal book itself.

The Pinehurst Theatre opens the season, Friday, November 9th, with Gloria Swanson and John Boles in the adaptation of the great stage musical success, "Music In The Air," reproduced on the new DeForest Super Wide Range Sound Equipment, now being installed.
LOCAL RESIDENTS WED IN DOUBLE CEREMONY
Residents of Southern Pines played three of the four principal parts in a double wedding which took place in Bennettsville, S. C., last Sunday. Those united in marriage were Miss Vera Elizabeth Bogle and J. J. Hatch of Southern Pines, and Miss Margaret Collins of Maryland and Francis Garrise of Southern Pines. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. E. J. McLauren.

YOU can't put a Ford V-8 on the nose and give it a piece of sugar, so many people have told us about occasions when they felt like doing just that! Here is a car so loyal, responsive and alive that many an owner has wanted to say to it at the end of a long, hard day, "Well done!"
This is a new attitude towards a motor car, and we believe, a healthy one. There is something so complete, so whole-hearted, so unflinchingly reliable and willing about today's Ford V-8 that it's hard to think of it as a mere piece of machinery. Rather this trusty car seems like a loyal family servant, faithful, alert and responsive.

WHY not stop at a Ford dealer's place and arrange to try a Ford V-8? See for yourself how it feels on the road, what it will do for you, how well it would meet the needs of your family. And if you want technical facts and mechanical details of proof of Ford quality, the dealer can give you such facts—dozens of them.
