

FORD WORLD FAIR EXHIBIT TO BE DEARBORN FIXTURE

The great Ford Rouge plant at Dearborn, Mich., is to be thrown open to the public as a permanent world's fair.

To provide a proper gateway through which visitors from all over the world may enter the huge plant, the dominant structure of the 1934 World's Fair at Chicago, the giant, gear-shaped rotunda of the Ford Exposition—which drew 12,000,000 visitors in the 169 days of the 1934 fair, is to be re-erected on a permanent site opposite the Ford Administration building and surrounded with a 13 1/2-acre landscaped park.

The spectacular lighting effects used by Ford at the fair, the famous "Roads of the World," the vast photographic murals depicting industrial scenes in the Ford plant, the Ford "world," and many of the exhibits seen by millions at the Ford Exposition in Chicago will be permanently placed in connection with the Ford project.

Two wings, each 110 feet long, will extend from the rotunda. One will house a display of modern Ford products, the other a theater with a capacity of 500, in which new motion pictures will be shown, and meetings will be held of Ford salesmen and dealers who make periodic trips to Dearborn.

Frank Page's Monument

One of the greatest monuments ever erected to a North Carolinian has already been built and honors Frank Page, who died in Raleigh last week and was buried in the family plot of the church graveyard near Aberdeen beside the graves of two distinguished brothers, Walter Hines Page, noted publisher, editor of World's Work and ambassador to England in the Wilson administration, and Robert N. Page, former Congressman and banker.

The monument to Frank Page is in concrete and is miles and miles of ribbons over which North Carolinians pass every hour of every day, the main part of which was constructed under the direction of Mr. Page during the first decade of the State's highway program from 1918 to 1929, while he served as chairman.

This distinguished son of a distinguished family took the help of the road movement and carried successfully until he felt he had completed the job to a stopping place, a service that has been duly appreciated from the beginning as will be more appreciated as years pass. Under Mr. Page's direction more than $100,000,000 was spent, without a single thought of reproach or criticism. After finishing that job he took charge of the Raleigh branch of the Wachovia Bank & Trust Co. As executive vice-president and handled that and many civic duties in the same efficient and effective manner. He built his own lasting monument in every county in the state.

The Governor's Christmas

Governor Ehringhaus and his family are spending the entire Christmas and New Year season in the Executive Mansion in Raleigh. Plans were to have all of Mrs. Ehringhaus' relatives at the mansion for Christmas day, some 15 or more, and for New Year's day, relatives of Governor Ehringhaus are to be present, probably a dozen. The three children, Blucher, and the twins, Haughton and Mitilda, the latter Mrs. Rush Jolly, will be with the family most of the time. While taking only a short period out for rest, Governor Ehringhaus plans to spend most of the time for the next two weeks preparing his message to the General Assembly which convenes January 9, and looking after other matters developing at the office.

New Capitol Square

Finishing touches have finally been put on the improvements under way on Capitol Square for several months, as a CWA and FERA project, and the six-acre tract has been turned over to Supt. W. D. Terry and Mother Nature to complete. Recent work has been setting out shrubbery and sowing grass seed, and within a few months, when Mother Nature has had opportunity to get in a few licks, the place will be beautiful beyond description. The Memorial Hall was completed some six years ago, but the recent work has included tunneling for heat and other purposes, erecting fountains, building the Vance Plaza, laying walks and driveway and otherwise carrying out the plans drawn for the square under direction of Governor A. W. McLean. The permanent planting plan, as provided in the plans, is to be followed in detail for years to come, and the square will be a beauty spot for the State. Flood lights are playing in the beautiful old building during the holiday season.

Control Acts Approved

North Carolinians have shown almost complete and unanimous faith in two New Deal movements by popular vote of those affected in as many weeks. Last week, by an even greater majority than was given the Bankhead Cotton Control act, the tobacco growers gave approval to the Kerr-Smith Tobacco Control law. Both have meant many additional millions of dollars in the pockets of North Carolinians during the past year and the feeling is almost unanimous that the control plan should be continued as to both of these important North Carolina crops. The cotton act was approved by about 10 to 1 vote, while the tobacco figures will show a much more unified opinion when the reports are all in.

Highway Personnel

The State Highway and Public Works Commission did nothing at its meeting last week toward straightening out the personnel of the organization, but it is expected that two or three moves may be made within a few weeks now. It would not be surprising if real soon Capus M. Waynick, new assistant chairman, is made actual chairman. Recent developments relative to the stricken chairman, Edwin B. Jeffress, might seem to indicate that a chairman may be named in his place and early action on that suggestion would not be expected.

With that done, another step would be to name an assistant chairman, still another man, who would be familiar enough with the work to carry on if something should happen to the chairman. The commission is said to have considered this some time ago, but deferred final action until the chairmanship reaches final form. Still another step early will be naming a State highway engineer to succeed the late John D. Waldrop. W. Vance Baise, former assistant, has been acting engineer since Mr. Waldrop's death, and is considered a likely candidate. R. G. Browning, claim and locating engineer, and Jack Roach, now in charge of the prison division, are mentioned. Also, it is understood that Charles Upham, former engineer, who for several years has been executive secretary of the American Road Builders Association, is an applicant for the job he held during the early years of the big road program.

