Favors Tobacco Sign Up

Another tobacco sign-up to limit tobacco growing for another two years in North Carolina, as well as in other states, is being urged by Governor Ehringhaus, who last week wired J. B. Hudson, chief of the tobacco section of the AAA, urging that the sign-up be conducted at the time of the referendum to be conducted probably the second week in December on the continuation of the Kerr-Smith tobacco control act, effective the past year.

Governor Ehringhaus talked last week with Mr. Hudson and followed up his plea by telegram, telling of the unanimous and insistent approval of control at the Farmville meeting a few weeks ago. He urges that Mr. Hudson not wait for authority from Congress, since the sign-up last year was made and the authority given later. Now, while the growers are elated over the success of the first year's control results, is the proper time for the sign-up, Governor Ehringhaus urged, saying "we have everything to win and nothing to lose" by it.

A referendum on the Kerr-Smith act will be conducted not later than Dec. 15, and it is believed that the sign-up should be conducted at the same time. Also, the referendum on the Bankhead cotton control act is to be conducted on Friday, December 14, and it is possible that the tobacco referendum will be held at the same time, as there are many counties in which both tobacco and cotton grow.

Record Gas Consumption

Gasoline tax collections in November already are the largest that have ever been made in North Carolina in the history of the tax, reaching $1,651,493.16 last Friday, revenue officials report. The November collections are practically all in and only a few hundred dollars will be added by the end of the month. Even the "double month" collections of April, 1933, amounted to $1,627,000, or about $25,000 less than the present month's collections. That was the month in which the 1933 legislative act, moving up collections one month, was effective, and collections were made of practically two months in that month.

License plates for 1934 reached 468,043, or 60,754 more than the 407,289 sold in 1933 to the same date, the end of last week. This is due to the very great increase in the sales of new automobiles during the past several months, many of them being for only three-fourths, or one-half, or one-fourth of the year. The total plate sales will not go much higher than the present figure, as new 1935 plates may be bought December 1, but may not be used until December 15.

Speakership Race

A warm race is in progress for the speakership of the 1935 House of Representatives, participated in by Robert Grady Johnson, of Pender; Laurie McEachern of Hoke, and W. L. Lumpkin, of Franklin. All of the candidates have been on the warpath, seeking votes that will be cast in the Democratic caucus on the night before the General Assembly convenes. Views have been expressed all along that Mr. Johnson was probably in the lead, although it is known that Mr. McEachern is conducting a vigorous and probably effective campaign, and that Mr. Lumpkin is covering a lot of territory and making a good impression.

Forest Fire Damage

Forest fire damage in October continued at a low figure in the 44 counties organized for protection. Only 29 fires were reported, burning over 815 acres and causing damage of $1,699. Damage in September was $1,289 and in August only $48 in these organized counties. Only one fire occurred in the two western North Carolina divisions, 22 were in the eastern and southeastern divisions and the remaining six were scattered over the State. Smokers are charged with 14 of the 29.

50 Miles of New Roads

Fourteen highway projects, involving building of about 50 miles of new roads, four bridges, one underpass, approaches to bridges and underpass and widening several miles of concrete roads, have been turned over to the Federal Bureau of Public Roads, W. Vance Baise, acting State highway engineer announces. As many of them as are approved in time will be included in the next highway letting, to be held next month, December 11 or 18, probably. The State Highway and Public Works commission will hold a meeting December 4. The projects are in Edgecombe, Nash, Wilkes, Carteret, Robeson, Granville, Wake, Hoke, Madison, Rockingham (two); Durham, Randolph and Stanly counties.

To Speak in New York

Governor Ehringhaus has accepted an invitation to deliver an address at the annual convention of the National Association of Life Insurance Presidents to be held in New York City December 13-14. One governor is invited to address the convention each year. Insurance Commissioner Dan C. Boney, who is expected to be elected president of the National Association of State Insurance Commissioners, following their annual convention in Florida December 4, is also expected to be on the program of the "life presidents" with Governor Ehringhaus, as one of the speakers.