Heavy Pneumonia Toll

Pneumonia caused more deaths in North Carolina in November than all of the so-called violent deaths, including automobile accidents. This disease caused 274 deaths in November, 65 more than in November of last year and 69 more than all violent deaths in the same months. Automobile accidents caused 102 deaths, while there were 37 homicides, 27 suicides, 19 from burns, 13 from firearms. Tuberculosis caused 135 deaths, cancer 134, pellagra 30, diabetes 27, malaria 16, appendicitis 23 and syphilis 30. All deaths in November reached 2,835, while there were 6,726 births. There were 38 maternal deaths and 459 deaths of children under one year of age, the State Board of Health reports.

Forest Fire Losses

Forest fires again got in heavy damage in November, despite the heavy rains the latter part of the month, the 155 fires reported in the 44 counties cooperating in the control program, having caused damage of $13,714.00 and burned over 6,775 acres, the Conservation and Development Department shows. November fires were the heaviest since May, when $104,479 in damages were shown. Smokers caused 64 of the fires, campers, fishermen and hunters caused 45, brush burners caused 8, railroads five, lumber operations three and 13 are charged against incendiaries.

Urges Immunization of All Dogs in County

Public Health Officer Warns
Against Hydrophobia and Rabies

By Dr. J. S. Symington,
Public Health Officer

Rabies and hydrophobia are the same disease. The disease is called rabies when it affects animals and hydrophobia when it affects human beings. All warm blooded animals are capable of being infected with rabies.

In European countries the dog is the animal usually to be infected. In India and other Eastern countries jackals, wolves and monkeys are frequently infected with rabies and often go mad. These quite frequently bite dogs and other domestic animals such as cows and horses and there in turn become infected and develop rabies. Man is also often bitten by these animals mentioned especially the dog and monkey.

In this country at present there are a number of dogs infected with rabies and these dogs are sometimes transported from state to state and sometimes carried across the ocean to countries free of rabies. They are quarantined at ports of such countries for six months to see if they will develop the disease before they are allowed to run around and mingle with other dogs, and in this way certain countries are kept free of the disease.

There have been recently a number of dogs destroyed in North Carolina suffering from rabies.

Two young men were recently bitten by a rabid dog in Moore county. These and two others who handled the dog, which one of them succeeded in killing, are now taking prophylactic treatment for hydrophobia at the public health office. This is a prolonged and painful treatment and causes a great deal of inconvenience to those having to undergo the treatment. It means one injection a day hypodermically for twenty-one days in succession.

Owing to the presence of rabies in different parts of the county it is advisable to have all dogs immunized against the disease and be taken out for exercise on lease or muzzled, or kept in a walled-in court yard so that they can not bite other dogs, or human beings and they will be less likely to get into a fight and be bitten by mad dogs themselves. All dogs these days should be carefully watched for symptoms of rabies.

Many Attend Funeral of J. Artemus Thomas

Prominent Citizen of Vass—
Cameron Section Laid to Rest in Johnson Grove

Funeral services for J. Artemus Thomas, aged 56, were conducted by the Rev. L. M. Hall in the Vass Methodist Church at 2:00 o'clock Thursday afternoon of last week. Mr. Thomas passed away at his home between Vass and Cameron on Tuesday night following a long illness.

Pall bearers were Jasper Blevins, Earl Whittaker, Aubrey Keith, Luther Womack and Clary Thompsonson of Cameron route and Earl Sloan of Jonesboro. Interment was in Johnson's Grove cemetery, and the last rites were attended by a large gathering of friends and relatives from throughout this section.

The passing of Mr. Thomas was a distinct loss to the community which counted him one of its best citizens. For a number of years he had been a faithful steward in the Vass Methodist Church, and had served loyally as a member of the Vass-Lakeview school board until failing health prevented his taking an active part in outside affairs. He was in the hardware business in Cameron, but devoted most of his time to farming.

Mr. Thomas was unmarried. He made his home with the family of his brother, the late Ed Thomas, whose children are the only near relatives surviving. They are Mrs. Alton Shaw, Miss Evelyn Thomas, Redga, Cortis, Paul, Jessie and Wayne Thomas, all of Cameron route.

AGED MAN IN TOILS AFTER OFFICERS RAID DISTILLERY

Officers went to the home of Jack Caviness, well known man of the Deep River section near Howard's Mill, around noon Monday and found a copper distillery of 35 or 40-gallon capacity in a cedar and pine thicket just seventy steps of the front of the Caviness home. Two barrels of beer were located in the basement of the granary. The distillery was not in operation at the time of the officers' visit.

Caviness is said to be "well fixed" with a comfortable home and outbuildings. He was arrested six and a half years ago when officers found a still and a lot of whiskey near his garden, and was convicted in Recorder's Court, but on account of his advanced age he was let off upon the payment of a fine of $100 and the costs. He is said to be around 65 or 70 years old now.

THEY ALL GET A LIFT WITH A CAMEL!

HOUSEWIFE. Mrs. C. Daly says: "We all know how much energy a woman puts into housekeeping! My recipe for renewing energy is to smoke a Camel. Camels give me a lift in energy, but because they taste so good! And never yet have Camels upset my nerves."

STEEPLECHASE RIDER. Crawford Burton says: "Whether I'm tired from riding a hard race, or from a crowded business day, I feel refreshed and restored just as soon as I get a chance to smoke a Camel. So I'm a pretty incessant smoker, not only because Camels give me a 'lift' in energy, but because they taste so good! And never yet have Camels upset my nerves."