CAMERON

Mrs. Janie Muse received a wire Saturday telling of the death of her friend Miss Ada A. Mosher of Baltimore. Miss Mosher was a sister-in-law of the late Billy Jackson—a native of Moore county—of Savannah and Baltimore, who made a fortune in naval stores. Miss Mosher has written a number of poems from time to time, some appearing in Scribners, Cosmopolitan and other magazines. A collection of a hundred of these poems, called "From Fallow Fields" were published in book form in 1897. Among them, which are particularly beautiful, are "Dogwood," "Confederate Flags," "Amid the Pines at Sunset," "Bonaventure" and a "Toast" to Josef Damien, the Belgian, who gave a life of service to the lepers of Molokai. Miss Mosher has visited here often and spent the last week-end of August with Mrs. Muse.

The funeral was conducted from her estate, "Woodlawn," near Baltimore, Tuesday morning.

The Woman's Club will hold its December meeting on Thursday, December 6, at 2 o'clock p. m., in the clubroom. The Health and Welfare Department, Mrs. J. M. Guthrie, chairman, will be hostess, and will present the following program: "Talk on 'Child Welfare.'" Mrs. R. P. Davidson of Southern Pines; Talk on "Indian Welfare." Mrs. C. A. Lawrence. A quartet of small children from the colored school will sing Spiritual songs. There will be a display of health posters of the colored school. All members are urged to come, and bring any new members who wish to join this department. Members are also requested to bring a packed school lunch and compete for two valuable prizes which will be given for the best and second best most nourishing lunch.

Miss Sneed of Charlotte, lunch room supervisor of Moore county will judge the lunches.

Prof. R. L. Lowry of the Baptist church gave his Sunday School class of young boys a delightful winter roast last Friday evening.

Kay Maples of the Presbyterian church entertained his Sunday School class of boys with an enjoyable winter roast Friday evening. Each member invited a girl friend. Chaperoned by Mrs. H. D. Tally and Mr. Maples the young folks spent a merry evening.

Prof. and Mrs. R. F. Lowry and Miss Ellen Royal Jones were supper guests of Mr. and Mrs. J. D. McLean on Wednesday evening of last week.

Mrs. Loula Muse spent Wednesday of last week in Sanford, guest of Mrs. Maggie Lashley and Mrs. Charlie Hatch.

Mrs. Anna Culbertson of Sanford is visiting her daughter, Mrs. W. M. Wooten, this week.

Mrs. Carl Thompson of Southern Pines was guest of Mrs. S. D. Walker on Friday.

Cye Haskins of Virginia was a Sunday guest of Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Guthrie.

D. J. Pierce of Border-lee spent the week-end with his daughter, Mrs. Orene McPherson.

Fred McKeithen of Aberdeen is visiting Mrs. M. McL. McKeithen.

Mr. and Mrs. Earl York and sons of Raleigh and Robert Wooten, student of State College, spent Sunday with Mr. and Mrs. W. M. Wooten.

The following attended the cotton meeting at Carthage: H. P. McPherson, Linden Hartsell, Misses Lula and Lucille Rogers.

Miss Lucille Loving, Miss May Frances Turner and Bruce Tharrington were Sanford shoppers Saturday.

Mr. and Mrs. L. W. McNeill, Misses Ada McNeill and Mary E. McNeill, Mrs. W. M. Wooten and Kenneth Wooten were shopping in Sanford Wednesday afternoon.

The Rev. M. D. McNeill and Mrs. McLean called on Teem Thomas and Make Shaw Sunday. Messrs. Thomas and Shaw have both been quite ill for several weeks.

Miss Carolyn McDermott of Long Island, N. Y., is visiting Miss Margaret McDermott.

Tingen Edwards of Cameron and Miss Pearl Douglas of Sanford were married Saturday.
